ULTIMATUM TO UNIONS

Strikers Warned by Calles

Acts of Violence in Tampico Oil Fields Will Result in Severe Measures

Attitude of Radical Labor Organizations Scored by Mexican President

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—President Calles today emphatically informed the radical union groups now on strike in the Tampico oil fields that violence of any nature will not be tolerated and that interference with workmen employed in the fields will bring stern action on the part of the Federal government.

He delivered his ultimatum to a delegation of radicals from the striking unions which called on him to protest against his recent order that troops protect all strikers who wish to return to their employment, and that they should protect the property of the Huasteca Petroleum Company, against whom the strike chiefly is directed.

"I am obliged to prevent union groups, through acts of violence, from throwing the country into a state of anarchy," President Calles told the delegation. "Such actions only bring disrepute on the laboring element in Mexico.

"The government must oppose the strike, which, in effect, attacks the Constitution and tends to throw the country into a state of anarchy if allowed to continue, and would frighten away investment of capital, resulting in ruination for Mexican labor and its ideals. For this reason, I am unable to reconsider my first ruling against the strike."

Attack on Modernism in Religion Draws Vigorous Protest from Congregationalist in Audience

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—William Jennings Bryan's attack on modernism in religion and his spirited defense of the Tennessee law forbidding teaching of the theory of evolution in the public schools, in a speech today in Brooklyn, drew a vigorous protest from the Rev. J. S. Williamson, pastor of the King's Highway Congregational Church, a member of the audience.

Mr. Bryan was alternately mildly hissed and cheered.

He asserted that he brought the fight among teachers of evolution into the open and that "we are going out to win."

"We must win," he added, "if the world is to be saved."

Mr. Bryan had just said that the Modernists cannot send missionaries abroad because they have no message to send.

CHARGES UNFAIRNESS

"You are unfair to us—that is not true," declared Mr. Williamson from his seat. "I speak as a Congregationalist minister. We believe in majority rule and each church is guided as it wishes in this matter. We believe in the freedom of the human spirit."

"Then I'm not talking to you," Mr. Bryan replied. "After this I'll exclude the Congregationalists. If they have no creeds and stand for nothing I'll leave them out. I am more familiar with the Modernists in the Presbyterian church."

"Two-thirds of us are Modernists and we believe in evolution," said Mr. Williamson. "But we believe also in the divinity of Christ and the immortality of the soul."

"The disgrace," said Mr. Bryan, "is not the Tennessee law, signed by the Governor and passed by the Legislature; the disgrace is that teachers paid in the taxes of a community which stamps its dollars 'In God We Trust' should betray the trust imposed in them by the taxpayers.

HITS SCIENTIST

"The President of the United States takes his oath of office on the Bible. Are the school-children of this nation to be taught that this Bible is untrue? No, and they shall not be so taught, for the majority of the people of this nation believe in the Bible and the hand that writes the pay checks should control the schools."

Mr. Bryan said it would be ridiculous to intrust the education of children to an "aligarchy of scientists," referring to the Society for the Advancement of Science. The Modernists, he asserted, "are making us brothers to the brute."

Mr. Bryan recently announced that he would assist in the prosecution of J. T. Scopes, science teacher of Dayton, Tenn., charged with violation of the Tennessee anti-evolution statute.

RITES FOR GEN. MILES ARRANGED

President Coolidge Will Lead in Paying Tribute to Dead Warrior

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Coolidge will lead the nation tomorrow in paying reverent tribute to the memory and achievements of Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Arrangements for the famous soldier's funeral, in which all branches of the nation's armed forces will form a part of the cortege, were completed tonight with the arrival in Washington of Maj. Sherman Miles, his son, from Constantinople. He was at sea, en route home at the time of the general's death here Friday.

Veterans of the Civil War, of the Indian campaigns which he led, the Spanish War and the World War, all will have a place in the solemn procession from St. John's Church where brief services in the Episcopal ritual will be held, to Arlington Cemetery. Within the mausoleum there beside the body of his wife, the dead warrior will be consigned to a last bivouac with a salute of three rifle volleys.

The place of President Coolidge in the cortege will be in the section reserved to members of the family and close associates, following immediately after the caisson bearing the casket. In this section also will be the pallbearers, high officers of the Army and Navy.

Following in order, will be contingents of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, which selected Gen. Miles as its commander-in-chief last year; the Grand Army of the Republic, Indian War Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans, Military Order Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Dames of the Loyal Legion.

MAY RAINS SET RECORD

Bay City Precipitation Far Above Normal; Storm Moving Eastward Into Valleys

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Central California is experiencing one of the heaviest May storms in its history. While the precipitation so far this week has been confined to the bay region and country immediately adjoining, the storm is expected to move eastward today into the interior valleys.

Some damage has been done to hay and grain crops and a little damage to cherries and berries. But the Weather Bureau states that this loss is offset by the good the rain has done to other farm crops. Pasturage is expected to last several weeks longer than usual this year, therefore less hay will be needed.

The current storm is out of the ordinary, although the third one of its kind this month, explains Meteorologist George Willson of the Weather Bureau. The storm has come out of the Southwest, while most California storms arise in the Northwest. San Francisco has had 2.55 inches of rain this month. The maximum May rain is 3.17 inches and Willson says there is still time this month to equal the record.

The total precipitation in San Francisco for the season is 29.29 inches, compared with a normal of 21.84 inches. Last year there were but 11.62 inches by May 18. The heaviest precipitation reported today was at Point Reyes, where more than 1.5 inches of rain fell in twenty-four hours.

Following is rainfall ending at 5 p.m. today:

DAWES PLAN IS UPHELD

Berlin to Stand by Compact

Stresemann Tells Reichstag He Will Carry Out Provisions

Cordial Reference is Made to American Interest and Assistance

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, May 18. — Gustav Stresemann, Foreign Minister, in the course of an exhaustive survey of Germany's foreign relations, which he presented in the Reichstag today, made emphatic reiteration of the German government's intention loyally to carry out the provisions of the Dawes reparations policies.

"Parliamentary majorities and cabinets may change, but I can conceive no constellation which would deviate from the course we have taken," said the Foreign Minister by way of pledging Germany's future attitude toward her reparations policies as influenced by the Dawes plan.

Herr Stresemann made cordial reference to American interest and financial co-operation in Germany's economic recovery. He believed that appreciation of Germany's needs was becoming more active in the United States. "Even those who are inclined to entertain serious misgivings about the practicability of the Dawes plan," he continued, "must now admit that without it we could not have rehabilitated our national currency and would have been obliged to wage a bitter fight for our economic existence."

RELATIONS SATISFACTORY

He denied rumors to the effect that Finance Minister Von Schlieben opposed the further carrying out of the Dawes plan and asserted that the Nationalist member in the Luther Cabinet was in full accord with the government's attitude on this issue.

Germany's relation's with the United States, Mexico and South American countries he designated as satisfactory in every direction. He believed that Germany was regaining the good will of those Latin-American countries which were allied with her opponents in the late war.

Referring to Russia, the Minister stated that while it was Germany's desire to live up to the Treaty of Rapallo, possibly amplifying it in view of the geographic and economic significance of Russia, Germany would reserve to herself the right to shape her foreign policies independently of any considerations for an eastern or western orientation.

DISCUSSES SECURITY

The major portion of the Minister's speech was devoted to a frank discussion of the nonevacuation of the Cologne zone, the proposed security pact and Germany's entry into the League of Nations. A security pact concluded without the active participation of Germany, he said, would amount to a solution against Germany and would be a serious menace to Germany. This constituted the crux of Germany's relations with her western neighbors.

Germany's draft of a security pact as submitted to the interested governments, he explained, was intended to provoke discussions and not intended as indicating the limits to which Germany was prepared to go. The proposals represented a resume of previous German proposals.

In discussing the German government's position on the Allies' failure to vacate the Cologne bridgehead, Herr Stresemann repeated the familiar official criticisms voiced since January 10. He also was caustic in his reference to the long overdue disarmament note, and concluded his speech by asserting that if given peace and equality, Germany would constitute one of the stanchest supports for a peaceful community of nations.

FORD BANKS IN GOTHAM

Millions Invade Wall Street

Guardian Trust Company Subsidary is Opened on Broadway

Believed Beginning of Huge Financial Enterprise of Auto Magnate

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Henry Ford, master of the Detroit millions that for many years have been more or less of a factor that Wall street had to consider, today entered New York's financial district with what appeared to be a banking house of his own. Wherefore, New York's men of millions and banks sat up and took much notice.

The announcement came in the form of an advertisement that went entirely over the highest Wall-street heads until some genius saw its potential possibilities.

In the advertisement, Keane, Higbees Company, of Detroit, announced the discontinuance of their New York office the 16th inst., and said that the personnel and business of the office would be transferred to the Guardian Detroit Company, 120 Broadway, New York, and Buhl Building, Detroit.

The latter company, ran the statement, had been organized to transact a general business in municipal and corporation bonds.

And—

The Guardian Detroit Company is a subsidary of the Guardian Trust Company of Detroit.

Edsel Ford, 30 years of age, son of Henry and active head of the Ford works, is the dominating figure in both. Ernest Kansler, vice-president of the Ford Motor Company and brother-in-law to Edsel Ford, is a director.

FORD'S ENTRY

Behind the appearance of these two figures, the bankers see the entrance of the elder Ford into the banking field whose operations he attacked vehemently about five years ago when, in asking a loan running into millions, he refused the bankers' demand that they have representation in his company.

The formation of the new trust company in Detroit has been going on for several months and it has been rumored it would be the largest financial institution in the Middle West. In recent years rumors have bobbed up repeatedly that Ford would borrow millions in Wall street or was about to buy a New York bank. The latter rumor was persistent in Wall street about two years ago and an unequivocal denial never was made in Detroit. At the time it was thought there was some fire behind the smoke and today the Wall-street banking fraternity is convinced the Fords at that time were making some preparations for entering a new field.

There were about twenty-five stockholders in the Guardian Trust Company, all young men of Detroit, of whom Edsel Ford is the most prominent.

Robert Wilson, formerly vice-president of the Irving National Bank of New York, who served as president of the Maxwell Motors Corporation during its reorganization, is president of the trust company.

John C. Grier, Jr., president of the Guardian Detroit Company, went to Detroit from Pittsburgh in

SHIPS ABANDON RUM ROW

Once Great Liquor Fleet off New York Dwindles to Seven Vessels as Blockade Continues Effective

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Rum Row, once so populous, has dwindled to seven ships, in capitulation to the little vessels of the United States Coast Guard which started its famous mid-Atlantic blockade thirteen days ago.

This information was sent by wireless today from the blockading fleet to Lieutenant-Commander Stephen S. Yeandle, aide to Rear-Admiral Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard.

Yeandle on Saturday completed a four-day observation and inspection cruise of the scene of the country's stand against the bootlegging "industry." On that cruise, during which a group of newspaper men made an investigation of the results of the blockade, it was found that the rum fleet had dwindled to a discouraged twelve.

The day the blockade started, the 5th inst., there were about eighty foreign rum carriers at anchor in the Atlantic between Narragansett, R. I., and Atlantic City, N. J.

Five of the ships, the newspaper men found, weighed anchor and slipped out of the blockade zone during Saturday and Sunday. Yeandle was informed by the officers in charge of the Coast Guard offensive.

One of the quintet sailed Bermudaward, a Coast Guard patrol boat bobbing along in its wake until it was 100 miles out to sea. The others are believed to have joined the other floating liquor warehouses which have anchored at various points 100 to 200 miles offshore in the apparent belief that the blockading forces will relax their vigilance as time goes on.

Commander Yeandle said dispatches from the beleaguering fleet had reported that the boat-to-shore rum runners—the "bottle fishermen"—had not resumed attempts to get in communication with the "Rummies," as the guardsmen term the contraband carriers.

MELLON PLEASED WITH WORK OF COAST GUARDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Coast Guard blockade against rum smuggling off New York is regarded by Secretary Mellon as having demonstrated its efficiency in checking rum and he is convinced that continuation of the program will materially reduce the supply of illicit liquor in this country.

Private reports received by the Secretary, it was said today, show that a majority of the rum-runners are retiring from the scene of action because, with the landing of wet cargoes made so difficult, they cannot make sales. The Secretary holds that the starvation campaign eventually will drive out the more obstinate skippers from Rum Row, and once they are gone, it is his opinion that they will not come back.

Suggestion that the scattering of boats from Rum Row would result in the landing of illicit cargoes at other points along the coast are not taken seriously by the Treasury Secretary. Coast Guard boats have followed craft departing from the row many miles and descriptions of these boats are now being transmitted to all shore stations of the service so that their movements can be traced along the line.

Mr. Mellon holds that destruction of Rum Row off New York was the greatest blow to the illicit liquor trade that could have been dealt by the Coast Guard, since proximity to a large and well-organized market is necessary to the life of such trade, and no such organization for distributing the liquor, once landed, exists anywhere else along the Atlantic seaboard.

DEATH OF MILES RECALLS DEEDS

Pioneers Revive Tales of General's Prowess

Proved Nemesis to Hostile Geronimo Raiders

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, May 18.—The death of Gen. Nelson A. Miles has revived pioneer memories in Arizona, for it was he who captured and deported the bloodthirsty Chiricahuas tribe of Apaches, and thus, for the first time in centuries, assured peace to the Southwest.

His predecessor in command of the military department of Arizona was the "Gray Fox," Gen. George Crook, who had subdued the western Apaches in 1872, and who returned ten years later to fight the hill marauders of the southeastern mountains. Crook rounded up the so-called Geronimo band in Mexico early in 1886, but, losing the leaders near the border, asked for transfer.

Miles took charge of the Arizona campaign April 11, 1886, and soon had 6000 soldiers and Indian scouts hunting the hostiles. August 25 the Indian camp in the Mexican Sierra Madre was entered by Lieut. Gatewood, Sixth Cavalry, who induced the chiefs to surrender. This was done September 4.

A few days later the Geronimo-Nachis band was on the way to Florida, following two other shipments of members of the hostile tribe. Thereafter there were few Indian murders or depredations.

On November 8, 1887, Gen. Miles while a guest of the city of Tucson, was presented with the finest dress saber that could be bought. The exercises, with inclusion of a great gathering in a city park, a parade and an evening banquet, were joined in by representatives of the Mexican government, which also had been relieved of its Apache problem.

Under the Miles administration, headquarters of the Department of Arizona later were moved from Whipple Barracks to Los Angeles. Soon thereafter the department was abolished, absorbed by the Division of the Colorado, with headquarters at Denver.

DEMAND FOR STOCK

The stock issue of the trust company, the amount of which has been the subject of much speculation, has been largely oversubscribed.

It is stated that the new financial house will establish many branches and do a world-wide business.

Henry Ford as an individual has actually been in the banking business for years. He has made large loans to the city of Detroit, to railroads and to various other enterprises. For this reason Wall-street bankers believe financial transactions of this sort have become so important that Ford decided to do a regular banking business and sponsored the formation of the Guardian Trust Company which started business the 16th inst.

Should Henry Ford ever decide to sell a share of his business to the public the distribution of the securities could be made through the Guardian Detroit Company in New York. In this way Ford securities could be underwritten without the necessity of admitting outside bankers to the board of directors, the usual procedure when bankers make large loans to industries.

Recently the Dodge Motor Car Company was turned over to the public and it is thought not unlikely the public may be permitted to share in some of the new Ford enterprises.

DETROIT CONCERN HEAD ISSUES DENIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT (Mich.) May 18.—Stuart L. Pittman, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the recently organized Guardian Detroit Company, which recently became established in New York, taking over the interests of Keane, Higbee & Co., Inc., issued an emphatic denial tonight that the establishment of the new company indicated in any way the entrance of Henry Ford or the Ford interests into Wall-street financial affairs.

He pointed out that the fact that Edsel Ford is a stockholder in the Guardian Trust Company of Detroit, the controlling company, and that Ernest Kanzeler, president of the Ford Motor Company, is a director of the Guardian Detroit firm cannot be interpreted as a move by Ford interests to gain a foothold in Wall street.

"There is no truth in the statement that Ford interests are backing this move," Mr. Pittman said. "Both men held similar positions with the Keane, Higbee Company before its incorporation into the new company."

NAVAL TRACT ADDED TO FORD TOWNSITE

ALL MINERAL RIGHTS IN AREA ARE RESERVED TO GOVERNMENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—An addition of approximately 100 acres to the Ford townsite within naval petroleum reserve No. 2 in Kern county, California, was authorized by an executive order issued today on the joint recommendation of the Navy Department and the Interior Department.

The land consisting of two tracts adjoining the present town of Ford is to be surveyed, divided into lots and offered for sale at public auction. In order to protect the interests of the Navy, all mineral rights are reserved to the government. In making the survey, four drilling sites, two acres in size on each forty-acre tract embraced within the townsite, will be located and withheld permanently from disposition for the development of the oil and gas deposits.

Last September the government conducted an auction sale of lots at the original Ford townsite. A total of 433 lots were sold and $42,500 received from them. The General Land Office will make the survey of the new 100-acre addition and will also conduct its sale later.

Issuance of the executive order was the result of a petition signed by numerous settlers, many of whom have constructed homes on the proposed addition.

FRENCH MOVE TO FUND DEBT

Caillaux and Briand Meet to Draft Scheme

Proposals to be Submitted to America and Britain

by Deputy La Moureux on the amounts owed to France by her Allies and associates. M. La Moureux, who is to succeed Deputy Violette as general reporter of the budget from the finance committee, said today that his work on the report had been almost completed. He indicated that it would show that France has an amount due her which should quite materially reduce her war-time indebtedness to her Allies and associates.

These outstanding items, which members of Parliament think ought to reduce the total debts France recognizes she is bound to honor, include various charges for transportation and billeting; the letting of hospitals, warehouses and other properties during the war; equipping Polish and Czecho-Slovakian troops and advances to Italy, Jugo-Slavia and other countries.

ESTHONIANS READY TO TAKE UP SETTLEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary Mellon, as chairman of the American Debt Funding Commission, is expecting soon to receive a definite proposal from the government of Esthonia for a funding of that nation's debt to the United States.

It was made known today that Minister Piip of Esthonia had been carrying on intermittent conversations on the funding question for several weeks and that the exchanges had brought the two governments nearer to a settlement.

Minister Piip soon will confer again with the Secretary and on the basis of memoranda passed between the two officials heretofore, it is believed a concrete proposition will be worked out.

It was declared today, however, that there was no connection between the discussion of a funding arrangement with Esthonia, which owes the United States $17,794,020 in principal and interest, and the recent move of the American government to expedite consideration of terms with its foreign debtors who have not yet made a move in that direction, although Esthonia was one of the nations officially listed among those to whom this government had made its desire known that funding proposals be no longer delayed.

As a result of today's disclosure, some suggestions were made in official circles that the American government's advices to its creditors had been in process of submission to the foreign debtors over a period of several months. It also tended to confirm reports that a definite change had been made in the administration's program of toleration of delays when rumors to that effect first were circulated early this year.

FRENCH ATTITUDE COMPLETELY CHANGED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Cabled reports from Paris that the French government expects within fifteen days to make a definite proposal to this government for the funding of France's $4,000,000,000 war and post-war debt emphasize the remarkable change that has taken place in the last fortnight in the attitude of the French toward this subject.

For six years and until the last few weeks, the French people had been taught by their political leaders that they were under no moral obligation to pay this debt, or to arrange for paying it. This idea was reiterated from week to week in the columns of those same Parisian newspapers that now are presenting to their readers the fact of the moral as well as of the legal obligation entailed.

What caused the change? Not merely the presence of Briand and Caillaux in the new Cabinet. Not merely the formal and informal representations made by Ambassador Herrick.

The march of events, appreciation by the French political leaders that their long-continued policy of financial pyramiding had gone beyond the limits of safety and that a crash impended, but more than all certain frank, dispassionate and wholly courteous personal representations to French officials and bankers by nondiplomatic representatives of this government have produced the remarkable results.

SERIES OF VISITORS

There has not been revealed and there probably will not be revealed just what Gerrard B. Winston, under-Secretary of the Treasury and secretary of the Debt Funding Commission, told responsible Frenchmen when he was in Paris a few weeks ago. Nor have any remarks which Representative Theodore Burton, a member of the Debt Funding Commission, made on the subject been reported. Precisely what Chairman Green of the House Committee on Ways and Means told M. Caillaux in Paris on the 6th inst., has not been disclosed. Nor has Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, who on several notable occasions has defended France on the floor of the Senate in the matter of the occupation of the Ruhr, made public whom he saw in Paris when he was there recently or what he said to those with whom he conversed.

But all of these gentlemen are known to entertain certain definite ideas regarding the French debt, and it is at least a coincidence that these ideas find a reflection in the current news dispatches from Paris reporting the change in attitude of France.

Notable among these ideas is that France cannot hope to obtain any more considerable credit in this country so long as she continues to trifle with the subject of her debt to the United States. Credit is absolutely necessary to any scheme of financial rehabilitation that the French can hope to put into effect.

BRITISH EXAMPLE

The example of Great Britain stands forth for the world to see. Great Britain funded her debt to the United States and it is because of that funding more than anything else that Great Britain can now borrow money in this country or any other that has money to lend at a low rate of interest. Great Britain has thus saved untold millions to her government treasury and to her people by the act of funding.

The French government, which needs money so desperately, has been compelled to pay as high actually as 9 per cent and, among her own people, 10 per cent on her borrowings and is now confronted with the possibility of not being able to borrow enough on any terms to meet her actual necessities.

This is the thought which has, in some fashion, been "sold" to the French government and is in the process of being sold to the French people and the French press.

BRITAIN IN NO RUSH FOR PAYMENT, SAYS PREMIER

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, May 18.—Replying to a suggestion today in the House of Commons, Premier Stanley Baldwin declined to impose a time limit on France and other debtor countries in which to formulate proposals for the settlement of their debts to Great Britain.

BELGIAN ENVOY GOES HOME TO DISCUSS DEBT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BRUSSELS, May 18.—The Belgian Ambassador to the United States, Baron Cartier De Marchienne, is coming to Brussels to confer with the new Premier, Aloys Van De Vyvere, who also holds the portfolio of Minister of Finance, on the question of the Belgian debt to the United States. He will sail from New York June 9.

This announcement was made in an authorized statement given to the Associated Press today by the Belgian Foreign Office on the subject of the deft. The statement says in part:

"Ambassador Phillips (the American Ambassador) called on the Foreign Office April 9 and asked information concerning the intentions of the Belgian government regarding reimbursement of the post-armistice debt contracted with the United States. The communication having been received during the ministerial crisis, the acting government informed the American government that the new ministry would examine the question.

"The Belgian government on many occasions, notably in the chamber on April 9, last year, made clear its intention to fulfill its engagements as soon as circumstances would permit. Examinations of the problem, however, had to be postponed, owing to the expenditures on reconstruction being imposed on Belgium by German unwillingness to pay."

FRENCH LOSE PARLEY FIGHT

Warship Armaments Trade Excluded From Official Control; British Amendment Accepted

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, May 18.—France lost a bitter fight tonight to keep armaments of warships within the scope of the proposed convention which will control by publicity international trade in armaments.

After a heated discussion the military commission of the arms conference by a vote of 16 to 8 decided to accept the British amendment whereby guns, ammunition and all other equipment of warships are dropped from the draft convention and hence not subjected to supervision. The United States voted with the majority.

Thus warship armaments meet the same fate as warships themselves, which were excluded last week from all official control as to their sale. They meet also the same fate as airplanes and armored trains. The military committee did, however, vote to keep in the controlled list all arms which are mounted on war-designed airplanes and armored cars.

FRANCE'S STAND

France led the movement to defeat the British proposal and was supported by a number of the smaller states like Czecho-Slovakia and Poland, with which she is allied in a military way. The French spokesmen contended that if traffic in land artillery is to be subjected to control as already decided, it was logical that the guns on ships of war should be kept in the controlled list. He argued further that maritime armaments could be used in land defense and therefore should follow the same regulations as land defenses.

The British idea is that a warship is like a fort and that the details of a warship's strength should be no more divulged than the actual caliber and position of guns in a particular land fortress.

League circles admit that the scope of the proposed convention is growing smaller and smaller, but recognize that the only way of making the conference successful is to produce by common consent a document which stands a chance of being ratified as an initial step in the control of the traffic in armaments.

AMERICANS SCORE

The United States won a signal victory by inducing the special committee of the conference yesterday not to have a central arms traffic office appointed by the League Council. The League countries yielded gracefully to the delicate situation arising from the fact that the United States is not a member and the consequential probability that a convention which mentioned the League Council would stand little chance of being ratified by the United States Senate.

But in accepting the situation they absolutely refused to go back on the League itself and its principles as set forth in covenant. They declared in effect that if they could not have a central office appointed by the Council, they would not have any. So there will be no central office to collect statistics on arms traffic. Instead, each state will be asked to publish its own statistics on the exportation and importation of arms.

ITALY IN PLEA FOR LENIENT TREATMENT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

ROME, May 18.—Italy is entitled to have lenient treatment in the settlement of her war debts, Tomaso Tittoni, president of the Senate and ex-Foreign Minister, declared yesterday in a speech at Viterbo. The occasion was the unveiling of a monument to men killed in the World War. The speech was made in the presence of the King, several members of the Cabinet and Senators and Deputies.

Signor Tittoni pointed out that Austria owes Italy heavy debts for war reparations and expenses of occupation, but that Italy has received no payments whatever. He quoted statements of some Englishmen and Americans to the effect that the cancellation of inter-Allied debts would be chiefly advantageous to England and America themselves, because it would accelerate Europe's purchasing power and increase England's and America's exports.

MANY SHIPPERS WILL ATTEND FRESNO MEET

IMPORTANCE OF CONFERENCE IN EFFICIENT HANDLING OF CROPS STRESSED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—More than 300 shippers, growers and railroad representatives were expected to attend the meeting of the Pacific Coast Regional Advisory Board at Fresno next Friday, the importance of which was stressed here today in a statement by Ralph P. Merritt, director of the California Development Association.

The efficient handling of fruit crops during the peak season beginning June 1 will be the chief subject for consideration at the meeting, according to Merritt, who indicated that reports to him indicated banner crops everywhere.

"Due to the efficient work of this organization no car shortage was experienced last year, though there was exceptionally heavy traffic," said Merritt. "California had never gone through a season before without car shortage. Friday's meeting will allow the uniform adjustment of service difficulties for the movement of crops during the season, allowing the shipping public a direct voice in the activities in the service division of the American Railway Association."

KOREANS IN HAWAII ANGERED BY JAPAN

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, May 18.—Appointment of Yang Chaiha, a Korean, as Japanese vice-consul for "special duties" among Koreans in Hawaii has aroused great indignation in the Korean colony here. Representatives of seven Korean organizations, meeting today, adopted resolutions protesting against what they declared was "an extension of the Japanese spy system."

GOVERNOR SIGNS INSURANCE ACTS

Regulation Provided for Land Value Underwriting

Bill Designed as Protection Against Fraud

Other Phases of Work in State Considered

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, May 18.—Several Senate and Assembly bills passed at the last session of the Legislature for the purpose of regulating different phases of the insurance business in California were signed by Gov. Richardson. Among the measures approved was Senate Bill No. 414, regulating the business of land-value insurance and placing it under control of the State Insurance Commissioner. In signing this bill the Governor said:

"This bill is designed to protect the public against fraudulent companies in the insurance of land values. This species of fraud has been going on in certain counties and neither the corporation commissioner nor the insurance commissioner has had power to prevent it. The law should be great prevention of suckers too gullible to use ordinary common sense when buying real estate."

OTHER BILLS

Other bills affecting the insurance companies were Assembly Bill No. 60, regulating charitable and benevolent societies who guarantee annuities by placing them under control of the insurance commissioner. This bill is framed to protect aged persons who are induced in their declining years to give over their property to secure support and maintenance.

Assembly Bill No. 529, prohibiting life-insurance companies from paying any commission to medical directors or physicians or actuaries charged with examining applicants. This bill is designed to prevent life-insurance officials from being influenced in their duties by the expectancy of pecuniary profit.

Assembly Bill No. 46, providing that no policy of insurance shall be issued by any fire-insurance company until the capital stock is paid in full.

Assembly Bill No. 51, requiring publication of notice of revocation of license and withdrawal from business by insurance companies.

Assembly Bill No. 50, providing that no insurance company shall reinsure its business without the approval of the insurance commissioner.

Assembly Bill No. 58, requiring insurance companies to do business in their own names.

Senate Bill No. 415, placing a penalty upon insurance agents who embezzle premiums.

Assembly Bill No. 63, clearing up an uncertainty in a section of the Civil Code relating to title-insurance companies.

Assembly Bill No. 1070, making uniform the filing date of annual statement of assessment of insurance companies.

Senate Bill No. 30, repealing an obsolete section of the code regarding insurance.

GOVERNOR'S PLAN

Gov. Richardson announced today that during the past four days he had signed sixty-two bills and pocketed eighty-three others. He also statd that he is now ready to either approve or pocket veto 700 other measures on which he has received opinion and advice from interested State departments, the executive council bureau, Superior judges and others.

MIDWEST CROPS HARD HI

Staggering Loss Feared as Result of Late Frosts; H Areas Must be Replanted

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—The Middle West, lured into hopes of an spring by unprecedented warm weather in April, which gave all tion an untimely start, has suffered severely by a series of light killing frosts, during the past two weeks, marking one of the Mays this region has experienced in many years.

Saturday night's freeze did vast damage to tender vegetation which had escaped in many localities and last night's frost added immensely to the losses of growers.

COLD WAVE PERSISTS

Chilling winds persist from the Northwest, sweeping across Lake Superior with blighting effect. Last night Lake Superior was lashed by a blizzard and snowstorm of midwinter caliber, and vessels reaching the Soo canal this morning were covered with snow and ice a foot thick.

Michigan has suffered grievously from the untimely severity of the weather. Heavy frost early Sunday morning practically eliminated the Cass county strawberry crop and is believed to have injured the young grapes severely. Apples, peaches and the larger fruits are reported to be uninjured. Celery and onion growers had not started to plant the year's crop, which saved a certain loss. The thermometer went to 29 above and a heavy coat of frost blankets the high fields as well as the lowlands. The loss to Cass farmers is estimated high in the thousands dollars and if grapes are seriously then the loss to Cass
Van Buren counties will be gering.

TAMPICO EXPORTS RAPIDLY GROWING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAMPICO (Mex.) May 18.—Mexico's trade with the United States through the port of Tampico is rapidly, according to customs officials here. During 1924 the total value of declared exports to the United States from Tampico was $106,037,237, as compared with $70,702,110 for the preceding year.

The principal commodities exported were crude petroleum and petroleum products, ixtle fiber, sisal fiber, hides and chicle gum.

One interesting feature of the exportations were 100 zoological specimens sent to the United States. Last year 376 parrots were collected from the district south of here and shipped to the United States. The parrots were valued at $2 each. Oil and its by-products constituted most of Tampico's exportations last year, as was the case in previous years.

Here is an entirely new development in a portable radio receiver!

The volume of most 6-tube sets is achieved with but 4 tubes by the improved Orpheus circuit!

And a recent discovery has made it possible to conceal in the lid of the cabinet a horn which for clarity and trueness and fullness of tone is the equal of the finest loud speakers!

Of further importance is the single dial control which, with very selective tuning, greatly simplifies operation; and a voltmeter which shows the condition of the batteries.

But not only does the Orpheus offer these features, it also is as portable as a suitcase! Batteries, all wires and loud speaker are contained in a solid mahogany cabinet measuring only 13½ inches in size and weighing just 30 pounds!

Do you know of a radio set that is nearly as desirable as this! We don't! Come in and see—hear it! You'll want to own an Orpheus immediately!

PRESBYTERY SUSPENSION ADVOCATED

Chicago Churchman Hits at Both New York and Philadelphia Groups

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—The suspension for a period of two years of both the Philadelphia and New York Presbyteries by the Presbyterial General Assembly which meets in Columbus next Thursday was advocated here yesterday in a sermon by Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney at the Kenwood Church.

Dr. McCartney is brother of Dr. Clarence E. Maccartney, moderator of the general assembly and pastor of the Arch-Street Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. Although brothers, they spell their names differently and differ radically in their theological positions.

"We have just witnessed the annual horse race and we are now about to witness the annual spectacle of controversy as to who is who in the Presbyterian Church," said Dr. McCartney. "I believe it would be a wholesome procedure for the General Assembly to pass as its initial act a resolution for the good of the cause calling for the suspension for a period of two years of the privilege of representation in the assembly, first on the part of the New York Presbytery and secondly on the part of the Philadelphia Presbytery. This might afford an opportunity for the church at large to go about its business in the name of Him who came to be our peace."

Announcement of the position taken by the Kenwood pastor is sure to create national discussion because of the well-known attitude of Dr. Maccartney of Philadelphia, who is the recognized leader of the militant fundamentalists, who are advocating the exscinding of the New York Presbytery from the Presbyterian Church. Dr. McCartney's reasons for demanding the drastic action against the New York Presbytery is based on asserted heretical teachings of many of the New York pastors and the Presbytery as a whole for admitting into the ministry graduates of Union Theological Seminary who were not willing to assert their belief in the virgin birth of Christ and the infallibility of the Bible.

Says His Dry Pledge Easy as He is Teetotaler

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Samuel M. Vauclain's one-year agreement to abstain from alcoholic liquors or forfeit $10,000 was a joke, he said today. The president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works invited several hundred friends to his suburban home at Rosemont today to help him celebrate his sixty-ninth birthday. When asked to have a drink he said:

"No, thanks, I don't drink."

"People were waiting to see what I would do when the agreement expired today," he said. "Well, I can tell them now that I do not drink, so it wasn't hard to keep my pledge and the $10,000."

FILM TRADE COMPACT BAN UPHELD IN COURT

FEDERAL TRIBUNAL BACKS RULING HANDED DOWN BY COMMISSION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18. — The United States Circuit Court of Appeal today upheld unanimously that portion of an order issued by the Federal Trade Commission which directs the Eastman Kodak Company and other defendants to refrain from acting under an agreement concerning the sale of motion-picture films.

The court declined to uphold that section of the order which directed the company to dispose of its "brulatour" plants and to stop the making of motion pictures.

The section of the commission's order upheld forbids an agreement by which the Eastman Kodak Company will not film and produce motion pictures in return for an understanding that the other defendant companies will buy only American-made film for motion-picture production.

"WIRED WIRELESS" DISMISSAL UPHELD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18. — The United States Circuit Court of Appeal today upheld the decision of Federal Judge Knox in dismissing the "wired wireless" infringement suit brought by Maj.-Gen. George Owen Squier against the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Appellate Court did not go into the question of whether Gen. Squier's inventions were applied by the defendant company of its own use, but rested its decision upon the finding that Gen. Squier's inventions were dedicated to the public. He was in the government service when the inventions were made, with the aid of an appropriation by Congress.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YOSEMITE, May 18.—A sweeping arraignment of the Eighteenth Amendment and of measures to enforce the Volstead Act was launched by Dr. Granville MacGowan of Los Angeles, president of the California Medical Association, before the fifty-fourth annual convention of that body today.

Dr. MacGowan characterized prohibition enforcement as "a state of civil war throughout the land," and declared the "flood of alcoholic liquors into this country" was a menace with which the medical profession must cope.

"Nowhere during extensive travels of the last three years have I observed any shortage of liquors," said MacGowan. "Everywhere I went there was drinking among boys and girls as well as among older persons. Liquor flasks openly are for sale in stores and shops."

Disregard for the prohibition law breeds disrespect for all laws, Dr. MacGowan said. "There will not be a return to the old order," he continued. "The open saloon was a menace to public health and morals, but the American people must take a more sane view of prohibition enforcement. The problem is one which the medical profession can no longer ignore.

"The surest way to obtain liquor is by alliance with those who are charged with prohibition enforcement. The Eighteenth Amendment was put through by a coterie of fanatics while a large part of the voting population was abroad, fighting for their country. The method by which the amendment was put through was deplorable. The Volstead Act has bred in the minds of workingmen the feeling that their government is one which cares little for the welfare of its people."

Dr. MacGowan said that as a medical practitioner he was wholly in sympathy with the idea of discouraging the use of alcoholic beverages but contended that this could be best accomplished by education.

"That end was in process of achievement before enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment," he concluded.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Man. 18.—"All this talk of war with Japan is piffle," Maj.-Gen. Milton J. Foreman, commander of the Thirty-third Division, Illinois National Guard, declared today on his return from a trip around the world.

"Japan is a little sensitive about our attitude, but she has her internal problems, and is going through a business and political transition. We are ably represented there by Ambassador Bancroft, who has understanding of the people and has gained their confidence.

How other women never lose a day's charm

Just try this NEW way that solves woman's oldest hygienic problem so amazingly

SOME women are fresh and charming every day. Never is a day lost.

Their secret is simple . . . just correct personal hygiene.

Follow it . . . see what a great difference it makes to you.

Modern science has supplanted the old-time sanitary pad with a better, safer way.

Wear filmy frocks and gayest gowns, dance, motor, come in contact with others with never a worry. Live every day of your life, unhandicapped.

This new way is Kotex . . . a method scientifically right.

It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—that ends an old-time embarrassment.

It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense.

You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

8 in every 10 women in the better walks of life have adopted it. Which proves its benefits.

It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

KOTEX
DEODORIZED

1. Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorized.
2. No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.
3. Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped — help yourself, pay the clerk, that is all.

Permanent roads are a good investment —not an expense

Battling Your Way Into Town

It was a glorious trip. The setting sun proclaims the day about done.

And now the battle starts. It will be dark long before you reach home.

What a jam! You barely crawl along. You stop. You start. You creep ahead a few yards. Again you jam on the brakes.

Cars! Cars! Cars! Endlessly in front of you, endlessly behind you.

The driver just ahead stops suddenly. You barely miss bumping into his car.

On-coming cars honk an angry warning if you attempt to turn out. The road is too narrow.

Intersecting highways also are jammed with traffic. At every intersection again you wait, doggedly clutching the wheel in silent wrath.

At last, after literally fighting your way over the road, you swing into your own driveway.

Yes, it was a glorious trip, but—

Don't blame your highway authorities. They are ready to do their part, but they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.

You know an early start means early relief.

ENVOY PRAISES NEW DIPLOMACY

Argentinian Gives States Credit for Change

Doctrine of Helpfulness Held Lasting Bond

Cites Country's Supremacy in Raising Cattle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Largely through the example of the United States, the old conception of diplomacy as an institution of banquets and felicitous praises is being displaced by the doctrine of mutual helpfulness, Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentine Ambassador to the United States, stated in an interview here before leaving to attend the inauguration of President Machado of Cuba.

"The free exchange of utilities, with benefits to both parties to the exchange," the Ambassador explained, "is the real basis of lasting international friendship, and while banquets, speechmaking and the other venerable paraphernalia of old-school diplomacy are pleasant and sometimes even necessary accessories of the trade they are subordinate."

IS DIRT FARMER

Dr. Pueyrredon prides himself on being a "real dirt farmer," as well as a lawyer. For six years he was Secretary of State of Argentina and also served two years as Secretary of Agriculture. Ambassador Pueyrredon was the first public man to predict the United States must soon turn to Argentina for its beef and wheat. The supposedly radical statement is becoming more generally accepted.

"Argentina is today in about the same stage of industrial development as was the United States at the end of the Civil War," the Ambassador said in explaining his position. "We are overwhelmingly an agricultural country, 95 per cent of our exports being agricultural. On the other hand, the United States, with its nearly doubled population, has become one of the world's greatest industrial nations.

MEAT BELT SHRINKS

"The rapidly increasing population is encroaching on the cattle belt from both coasts until now you must ship as far to get your meat to California as to get it to the great cities of the East, and it costs as much now to ship a pound of beef from Chicago to Boston as from Buenos Aires to Boston.

"In Argentina we have four beef cows per person, while in the United States there are three persons per each beef cow. All-year grazing season helps to give us supremacy in the export beef trade.

"We have only begun to develop our pastoral resources. Your beef producers have moved farther and farther west in search of cheap pasture land. They can go no farther.

"Argentina would receive skilled American farmers with open arms. We admire American energy, intelligence and enterprise. The Argentine government would do everything possible to facilitate their establishment."

TWO NABBED ON DIVORCE MILL COUNT

Hundreds of New Yorkers Will Find Decrees Void if Charges Maintained

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) May 18.—Two hundred New Yorkers, charged with having obtained fraudulent divorces in this city when they could not get the evidence required for a New York divorce, supply the background for the indictments returned today against Master in Chancery Leonard W. Horton and his law partner, Francis H. Dougherty.

Both men were held in $50,000 bail each for examination the 25th inst., upon charges of forgery and conspiracy. The charges cloak the allegation that they operated a divorce mill which had for its purpose the procuring of quick-fire divorces for rich residents of New York.

The investigation which resulted in today's indictments revealed, it is charged that one of the men came to New York at stated times and took quarters in any hotel where prospective clients came to arrange for divorces. The scheme included the supplying of false places of residence in Providence and the manufacture of evidence.

The two men, handcuffed, were taken to jail in default of bail.

The effect of the trials, and the investigation that led to the indictments, will be far reaching in New York. If the prosecution makes good in its contention, the 200 persons involved in the 100 divorce cases never were legally divorced. Since some of them have remarried, the second marriages are, consequently, void.

Among the cases under investigation was that of Nina Wilcox Putnam, writer, who procured a divorce from Wallace McCutcheon and that of Pearl White, whose divorce from Wallace McCutcheon, brought a protest from the American Bar Association.

THE
WINS INSTANT FAVOR
THIS IS OUR FIRST CAMPAIGN IN SEVEN YEARS ON BROADWAY

GENTLEMEN: Hardly any necessity of going into details relative to the unquestioned reputation for integrity and reliability of the HOUSE OF EVERETT, which has always been instantly acknowledged by all well known, reliable firms in the City of Los Angeles. Suffice it to say that when we make a statement, that statement stands, when we make a promise, that promise is made in the right spirit, and carried out to the very letter. When we state that we are producing such great values during this tailoring campaign, there is no room for a dispute. We fully realize the possibilities and impossibilities in this particular line of business that statement will meet with no contention of any tailoring firm in the city. Were we to sit idly by awaiting an upward trend of business in general the chances are ten to one we'd be in the hands of the receivers in less than a year.

Owing to the enormous overhead expense we are under, which is the largest of any individual tailoring firm in the country; we must do business or close our doors, which there is no danger of; judging from the tremendous volume of business we are doing since starting this tremendous value giving tailoring campaign, and which the American public was quick to take advantage of.

Owing to the known reputation for integrity of this institution, making a profit is completely out of the question, in tailoring when making a suit to your individual measure at our advertised sale price out of these magnificent high grade foreign and American fabrics, which is being sold by all well known high class tailoring firms from $65 to $70. We are perfectly satisfied if we break even—until such times as business conditions improve, which will enable us to go back to our former selling prices for this grade of material. We do not figure the loss of our profit at the present time as loss, inasmuch as the hundreds of new customers and friends we are making, and whose future business we are banking on will amply repay us for the tremendous sacrifice we are making at the present. The hundreds of new friends we are making will be a splendid and added advertisement for this institution. The sacrifice we are making at the present time may after all be a blessing in disguise. These magnificent fabrics in every shade, color and design imaginable, instantly win the approval of the class of men who have always worn good clothes. The class of men who would no sooner be seen going into a cheap tailoring or clothing establishment, than be seen going into a cheap bar room dive, except and only on a slumming expedition.

The intelligent American public is extended a cordial invitation to visit with us, and examine these splendid fabrics at your own leisure and convenience. Every courtesy which is naturally due all gentlemen, ladies, naturally and always included will be extended regardless of whether an order is placed or not. As we are far from being crazed over the acquiring and accumulating of more than the necessary root of all evil.

John B. Curtin, Former Senator of Fresno, Dies

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, May 18.—John B. Curtin, 60 years of age, prominent attorney who was known during his time in the State Senate as "Constitutional John," died at Sonora this afternoon, according to a wire received by the Fresno Morning Republican. Mr. Curtin was in court representing a client this morning. He complained of not feeling well and asked the judge to postpone the case.

Curtin is survived by a widow, two brothers and one sister.

He ran for Governor against Hiram Johnson and John D. Fredericks in 1914.

The death of former Senator Curtin brought to a conclusion one of the conspicuous careers in recent California politics. At an early age he was elected District Attorney of Tuolumne county and was reputed to be the youngest District Attorney in the State. He served for sixteen years as a member of the State Legislature, discarding his toga to make an active campaign as Democratic nominee for Governor in 1914.

Curtin was defeated in the election by Hiram Johnson.

Senator Curtin is survived by his widow, residing in Sonora; two sisters, Mrs. M. C. Lloyd and Mrs. M. E. Carlan of San Francisco, and two brothers, R. A. Curtin of San Rafael and M. J. Curtin of Sonora.

The funeral will be held from his home, only a few miles from Columbia, where he was born.

MANY AT OPENING OF OAKLAND KLAN TRIAL

ONE ITEM IN PARENT BODY SUIT IS $3500 FOR "NIGHTIES"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OAKLAND, May 18.—The County Courthouse was jammed today at the opening of the trial of the case of the National Ku Klux Klan against Oakland Klan No. 9, "excommunicated" several months ago by the parent organization.

The Oakland Klansmen are defendants in four suits. One is to enjoin them from using the name of the Klan or to wear its regalia and another demands $20,000 damages for having done so without, it is alleged, proper authority. The third suit demands $3500 for "nighties" and other Klan regalia to an additional value of $1500, and another action seeks recovery of $1100 said to have been unlawfully turned over to the East Bay Club of Alameda county several months ago when the Oaklanders were ousted from the national organization.

LAMAR MEETS KAHN TONIGHT

Lightweights Battle Over Ten-Round Route

Doyle's Vernon Arena Scene of Mitt Clash

Rollinger and Darrah Billed for Semi-Wind-up

BY PAUL LOWRY

With Mickey Walker, the world's pulverizing welter king, in his corner and Manager Jack Kearns looking on, Harry Kahn of Cleveland will make his debut in California against Johnny Lamar at Vernon tonight.

The kid from the Buckeye State is a southpaw, a junior lightweight who is said to be a comer. He hasn't broken into the record books yet, but those who claim to know his style say he is a youngster with lots of promise.

He was rushed out here from Cleveland by Kearns when Walker went into training in San Francisco for the Cooper massacre. Teddy Hayes, who trained Walker, says Kahn was just the one to bring the welterweight champion into form. He tore into Walker and by his aggressive tactics forced Mickey to go at top speed to avoid punishment.

MEETS TOUGH BOY

In Lamar, the Cleveland boy is meeting one of the toughest boys of his weight in Los Angeles. Tutored by Jack Russell, the old "Silver Fox," Johnny has been brought along to the stage where he is a very attractive fighter.

He is a Mexican, but unlike some members of his race Lamar has never shown the white feather. One of the best of his recent scraps was the furious draw he waged with Frankie Garcia a few weeks back.

Lamar is a borer and with Kahn holding the same reputation the fight promises to be fast and furious. Kahn is twenty and has lost only two decisions in the two years he has been fighting, he claims.

REINTRODUCE DARRAH

The semi-wind-up will serve to reintroduce Jimmy Darrah, who has been absent from Vernon brawls for several months. He is battling Lou Rollinger, protege of Larney Lichtenstein, over the six-round route. The rest of the card follows:

Charlie Feraci vs. Sailor Ashmore, 136 pounds, six rounds.

Benny Bunch vs. Checkie Herman, 118 pounds, four rounds.

Joe Pena vs. Red Fitzsimmons.

Smoking up of another Walker-Colima match has started after the quick sinking spell experienced by Lefty Cooper.

So far nothing has been done on it but talk, but the Colima supporters point to the fact that the Mexican stayed seven rounds with Mickey in spite of a badly injured eye and outpointed the champ in three rounds.

Jack Doyle says the match looks pretty good to him, but he has done nothing toward signing the principals.

Jack Kearns, Walker's new manager, says he has not been approached.

The next meeting of the California Boxing Commission will be held in Los Angeles June 4. That's two days before the combination lightweight scramble of the century at Ascot Park June 6, which probably explains the reason why the commissioners picked this particular date. They held their last meeting in San Francisco — one day before the Walker-Cooper fight.

INDIA TRIMS BELGIANS IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BRUSSELS, May 18.—In the tennis elimination matches between India and Belgium, India defeated Belgium today, the standing now being India three matches to Belgium's two.

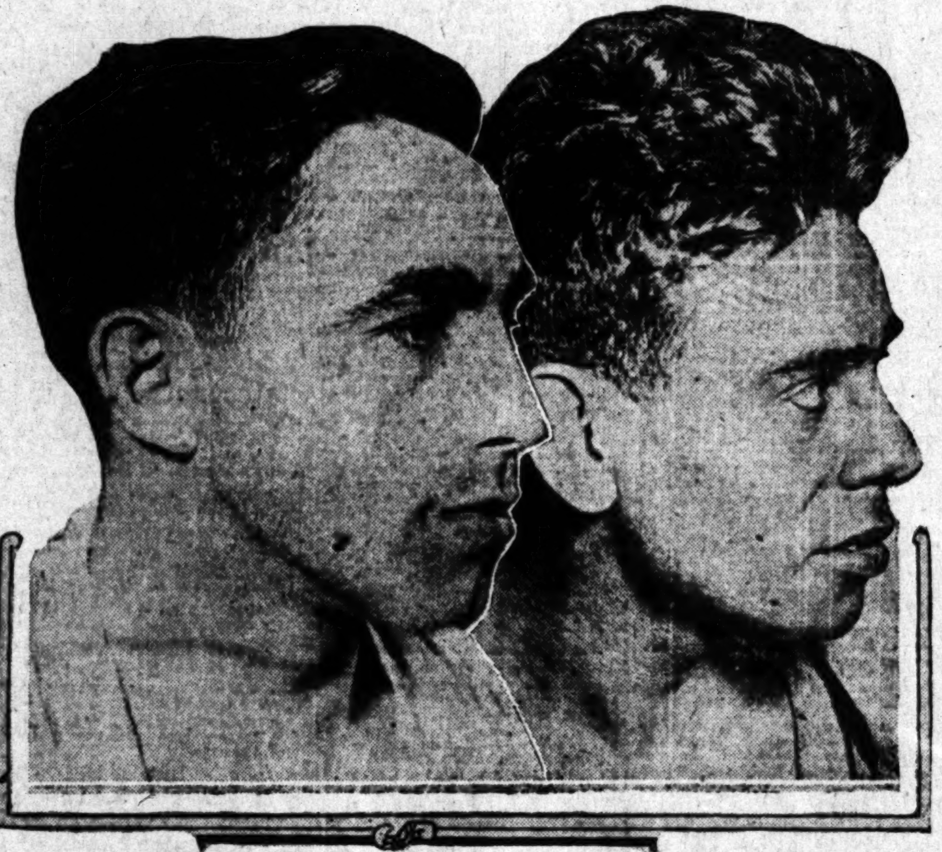
The score by which Jacob of India defeated Watson of Belgium was 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

McLAUGHLIN DOWN IN ONE

L. G. McLaughlin, president of the Pasadena Golf Club, exercising his executive prerogative, pitched his tee shot from the seventh tee into the cup—140 yards distant—while playing his home course Sunday, greatly disturbing his presidential calm, it was stated. McLaughlin is the first local official to break into the hole-in-one column for several months.

A STUDY IN FISTIC MUGS

At the left is the Hebraic countenance of Harry Kahn of Cleveland, while at the right we have the Mexican profile of Johnny Lamar, who meets him in the ten-round main event at Vernon tonight. Type students may be able to pick the winner from the photos herewith; if not, they can take a trip to the arena and have the question answered there.



ROCKFORD BOXER HITS GOODRICH LOW IN SIXTH

Winner, Valgar, Two Foreigners in Semifinals of New York Lightweight Elimination Tourney

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Two Americans, a Cuban and a Chilean, will engage in the semifinal rounds of the tournament conducted by the New York State Athletic Commission to provide a successor to the lightweight title recently laid aside by Benny Leonard.

They were the victors in the closing prelimnaries tonight.

Sammy Mandell

Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, and Benny Valgar of New York will represent America. Goodrich won his bout with Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., while groaning in his opponent's corner after a blow which was declared by the referee to be foul.

Valgar outpointed Solly Seeman of New York in a ten-round clash.

Cirilin Olano of Cuba and Stanislaus Loayza of Chile fought through to victories and the international flavor was retained. Clonie Tait, Canadian, was eliminated by Olano when the referee stopped the bout in the fifth round with Tait staggering about the ring, clutching the ropes. Loayza won from Tommy White, the Mexican representative, after seven smashing rounds. White's face was a red smear and a technical knockout was awarded the Chilean.

FOUL BLOW ACCIDENTAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Sammy Mandell, the Rockford (Ill.) shiek, lost on a foul to Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, in the sixth round of their scheduled ten-round bout in the lightweight elimination tournament tonight at the Queensboro Stadium.

Mandell, who was heavy favorite to win the tourney and succeed Benny Leonard as champion, had a clear lead in the first five rounds but in the sixth after forty seconds of fighting Mandell struck Goodrich a foul blow during a mix-up in his own corner. Goodrich fell to the floor, crumpled in a heap, and writhing in pain.

Canadians Win Over Monarchs in Second Tilt

The Vancouver ice hockey team, Canadian champions, won the second game of their series with the Los Angeles Monarchs last night, giving them two straight games toward the championship of the Pacific Coast, which title the two teams are contesting in a five-game series. The visitors won by the score of 3-2.

The game was closely contested throughout and featured by unusually rough playing by both teams. The second period was a particularly stormy occasion giving the referee a tough time keeping the players separated. In this period Anderson, of the Vancouver team, was taken out of the game with a fractured hip.

Starring for the winners were Dave Smith and Jim Creswell, but they did not outshine the work of the local stars, Galbraith and Shaffer.

BURKE GETS DECISION OVER FLOYD JOHNSON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—Martin Burke of New Orleans was awarded the referee's decision over Floyd Johnson, of New York, after fifteen rounds of fast fighting and gruelling punishment to Johnson. Although the New Yorker was not knocked down at any time during the bout, he lost by a wide margin. They are heavyweights.

Athletic Committee Meets Today to Act on Cromwell's Recommendation

The U.S.C. faculty athletic committee meets today to pass O.K. Dean Cromwell's selections for the I.C.C.A meet at Philadelphia the last of this month. The Trojan coach announced his picked men Sunday night, selecting Keith Lloyd, Leighton Dye, Bud Houser, Norm Anderson, Kenneth Grumbles, Howard Torkelson, Bill Cook, Percy Niersbach, Les Hellman, Alden Ross and Howard White.

Capt. Otto Anderson, Mike Elwood, Yale Martz and Ronald Stever are also in line for tickets. Cromwell may shift his original list somewhat and take Elwood, who is a good miler.

MIDWICK TOURNEY OFF

Accidents Befall Stars Scheduled to Appear in North-South Matches, Forcing Postponement

Now that Southland tennis fans have been all primed for the north vs. south tennis matches that were scheduled for the coming week-end at the Midwick Tennis Club word or rather words have been sent to the Midwick Country Club tennis committee that the matches are not to be and in the face of the causes the Midwick officials announce the indefinite postponement of the matches.

The first bit of grief to reach here was the news from the star attraction of the tournament, Miss Helen Wills, that she would be unable to get her team of northern players together for the event. Miss Wills is national women's and Olympic champion and being the foremost woman player of the country was perforce the one upon whom the success of the meet most depended.

Not enough that the champion should not be here, Miss Helen Jacobs, girls' junior champion, had the misfortune to break her ankle, thus removing her name from the list of stars who were to have appeared.

Completing the list of misfortunes besetting the performers themselves as well as those staging the big tourney, Winnie Suhr is reported to have forsaken the tennis court temporarily for the hospital.

HUDKINS AND O'BRIEN MEET ON GOLF LINKS

Tommy O'Brien, "the New York Harp," who is matched with Ace Hudkins, "the Nebraska Wildcat," along with Sammy Mandell and Phil Salvadore in the big double main event bill in the lightweight elimination bouts at the Ascot Speedway, June 6, has hurled a defi at Hudkins for an 18-hole golf match at Ascot, either before or after the glove clash. It is said that Hudkins will accept the challenge.

DeMOLAY TO HOLD BIG TRACK MEET

The Compton chapter of the DeMolay is to be host to the track teams of all chapters of Southern California when the DeMolay stages its big track meet there on Decoration Day. The meet will be of the keenest sort of competition, due to the fact that the chapters boast of many high school and college stars on the various teams.

Compton chapter is boasting of copping the meet with such men as Cecil Howard, who broke the Bay League record in the 100-yard by making the astonishing time of 9.9s., and also placed third in the 220-yard dash in both the Southern California and State meets. They also have Williams, who won the Bay League 440, and Ray Hazlett, who has made the 100 yards in 10s.

DEMPSEY PLANS BERLIN INVASION

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, May 18.—Jack Dempsey accompanied his wife today to the dress show of famous dressmakers, where they were photographed surrounded by mannequins. Dempsey stated this morning that he would probably accept a contract for four weeks at $10,000 weekly for a sparring exhibition at Kuna Park, Berlin.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

JOE STECHER, the Nebraska octopus, ought to catch the fancy of the local grappling bugs when he makes his initial appearance here a few weeks hence. Joe is a real character all by himself, has a wrestling style all his own, and is one of the most convincinb brethren when it comes to laying an opponent away that we've ever seen. He will prove to be just as much of a card around here as Lewis, Mondt & Co., which should be a good thing for all concerned.

In the old days, when he was champion, Stecher's chief fault lay in the fact that, like Jack Dempsey, his opponents didn't last long. He gave them a first-class squeeze with his crushing leg scissors and then put them on their backs. Stecher has probably lost none of his strength and skill and will prove to be a big drawing card. Things should be merry in our wrestling circles with Stecher and Zibby heading one crowd and Lewis, Mondt and Munn heading the other.

All of which reminds us of Mr. Dempsey's case. If the heavyweight champion holds good to his schedule he will be absent from these shores for a year or more. That doesn't sound likely to us but then it may be true. Already a lot of people are saying that when he comes back he will find himself supplanted in public favor by Maloney, Sharkey, Renault, Stribling or one of the other youthful aspirants for his title.

If that should prove to be the case nobody would be any more pleased than Mr. Dempsey himself. The chief trouble with the heavyweight situation right now is that Dempsey so completely overshadows the field that it is impossible for any colorful contenders to arise. But with Jack away

Glenna Collett, America's Hope, Begins Drive on British Women's Golf Title Today

YANK CHAMPION DOPED TO LOSE

Experts Give Her Fighting Chance to Win

Canny Scotch Caddies Say She'll Triumph

English Stars Easy Winners in First Round

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TROON (Scotland) May 18.—Glenna Collett is ready for the biggest test of her sensational career tomorrow when she begins the fight for the British women's championship. The American golf champion drew a bye in the first round today, and she rested until the afternoon when she played a final practice match over the treacherous championship course.

Playing a combination of brilliant but erratic golf, Miss Collett beat Miss Joy Winn, a clever English player, by 1 up in a hard-fought eighteen holes. A large gallery followed the American girl who is easily the most interesting figure of the tournament to the crowds making Troon the world's golf capital for the week.

Miss Collett started badly and then thrilled the gallery by a spectacular comeback after being 3 down at the turn. Glenna scored a pretty birdie with 2 at the tricky eighth hole with its postage-stamp trap infested green which cost Hagen the British open title in 1923. Then she scored birdie threes at the eleventh and twelfth and an eagle two at the fifteenth hole.

After the match Miss Collett said that she was in the finest condition and liked the Scotch courses, although they were more tricky than the American. Glenna's chances of winning is the leading topic of conversation here. Most experts give her only a fighting chance to beat Miss Wethered and Miss Leitch, but the Scotch caddies, who have picked many winners against the experts' opinions, are now betting on Miss Collett to be the champion.

Glenna is putting the finishing touches in practice late this afternoon to putting and chip shots. Tomorrow she will meet Miss M. Cox, the champion of Wales for the past two years, who beat Mrs. Collie Browne, 4 and 2 today, and who is expected to give the American a hard battle.

Miss Collett's principal opponents won easy victories over their first-round rivals today. Miss Wethered beat Miss Wardall, 7 and 6, while Miss Leitch, playing in prewar form, eliminated Mrs. Jack Cockrane of Scotland, 8 and 6. Miss Doris Chambers, a former champion, crushed Miss Mae O'German of Providence by 8 and 7.

Heavy showers soaked the course in the afternoon, but the usual Troon gales were absent.

LINCOLN BALL TEAM UPSETS GRIZZLIES

Newman, Lincoln High School pitcher, had a little too much stuff on the ball for the local University of California freshman baseball team yesterday, and the Railsplitters trimmed the Grizzlies, 4 to 2, at Moore Field. Newman pitched eight innings, holding the frosh to three hits and one run. He was relieved in the ninth and Heidnery walked two, forcing in a run. Evo Pusich, Tiger third-sacker, was the only batter on either team to get more than one hit. The score:

George Von Elm, young Southland golf "phenom," who is holder of the Northern California amateur and both the Southern California amateur and open titles, besides having been runner-up to Bobby Jones, last year, in the national open classic, has labeled the Parkridge Country Club, where John Duncan Dunn is building an 18-hole course, of championship caliber. In a letter to Dan Gilkey, president, Von Elm says:

"The golfing country is natural and wonderful, and the possibilities of building a championship, as well as an average player's course, couldn't be better."

AMERICA'S HOPE

BY FEG MURRAY

GOGETEM, GLENNA!
GLENNA COLLETT, WHO IS NOW COMPETING IN THE BRITISH WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.
10¢
YANK
Feg Murray

Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Gogetem, Glenna! If you win, you're a wonder, and if you lose, you'll do as much as Hagen, Jones, Sarazen and Sweetser did on their first trips to England. Alexa Stirling, Marion Hollins and Edith Cummings failed to show much when they tried to win in "Blighty," either, so you have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Miss Collett will have to compete against Miss Joyce Wethered, often called the greatest woman golfer in the world, and also against several other fine English players, probably Miss Cecil Leitch, Miss Doris Chambers and Mrs. McBeth. She will also have tradition, and those tricky winds and rain of Troon against her.

On her side Glenna may count her indomitable courage, her splendid physique, her experience in competition, the advice and coaching given her by Walter Hagen and Aleck Smith, and the fact that she is America's greatest woman golfer.

Then don't forget the dime that John D. Rockefeller gave her! The oil king gave the golf queen a nice, shiny, new 10-cent piece on St. Patrick's Day at Ormond Beach, Fla. To prove that John D.'s ten wasn't tin, Glenna went out and won a match with 1500 persons looking on. She has the dime with her at Troon—will its good luck be potent in far-off Scotland?

Glenna plays a brand of golf that any man would be proud of. She has several times driven over 300 yards, and her rhythm and timing are nearly perfect. Her putting has improved wonderfully this year, as her play when she won the North and South and the Florida women's championships showed.

Glenna's father is a former all-around athlete and trains his daughter very carefully. She can throw a baseball like a man, and is a good swimmer also. Glenna was born in Providence in 1903.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

"LEFTY COOPER will be a very good fighter in a year or two."

That from Mickey Walker, who knocked him out in one round in Ewing Ball Park Saturday afternoon.

The welter king was serious when he said it. He was speeding to Los Angeles after the fight and spoke for the benefit of a group clustered in a compartment on the Lark, among whom were Larry McGrath, the referee; Jack Root, "Wad" Wadhams and the writer.

Cooper's no punk. He's going to be an awfully good fighter before he hangs up his mitts. What he lacks most of all is experience.

"Don't hold my knockout against him. We all get it somewhere along the trail. I was knocked out once, but I'm the welterweight champion today. Jack Dempsey was knocked out, but he's been the heavyweight champion for six years."

Larry McGrath's work as referee in the San Francisco fight was highly praised by practically all who saw the fight. The few exceptions were those who felt that the Hollywood man was a little quick on the trigger the second time Cooper went to the floor and tried to come up as McGrath was shouting "ten."

From where we saw the action McGrath was absolutely correct in his decision. He had come down with his hand on the ten count as Cooper was wobbling up. Lefty's effort to rise and continue the fray was instinctive rather than voluntary in our estimation, and it probably would have been the wise thing for the referee to have stopped the fight if Cooper had beaten the count.

The disgruntled comprised the betters who had put their money on the San Francisco product staying at least five or six rounds.

There were two young men in the audience Saturday afternoon who rather imagine had their backbones weakened by what they saw. We refer to Oakland Jimmy Duffy and Frankie Schoell.

Jimmy didn't step into the ring and challenge the winner, but Frankie, who outpointed him in their fight about a month ago, did, and that indicates in our mind that perhaps the Buffalo lad hasn't yet learned that discretion is the better part of valor.

"Boom Boom! Boom!" is the way Larry McGrath describes the Walker gloves landing kerplunk on the Cooper anatomy.

"I never saw a man in my life the size of Walker hit like he does," declared the Hollywood arbiter.

"Mickey smashes with the force of a heavyweight."

BRAZILL STILL LEADS HITTERS

Frank Brazill, Seattle third-baseman, still leads the Pacific Coast League in batting, but is being pressed closely by several other players. Brazill's average is .425.

Paul Waner, San Francisco outfielder, is second with .414. Charlie High of Portland is third with .399. Mervyn Shea, Sacramento catcher, is fourth with .397.

Ray Jacobs is the leading Los Angeles batter with .323. Jackie Warner is high for Vernon with .313.

Los Angeles pitchers reduced Salt Lake's club batting average twenty points last week at Salt Lake City.

Brazill leads the circuit in home runs with nine. Hood, Kilduff and Brower have made seven each.

Twombly and Lazerre lead in stolen bases with nine.

POMONA STARS WILL TRY FOR NEW RECORD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 18. — Not satisfied with records broken and the star performances they have already made during the past track season for Pomona, several Sagehen stars will unlimber and run some exhibition races over the local oval next Friday afternoon, if plans materialize that are now being made by Capt. Bob Maxwell.

Maxwell and several of his associates are yearning to break the college record in the four-man 440 relay and possibly in the four-man half-mile relay. In an effort to achieve this distinction and establish new Pomona College records a quartet of stars will race another Sagehen team hoping to lessen the time they made unofficially a week ago in the four-man 440, at 1m. 31 6-10s.

OBSERVATIONS BY BILL HENRY

and the whispered possibility that he is "through" there will be a lot of activity and then Jack can come home and bump off a lot of the boys and make a lot of money in short order.

Keith Lloyd is a smart athlete. He is a "campaigner" in much the same fashion that Torkelson is. He has been through the mill, has run a lot of races, has had a lot of things happen to him and isn't so completely submerged in the desire to win that he isn't perfectly conscious all the time of just what he is doing. He showed that in the 100-yard dash on Saturday at the Coliseum.

Somebody swiped Lloyd's shoes after the 440-yard relay, in which he ran a sensational lap, and he tried to run the finals of the century in a pair which were too large. He felt himself slipping right after he started and instead of pulling excitedly the way the average college boy would and probably pulling a muscle or a tendon, Lloyd coasted along and didn't place rather than take a chance.

Lloyd seems reasonably certain of placing in the intercollegiates for U.S.C. He should win the 100-yard dash unless the plethora of heats and semi-finals saps his strength. It takes a warhorse to win in the sprints at the intercollegiates. Torkelson might place in the 440, Nierbach seems almost sure to place in the half and Hellman, who has a lot of the old Bunker Hill fight, has a good chance of figuring in the mile.

Dye ought to win the high-hurdles and Grumbles, if he doesn't get temperamental, is good enough to win or place very high in the low sticks. Houser ought to grab eight points in the weights and a few scattering digits ought to be picked up by Norm Anderson, Ross and possibly White. The Trojans have a very good chance to do something at Philadelphia.

Torrential rains, the heaviest in thirty years, did so much damage to railroads in Peru that fruit or vegetables could not be shipped to Lima and that city has had a shortage of these foods.

OJAI SCENE OF WOMEN'S TOURNEY

Mrs. E. Stanton and Earl Neitzel Take Low Net in Best-Ball Foursome

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OJAI, May 18.—Over sixty women have arrived here and are in readiness for tomorrow's medal round of the annual invitational tournament being held here tomorrow and next day. More than twenty-five arrived in time to enter the special best-ball mixed foursome played over the links here this afternoon.

The course, one of recent construction that has just reached full development, is in perfect condition on both green and fairway, according to statements made by those participating in the matches today, and should, with a continuance of the perfect weather enjoyed today, be the scene of a delightful two days of competition.

In the matches of today Earl Neitzel and Mrs. E. Stanton turned in low gross score with a card of 93, while F. Stanton and Mrs. Arthur Marten won low net honors with their card of 94-10-84. Second low gross score was made by the team of Mrs. Ted Haas of the Wilshire Country Club and Earl Neitzel, who had a card of 96-5-91.

Mrs. J. R. Baird and Harry Lawson made a card of 106-16-87 to score second low net with Mrs. Collons and H. Moser tying them with 105-15-87.

Mrs. Stanton and Earl Neitzel, who won low gross, had the same low net as Mrs. Arthur Marten and Palmer. They had a handicap of 9, which with their card of 93 gave them a net of 84.

Artisan Tennis Team Easy for Roman Legion

One more aspiring tennis team met its Waterloo yesterday. L. A. High's crack tennis team defeated Manual Arts, 17 to 0, winning every match and losing but one set. The Pioneers have not been defeated this year. Yesterday's match was played at L. A. De Shields, L. A. third man, dropped the second set of his match with Eger, 7 to 5, and thereby gave the Artisans their only solace. Otherwise, everything was a clean sweep. Gorchakoff and Kussman, State doubles champions, defeated Jenner and Kessler, 6-0, 6-0.

Capt. Ben Gorchakoff opened the struggle with a 6-2, 6-3 win over Jenner of Manual Arts. The latter is an experienced player and made a good stand. Art Kussman trimmed Kessler, 6-3, 6-2. De Sheilds then won from Eger, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. Jack Phillips won from Noble, 6-0, 6-2. In the doubles Gorchakoff and Kussman stopped Jenner and Kessler, 6-0, 6-0. Phillips and Goodcell defeated Noble and Eger, 6-3, 6-0.

GREAT CROWD VISITS LOCAL ANGLING CLUB

Another record crowd was on hand at the Rainbow Angling Club last Sunday. The weather was ideal for motoring to and from the club and for fishing, either with bait or fly. During the day many limits were caught. The trout at Rainbow are running larger and larger. Seldom do the members now catch a fish less than nine inches long. Manager Garnsey reports that each week finds more and more fishermen joining the club.

PIONEER GRIDS WORK OUT

Despite the torrid sun, and hot winds that swept the field, L. A. High's prospective football men appeared on Housh Field last night in full regalia of war. Capt.-elect Francis Tappaan was in charge. Last year's lettermen on varsity and lightweight teams, and second-team varsity men got suits. Other candidates will be togged out later in the week.

That all-important question of who is going to succeed Bruce Kirkpatrick has not yet been settled. Coach Eddie Rich will handle the squad during spring practice.

The Pioneers should be strong again this year. Plenty of material is returning, and remnants of the lightweight team that came within an ace of the city championship are coming up for places on the squad. Tappaan, Moses, [illegible] Smith, Cushing and [illegible] are the returning lettermen. [illegible] Fessler and De Ford played [illegible] fives, but did not make their letters. Ivan Howard has lined up a capable squad of hurlers; at least they gave the Angel hitters a lot of grief two weeks ago. George Boehler, Kunz, Fowler, Delaney and Foster are the right-handers, while the veteran Harry Krause, going better than ever, and Herb Pruett, whose specialty was striking out Babe Ruth when he was with the St. Louis Browns, attend to the southpawing.

TIGERS VS. SEALS

While the Angels and Oaks are spreading gore all over Washington Park's greensward, Bill Essick's Vernon Tigers will be up in San Francisco playing 'put and take with Bert Ellison's league-leading Seals. The Seals are leading the second-place Angels by six games, and will more than likely pick up a game or two at the expense of the Tigers.

Bill Essick took all of his men north except Evar Swanson and Fred Groat, who will more than likely be farmed out this week.

Ed Maier is after a hard-hitting outfielder, an infielder and a catcher. The Bengal boss expects to land the fly-casher and infielder this week.

The other series on for the week bring together Seattle and Salt Lake in a battle for third place at the Utah metropolis, and Portland and Sacramento at the Capital City.

SAGEHENS CONTINUE SPRING PRACTICE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 18.—Second week of spring practice for Coach Nixon's Sagehen pigskinners opened this afternoon with twenty-one of his stalwart prospects in suits, including a raft of linemen and several backfield proteges.

Capt. Ed McCully led eleven men through a light scrimmage, placing them in opposition to a makeshift aggregation, for a few plays. Among the backfield men who appeared in suits today was "Brick" Smith, who with a little experience and drill may turn out to be a handy ball-carrier. Gerwin Neher, a player who subbed last fall is another backfield possibility.

SAGEHENS MEET POETS SATURDAY

Holsinger Likely to be on Mound for Contest at Whittier

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 18. — After hurdling the two Redlands barriers safely last Saturday Coach Perritt has his Sagehens preparing for the Whittier Poets. The game will be played on the Whittier diamond Saturday and the Blue and White sluggers are out to continue their string of victories until Southern Branch has been safely stowed away in the last game of their conference season.

As Holsinger's arm was given a rest last week he should be in fine shape for the Poet contest. The showing of Nicholson, who pitched one of the Redlands games, promises Perritt plenty of stuff on the mound as he will also have Shaw in tip-top shape.

Nicholson's performance definitely assures Pomona of at least five good pitchers next year. Besides "Nick" there are Paul Jones, Patton, frosh heaver; Holsinger and Shaw.

STRUCK IN GROIN

Mandell had struck Goodrich in the groin, according to the referee.

Up to this time the fight had been fast and not too one-sided to be very interesting. Mandell took the lead in the first round by his clever boxing, but Goodrich came back strongly in the second. He not only forced the fighting but shook Mandell with hard rights to the head.

In the next three rounds it was all Mandell, the Illinoisan stabbing Goodrich repeatedly with straight left jabs. While the Buffalo boy tried to score with his right, Mandell displayed some clever foot work.

AID BOXER

Tommy Gibbons, who was in Mandell's corner, and Goodrich's seconds climbed into the ring and helped the prostrate boxer out. A physician's examination confirmed the referee's judgment.

There was no demonstration by the crowd. Clearly the foul was accidental.

EISMAN AND TAYLOR MEET AT COMPTON

Sam Eisman will make a reappearance at Compton next Friday night. Sam was a popular boy there two years ago when he used to turn them away weekly. He has not boxed in more than a year's time and has been in constant training at the Dempsey gym. He looks to be a 100 per cent better boxer. Sam will meet "Airplane" Dave Taylor, the eccentric heavyweight. Dave has more stuff than Tom Kneblekamp when it comes to being funny. Besides being a good heavyweight battler, Dave is also a good airplane stunt man.

Ted Lopez, a newcomer, and Kid Ceriaco will clash in the six-round semi-wind-up at 135 pounds. Ceriaco is the San Pedro Filipino battler who won his last bout at the Compton club two weeks ago. Three other bouts are as follows: Henry Marcus vs. Tony Lopez, 126 pounds, six rounds; Tom Augerillo vs. Bill Jones, 125 pounds, four rounds; Joe Castro vs. Young Alexander, 126 pounds, four rounds.

COOPER'S TRAINER TO BATTLE AT FRESNO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, May 18.—George Barach, the slugging middleweight from Sacramento, completed his training today for his ten-rounder with Tom King of Australia here tomorrow night in the feature event of the Sun-Maid Athletic Club's program. King, who helped condition Cooper for his bout with Mickey Walker Saturday, will arrive here tomorrow.

Joe Chaney and Young Corbett, local lightweights, will box the six-round semi-final. Three four-rounders are also scheduled.

EASTERN MEN IN QUEST OF SHIPS

Eighteen Federal Freighters Involved in Deal

Purchase of Oregon and Far East Lines is Aim

Combine With Pacific Coast Interests Reported

Certain eastern interests are attempting to tie up with Pacific Coast parties with the intention of acquiring the American Far East Line, and the Oregon Oriental Line, according to word received here yesterday by J. Harry Philbin, manager of the ship sales department of the United States Shipping Board. Ships of both lines are owned by the Shipping Board.

The American Far East Line composes nine freighters, operated between Los Angeles and San Francisco and oriental ports by Struthers & Barry, with Los Angeles as their home port. The Oregon Oriental Line, as the name implies, also plies to Asia with an equal number of vessels, operated by the Columbia Pacific Line.

SALE MEANS END

The disposal of these two groups of government ships would mark the disappearance of the Shipping Board from shipping lanes on the Pacific, the sale of vessels recently to Robert Dollar and to James Rolph, Jr., having removed the Federal influence from fourteen Pacific Coast callers.

Should the sale be negotiated for the Struthers & Barry vessels, it is believed the board's offices at Los Angeles Harbor, in charge of E. E. Demsberg and staff, would be diminished greatly, if not entirely abolished.

Struthers & Barry have been operating government vessels five years, transferring their headquarters from San Francisco to Los Angeles a year and a half ago.

DOLLAR EXCEPTION

Their elimination would mark the disappearance of the last American freight line except the Dollar fleet, from this port to the Orient, and shipping men say, would compel much cargo originating here to be shipped to Asia by Japanese steamers, of which there are three regular lines making this port, and many occasional visits by tramps.

The Shipping Board is making every effort to dispose of its vessels on the Pacific, and has sold a ship a week during the last year, according to Mr. Philbin. He anticipates the sale of the Admiral Oriental Service of five liners from Seattle to Dollar or other interests in at least six months.

VETERAN VANCOUVER SHIPBUILDER VISITS PORT

John Coughlin, capitalist, shipbuilder, 74 years of age, arrived from his home in Vancouver yesterday to inspect the port of Los Angeles. Mr. Coughlin is the builder of a large fleet of Canadian vessels, including many now in operation by the Canadian government merchant marine to or through Los Angeles Harbor. He also was an interested visitor aboard the British steamer City of Vancouver, which is discharging 6000 tons of general merchandise here from Europe for Capt. A. R. Paulsen. The Coughlin Shipbuilding Company, of which he is head, built the City of Vancouver in ninety days, from the hour of laying the keel to the time she was put in operation. He was accompanied yesterday on his tour of the harbor by Albert Hisfield, general superintendent of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, and William Patterson, supervising ship fitter at the same plant. Both helped him build the City of Vancouver.

Activity in the gasoline trade out of Los Angeles Harbor is marked by a number of tankers unfamiliar to the port. The tanker W. S. Libby sails today with gasoline for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; the Roanoke is due today for the Texas Oil Company; the Standard Oil tanker W. H. Tilford is en route on her first trip here from Port Arthur, and the Texas Company's tanker Shenandoah is due from Philadelphia next week on her first visit here. The French tanker Merope put in on her maiden voyage yesterday from Cette and will sail for that port tomorrow for the Compagnie Auxiliaire de Navigation. Her sister ship, the tanker Myriam, is due from Northern Europe today.

Bids on three more 100-foot patrol boats for use by the Coast Guard in pursuing rum-runners were opened at Washington on the 15th inst. It is understood local yards were among the bidders. The bids call for launching within a few weeks.

More cargo awaiting the ship than was expected was attributed as the happy excuse for the delayed arrival yesterday of the Pacific Mail liner Colombia from New York with passengers and freight. The vessel was scheduled to arrive on the 16th inst., but stopped in Central American ports for heavy offerings of coffee, sugar and bananas. Eight hundred and fifty tons are being discharged here. The liner put in here with ninety-two passengers, more than a score departing here, including C. L. Miller, president of the Pacific Sash and Door Company of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Miller. Frank Thayer is making his first trip on the liner as steward, having been transferred to the Colombia from the President Wilson, when the latter was bought by Robert Dollar. He was on the Ecuador on the intercoastal run through here three years ago.

Two hundred realtors, representing practically every realty organization in California, will convene at San Pedro tomorrow to discuss the bitterly fought question of absorption of San Pedro's board by the Los Angeles association. They also will make a tour of the harbor.

George Hammond, the "fishermen's doctor," and dispenser of remedies from his floating pharmacy at Fish Harbor, and recently become blind, will see again if the friendship of those he treated can make it. They are digging deep into pocketbooks to obtain the best surgical help, for there is hope his eyes may be restored to him.

A number of fishermen at Japanese Hall, Terminal Island, are reported to have sponsored the fish bill recently passed by the Legislature and now awaiting Gov. Richardson's signature. The bill would bar purse nets in catching barracuda. The members present took the position that the variety of fish is rapidly being depleted, and the bill would permit their replenishment. Assemblymen Henry E. Carter and W. H. Wickersham, veteran fish dealer, went on record two days ago against the bill and disputing assertions that the supply of barracuda is diminishing.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—On her first trip to this port, the steamer Atto, fixed to accommodate a limited number of passengers, is expected to arrive here Thursday morning from Hamburg.

The additional ship will give the United American Line a sailing from this port in the direct European service every three weeks with a fleet of six vessels.

For the purpose of stimulating travel through San Francisco a meeting of local representatives of passenger steamship companies has been called for tomorrow by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Port facilities and accommodations as well as service, which the Chamber of Commerce may render to the shipping world, will be discussed.

On her last voyage under the Pacific Mail colors, the liner President Cleveland, one of the five President type vessels recently purchased by the Dollar Line, is expected to arrive here early tomorrow morning from the Orient. The vessel has a good number of passengers aboard as well as 6000 tons of freight.

The Zeeon of the French Line is now in the river loading ties for United Kingdom ports.

To load 3,000,000 feet of lumber for South American west coast ports, the steamer Atlantic of the Pan-Pacific Line arrived here today. The steamer is taking out one of the largest consignments of lumber to move to west coast ports in a long period.

The Geisha, represented by the General Steamship Corporation, will arrive within a few days to load lumber for the same destination.

The motorship Seekonk of the United American Line arrived today to load a full cargo of about 3,500,000 feet for Atlantic Coast ports.

The steam schooners David C. Meyer and Ernest H. Meyer were arrivals today. The David C. brought general freight from California ports for discharge today. The Ernest H. docked at St. Helens to load lumber.

TACOMA, May 18.—Confirmation of the rumor that the fire-swept passenger steamship Bienville, built in Tacoma, would be converted to a freighter was received here today when it was learned that the contract had been awarded to Robins Dry Dock and Repair Company of New York.

With Nelson freight from California, the steam schooner Yosemite tied up this afternoon. After completing her loading the ship shifted to Port Gamble to load a full hold of lumber.

The Admiral Dewey arrived here shortly after midnight tonight and got away about 4 a.m. for Everett.

About 300,000 feet of lumber will be taken by the N.Y.K. motorship Atago Maru, which is slated to dock Wednesday. The Atago is on her maiden voyage in the trans-Pacific run. The Tisnaren is to arrive on the same date to load doors and box shooks for Australia.

To load more than 1,000,000 feet of lumber for California delivery the freighter Griffdu arrived this morning.

POSTPONE YACHTING RACE UNTIL JULY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Because of unfavorable weather conditions on San Francisco Bay at this time of the year, the race between the Debra of the California Yacht Club of Los Angeles and the Rascal of the Corinthian Yacht Club of Tiburon, for the local perpetual challenge trophy has been postponed until the latter part of July or the first of August.

The Rascal, sailed by her owner, Lester Stone, and Syl Spaulding Debra, piloted by Ben Weston, raced Sunday for the trophy, but were unable to cover the seventeen-mile course in the specified time of four hours. Following Sunday's fiasco, Stone and Weston agreed to rerun the race today, but called it off when it was apparent that the yachts could not get far without wind.

Achievements of Pioneers of Arctic Recounted

(Capt. Felix Riesenberg, navigator on Walter Wellman's airship America in the first attempt to reach the North Pole by dirigible balloon, and an authority on Arctic exploration, is interpreting the moves of the Amundsen-Ellsworth Polar expedition.)

BY CAPT. FELIX RIESENBERG

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 18. — The Amundsen-Ellsworth polar expedition promises to bring to a quick and exciting climax a long series of attempts to penetrate the secrets of the polar seas. These attempts are of exceptional interest, because they achieve a gradual penetration northward through the slow processes of sledging, each mile being won only after almost superhuman effort.

In 1827 Parry, an Englishman, reached 82 deg. 45 min. of north latitude, or 435 miles from the pole. This remained the farthest north for forty-eight years. He sailed north from Spitzenbergen in the Hecla. The last 172 miles north was made by dragging boats and sledges from the ship. The distance north and back to the ship occupied sixty-one days. The men in their harness almost pulled themselves to death. The use of dogs was unknown.

In 1876 Nares, an Englishman, reached 82 deg. 48 min., or 432 miles from the pole, north of Grinnell Land. The actual record was made by Aldrich, Nares being the commander. The next year A. H. Markham of the same expedition pushed north to 83 deg. 20 min., or to 400 miles from the pole. He used man-pulled sledges.

LATER ATTEMPTS

Park and Nares seemed to have reached the farthest north possible to man. Then a great project was formed in 1881 to established a series of international circumpolar stations for the study simultaneously of conditions surrounding the seemingly impenetrable polar ice. After incredible hardships and appalling loss of life at Cape Sabine, in the southward shore of Ellesmere Island, report came of the further advance toward the pole of Lockwood and Brainard. This advance marked the beginning of the modern siege of the pole.

In 1882 Brainard and A. W. Greely, both Americans, and Lockwood, as leaders of the Lady Franklin Bay Expedition, launched in the interest of establishing additional circumpolar stations, attained 83 deg. 24 min. north latitude, north of Greenland, or 396 miles from the pole. Both Greely and Brainard are still living, retired general officers of the United States Army.

In 1895 Nansen, a Norwegian, after drifting nearly two years in the ship Fram, left this vessel with one companion, Johansen, and by sledge worked his way north over the ice and attained 86 deg. 14 min. north, or 224 miles from the pole. The transport was by dog team.

In 1900 Cagni, an Italian, second in command under the Duke of Abruzzi, made the high latitude of 86 deg. 33 min., better than Nansen by nineteen miles, or 207 miles from the pole.

In 1906 Peary, American, made the farthest north to that time, of 87 deg. 6 min., on 174 miles from the pole.

PEARY REACHES POLE

In 1909 the pole was reached by Peary on April 6.

Now in 1925, Amundsen and Ellsworth are the first to fly airplanes over the polar seas.

The polar dashes before Amundsen and Ellsworth have been carried out under the most difficult physical conditions. Men and dogs, slowly mushing over the northern ice and snow, have reached their points only when at the end of their endurance.

Then they have hurried back. Little if anything has been added to the wider knowledge of those seas. For a mile or two on either side of the trail the knowledge brought back is definite, land or water, or, rather, ice. Beyond that all is conjecture.

An airplane 1000 feet above earth has a range of vision of thirty-six miles. The eye, aided by scientific instruments, under favorable visibility, may sweep a path of reconnaisance of seventy-two miles wide. Flyers at high speed may approach and examine any outstanding feature indicating the presence of land.

In the event of the forced landing of one plane will the other attempt a landing, or will it fly on? In the event of separation by fog will the planes continue north or attempt to search for each other?

NEW PROBLEMS RISE

These are problems that Amundsen and Ellsworth have no doubt fully discussed and are prepared to meet. No doube the flight to the pole is the first consideration. At the same time the possibility of rescue by the companion plane, should disaster overtake one, must be considered. The problem of added loads, of reduced range, and of the grave danger of a second disaster should the first one come down on rough ice, is one of the outstanding chances of this form of Arctic travel.

What is gained in speed and time is counterbalanced by the added risk. The old method was painfully slow, but it was reasonably safe.

The risk of ice-forming mists, mentioned recently by Anthony Fiala, seems a very possible source of danger. In 1907 Prof. Hergessel, making meteorological studies of the upper air currents north of Spitzenbergen, sent up kites from the Prince of Monaco's yacht, the Princess Alice. He found that at times the kite wire of minute size became loaded with ice half an inch thick, and the kites themselves became iced and sank with the weight. At the same time, no noticeable mist was visible from the deck of the yacht.

All the world is on edge wishing the explorers luck. Should the planes fail to return within a day or two after the departure many interesting speculations may be made as to their fate. Even if the planes are smashed, the explorers have an excellent chance to make their way on foot to a base. Starting fresh, they work back, each mile a mile nearer home.

Doctor Predicts Victory in War on Tuberculosis

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, May 18.—Tuberculosis will become as scarce as smallpox in two decades if the fight against the white plague is continued without interruption, was the declaration today of Dr. C. D. Spivak of Denver, national secretary of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society, during the last day of the organization's convention.

"The tendency of mortality is diminishing," he said. "If statistics are correct tuberculosis will indeed be a rare illness at the end of two decades."

"Better hygienic conditions, the continuous agitation of the American societies fighting tuberculosis, isolation of the consumptives in sanatoriums and minimizing of public expectoration may be thanked for the optimistic outlook," he explained.

TRAINING AIMS AT LEADERSHIP

National Guard Camps Will Emphasize Initiative

Governor Will Review Troops at Del Monte

Program to Include Drills Under War Conditions

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, May 18.—A program of training designed to develop military leadership in its highest degree and to increase efficiency generally in the handling of troops so as to obtain the most effective results whether in time of peace or in case of a national emergency will feature the coming summer training camps of the California National Guard.

In the preparations for the camps, which are now going forward apace here in the office of Adjt.-Gen. Mittlestaedt, and in every city of the State where a unit of the guard is located, every effort to this end is being bent.

General orders governing the schedule and conduct of the camp to be held at Del Monte, July 4 to 18, for the training of all infantry units, signal corps and tank company, already have been issued.

The training of each arm, commanding officers have been advised, will be conducted with a view to the support that would be furnished in war by the other combat branches, bearing in mind that combined training is essential to efficient team work and that combot co-operation is essential to secure battle team play and efficient and timely fire support.

One of the most interesting days of the Del Monte camp will be Governor's day, July 14, when Gov. Richardson will review combined troops. Other events scheduled for Governor's day include competitive drills, demonstrations and military sports.

On July 16 the entire command will take the field under simulated war conditions. The program on other days will be devoted to military instruction, ranging from drills and target practice to demonstrations and practice in riot formations and attack demonstrations. Much time also will be devoted to the working out of special military problems by the camp staff offices.

The program makes a liberal allowance for play and recreation by the guardsmen, including supervised and voluntary athletics and sports of various kinds.

The program for the first day of the convertion was restricted to preliminary organization and examination of the credentials of the upward of 1600 delegates who will attend.

Banquets to be given tonight at the Hotel Senator and the Hotel Sacramento drew the attention of the veterans and the members of the auxiliary organizations.

ARMS CARGO IS SEIZED ON DOLLAR SHIP

Contraband Taken Off as Liner is Ready to Leave Bay City for Orient

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Arms and ammunition valued at several thousand dollars were seized as contraband aboard the Dollar liner President Lincoln by customs officials just before the vessel put to sea Saturday, bound for the Orient, it was given out today.

The shipment was destined for delivery in China, presumably to Chinese revolutionists, and was consiged from San Francisco's Chinatown, it was said by authorities working on the case. The embargo against shipment of arms to China has been in effect for several months, during which time several smaller seizures of contraband goods have been made here.

A last-minute search of the President Lincoln disclosed several boxes and barrels of rifles, light machine guns and ammunition.

Authorities are investigating in an endeavor to determine the identity of the consignor.

DAVIS ADMITS FALSIFICATION

Ex-Governor Says Report to Press Partly Untrue

Mention of "Peterson Route" at Office Denied

Phrase Refers to Asserted Sale of Pardons

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 18.—Jonathan M. Davis, former Governor, charged with seeking a bribe, admitted on the stand today that several parts of a statement given the press to explain why his son, Russell G. Davis, had delivered a pardon to Fred Pollman, a forger, were not true. Atty.-Gen. Griffith, pressed the defendant late today to admit that a "Peterson route" really was mentioned before the Executive expressed a willingness to parole Walter Grundy, an embezzler. Mr. Davis denied this, however.

The former Governor, however, held his ground.

A. L. Oswald, Hutchinson attorney, who represented Grundy in a parole application, had testified that Davis was cold to appeals for Executive clemency until Oswald said: "Well, I guess the only thing to do is to take the Peterson route."

The phrase "Peterson route," Oswald declared, related to reports that Oswald had heard pardons were being sold through the office of Carl J. Peterson, bank commissioner.

Suggestion of "the Peterson route" according to Oswald's testimony, led to the solicitation of a $2500 bride by both the Governor and Peterson.

Davis branded as false the statement that the words "Peterson route," ever were used by Oswald in any conversation with him.

Davis had undergone four hours of cross-examination upon the adjournment of court tonight. The Attorney-General will resume questioning him in the morning.

BOY SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR MURDER PLAYS JAZZ WITH CAREFREE UNCONCERN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POTTSVILLE (Pa.) May 18.—Fifteen-year-old William Cavalier was sentenced to death in the electric chair by Judge Koch here today.

Fifteen minutes after the sentence was pronounced the boy was playing a jazz song on the phonograph in his room in the Detention Home.

The incident typified the manner in which the boy received the penalty the law has imposed on him for the slaying of his grandmother last September, when he was still several months short of his fifteenth birthday.

The youngest prisoner ever to hear the death sentence against him in Pennsylvania is entirely unconcerned. Those who are in daily contact with him say his unconcern is caused by lack of understanding; that his dull brain neither can conceive the enormity of his crime nor the significance of the penalty he must pay unless the State shows clemency.

His actions in court today supported that contention. Aside from slight impatience while he waited to be sentenced William displayed no emotion other than the natural embarrassment of an unpoised youth of 15, made to stand, before a large crowd and listen to words directed at him by a dignified judge.

William looked liked a sluggard schoolboy who had forgotten his recitation for the last day of school exercises.

BLAZE TRAPS THREE SCORE

Firemen Make Daring Rescues as Trolley Wire Turns Chicago Building Into Charged Torch

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—Nearly three score men, women and children trapped on the three upper floors of a burning building were dug out by firemen and carried to safety today. It was a case of quick thinking and swift, heroic action, with more than fifty lives at stake and where seconds meant life or death.

Twenty-five families occupied the three upper floors. A broken trolley wire thrown by a truck against the fire escape of the building charged all the metal work, including the fire escapes, with high-voltage currents, and set the building on fire in a dozen places. The trapped families dared not touch the fire escapes, as that meant instant death, and the wooden stairways were blazing tunnels.

When firemen arrived all regular means of exit were cut off. The trapped inmates were screaming and fainting. They did not dare approach the window because of the electricity, which snapped and crackled from the metal casements. Fifty firemen, wearing gas masks, immediately plunged into the burning stairways, and after twenty minutes had carried out all occupants, many of them unconscious from smoke and fright. Directly across the street is located a hospital, where all the victims were treated, including half a dozen firemen, who had been overcome by smoke and gas fumes.

SHEPHERD JURY PICKING STARTS

Only Three Are Tentatively Accepted on First Day

Prosecution Hints He Will Ask for Death Penalty

Fiancee of McClintock in Court as Trial Opens

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—William Darling Shepherd, charged with the murder with typhoid fever germs of his foster-son, William Nelson McClintock, after the latter had made a will making Shepherd legatee of his $1,000,000 estate, went on trial for his life today, facing a dreary wait for the verdict that will give him exoneration or, possibly, the gallows.

As he sat, white-faced and alert—his lips moving continuously—he heard George E. Gorman, first Assistant State's Attorney, question each venireman:

"Have you any conscientious scruples against the infliction of the death penalty?" And he smiled fleetingly as one after another answered "yes."

The first panel of prospective jurymen questioned upheld the forecast of Attorney William Scott for the defense that three weeks or more would be required in the selection of a jury. And the outlook for more weary weeks in addition to that estimate seemed definite as other questions revealed the attitude of the men brought into the box.

THREE ACCEPTED

When court adjourned for the day three jurors had been tentatively accepted, but they will be subject to further questioning by both sides tomorrow.

It was a dramatic day. The throng, which could not possibly hear a word of the colloquy that was carried on between the veniremen from the jury box and Mr. Gorman from his chair before the rail, found compensation in the appearance of the complete cast of principals in the tragedy of the McClintock millions.

There was Shepherd himself, dressed in black broadcloth that grayed the pallor of his freshly-shaved face. The spectators who saw him when he first appeared before the Coroner's inquest some four months ago commented on the significance of the white streaks through his wavy hair, pure black four months ago.

MRS. SHEPHERD CHEERFUL

Mrs. Julia Shepherd came into the room before Judge Thomas J. Lynch and she took a place at the attorney's table. She said that she was feeling cheerful and confident and looked the part until State's Attorney Crowe ordered her removal from the chair at her husband's side. Shepherd kissed her when he came in. Mrs. Shepherd was given a seat at one of the press tables on the side of the room opposite the jury box.

There was Charles C. Faiman, head of the National University of Science, pinky white and innocuous, who seemed to be enjoying the spectacle immensely. One of the first acts of the hearing was to grant Faiman a separate trial on motion of the State's Attorney.

Faiman was indicted jointly with Shepherd on his own confession that he furnished the typhoid cultures for the murder of Billy McClintock. He was a perfect picture of what the well-dressed witness will wear at Mr. Shepherd's trial from pearl-buttoned spats to camel's hair overcoat. His wide blue eyes expressed surprise at the refrain that came to furnish the motif of the morning session:

"I have scruples against the death penalty in any case."

"I challenge this juror for cause."

Miss Isabelle Pope, whose marriage to the ill-fated boy millionaire was frustrated by the Shepherds, she declares, even when he pleaded for the ceremony on his deathbed, arrived today from the West Coast, where she had been recuperating, and will be a witness for the State.

She who was to have been mistress of the $1,000,000 told of her offer during the illness of Billy McClintock to work in the Shepherd home as a housemaid if only she might be permitted to remain there during his illness.

"Billy wanted me to be near him, and, of course, I wanted to stay," she said, and there was a faint tremor in her calm voice.

"Mrs. Shepherd refused to permit me to stay. I begged and pleaded on my knees. I offered to stay as a housemaid, to scrub the floor, anything to be near him when he wanted me. But Mrs. Shepherd was obdurate. I think she is the most hard-hearted person I have ever encountered.

"I have heard her boast of her will power, of her influence over men. She boasted that she could wrap men around her finger. Billy always had a kindlier feeling for Mr. Shepherd than he did for her.

"He was so completely dominated by her that I think we felt a little sorry for him.

"Billy often spoke of how glad he would be to get away. He came to our house time after time, almost distraught because of Mrs. Shepherd's continual complaints, especially after Billy and I were engaged."

Policeman Rescues Child Who Shows Scars Resulting from Cruelty

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—Acting on a telephone "tip," a policeman today broke into a bungalow in the Grand Crossing district and discovered a 6-year-old girl, imprisoned in stocks, her hands tied behind her head, her ankles cruelly swollen and cut, one eye blackened and an ear lacerated from lobe to tip.

The frail little light-haired, blue-eyed child, who gave her name as Marjorie Elizabeth Naher, was taken to the police station and revived. She said her foster-father, Anthony Naher, had placed her in the stocks before he and his wife left to go to work. Instantly warrants were issued for Naher and his wife.

The little girl displayed deep scars on her legs and head and marks of tightly drawn ropes on her arms and legs. The stocks were home-made and the holes were small, even for the emaciated arms of the child. She is one of a family of three. Their parents died and the three orphans were taken to an orphange. A year ago the Nahers secured the little girl from the orphange and, it is said, a sum of money, sufficient to maintain her in clothing and good food was turned over to the Nahers. No explanation is forthcoming for the inhuman treatment.

New Tanko Clew Switches Hunt to Bay District

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Police tonight were combing the North Beach district of San Francisco for Joe Tanko, escaped San Quentin murderer, following a report turned in by C. O. Buntly, an accountant, who said his automobile had been commandeered by a man resembling the convict and who had forced him to drive across the city at a great rate of speed.

Buntly said the man had accosted him about 8 o'clock this evening near Golden Gate Park, and enforcing his demand with a pistol, told him to drive to North Beach. Arriving there the man jumped out and disappeared. Buntly said he was certain that his unwelcome passenger was Joe Tanko as he identified him from photographs he had seen recently in the newspapers.

Floyd Hall, who escaped from San Quentin with Tanko, was captured recently in a Sacramento rooming house.

FRAZIER SCORES IN "HERO" SUIT

Asserted Confession Barred from Proceedings

Declares Document Signed Through Frame-up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) May 18. Counsel for Arthur Lopez Frazier, who claims to be Arthur Frazier, World War veteran of Winner, S. D., who is suing the Federal government for war compensation, scored a point late today when Judge J. W. Molyneaux ruled that an alleged confession relating to the case could not be introduced at this time.

The Department of Justice asserted that it obtained the confession from Lopez Frazier in which the latter is said to have admitted that he was not Frazier, but was Arthur Lopez, a Mexican. The government holds that Frazier is dead.

Lopez-Frazier took the witness stand five times today and was at the point of collapse when assisted from the chair by his counsel.

CHARGES FRAME-UP

The day's developments include:

Lopez-Frazier's charges that the purported confession was a "frame-up."

The plaintiff's assertion that he signed that statement thinking that he was giving Federal officials a sample of his "handwriting."

Testimony of James McKeon, Sioux Falls, S. D., that the real Arthur Frazier had the initials A. F. on his arm, and that the plaintiff bears the same marks.

Testimony of Earl Frazier, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Frazier, that the plaintiff is his brother, Arthur.

SAW INITIALS ON ARM

McKeon testified that Arthur Frazier had shown him the initials "A. F." on his left forearm at Camp Cody.

Earl Frazier recalled that he was present at Winner, S. D., when Arthur was brought back there from Oklahoma.

"There was a crowd at the depot when the train pulled in," he said.

"Dad and mother and sister were there. I recognized Arthur the minute he left the train."

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos de "The Times" que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Buena parte del futuro progreso de Los Angeles, que es la metrópoli de los Estados Unidos que más cercana se halla a territorio latino-americano, habrá de depender de las relaciones que logremos establecer con nuestras hermanas, las repúblicas del sur. Para que lleguen a ser enteramente cordiales, no hay nada tan importante como que nuestros ciudadanos se familiaricen con la lengua castellana. Tan se dan cuenta de este hecho nuestros habitantes que hay al presente más de 25.000 personas que estudian español en Los Angeles. Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, Mayo 18. — El ministro Weeks, convaleciente de un ataque de trombosis, ha tenido un cólico de la vesícula biliar.

El ministerio de Comercio ha informado de que las exportaciones de grano en la semana próximo pasada excedieron en 182,000 "bushels" a las de la que le precedió.

Ha anunciado la Casa Blanca que el Presidente Coolidge asistiría al funeral del General de División Nelson A. Miles.

Acompañado por delegaciones del senado y de la cámara, el cuerpo del difunto senador Spencer, de Missouri, ha sido depositado en un tren para St. Louis.

Según informe, los activos combinados de los bancos nacionales han aumentado $1,769,575,000 en doce meses, y ascienden en total a $23,832,473,000.

Se ha sabido que se están teniendo conversaciones formales con la legación de Estonia, encaminadas a la consolidación de la deuda de $17,000,000 que tiene ese país con los Estados Unidos.

Los Franceses Rompen el Cerco del Riff

PARIS, Mayo 18.—Segun boletín de hoy en la noche, el puesto avanzado francés de Bontoumeur, que se hallaba sitiado y muy hostilizado, ha sido socorrido, tras reñido combate por parte de los franceses y tenaz resistencia por la de los rifeños.

Estos últimos dirigieron contra las columnas francesas de socorro la artillería que hace algunos meses les quitaron a los españoles, pero se mostraron torpes en el manejo de esas armas, y no pudieron impedir que los franceses se acercaran y los obligaran a combatir con armas chicas.

Después de haber auxiliado a Bontoumeur, los franceses están consolidando sus fuerzas para un ataque, que confían será decisivo.

Solicitan los Franceses el Derecho de Cruzar la Frontera Española

MADRID, Mayo 18. — El señor Malvy, ex-ministro francés de lo Interior, desterrado por tratar con el enemigo durante la guerra, y después perdonado, se halla en esta capital encargado de negociaciones con Primo de Rivera, para ver de concertar un plan, que permita al ejército francés pacificar el Riff, barriendo a los rebeldes, del otro lado de la frontera española, y por todo el protectorado de España, hasta arrojar a Abd-El-Krim y sus secuaces sobre el Mediterraneo.

Anteriormente se había llegado a un pacto entre Madrid, París y Londres, de que las tropas francesas no podían penetrar hacia la costa de Africa, ni a lo largo de ésta, entre Río Martín y Tanger, para que no puedan hallarse frente a frente de los ingleses de Gibraltar.

No hay más obstáculo en las negociaciones que el de Italia, pues el Primer Ministro Mussolini insiste en el derecho de tomar parte en cualesquiera operaciones que se emprendan, dado que tiene la esperanza de sacar una tajada del territorio marroquí cuando se pacifique el Riff.

El señor Malvy lleva la proposición del gobierno francés de que se revise el tratado de 1912, la que se empezó a estudiar aquí el mes pasado, cuando el embajador español en Francia, señor Quiñones de León, fue a Sevilla a ver al Rey Alfonso y a Primo de Rivera con las propuestas del Quai d'Orsay.

Tiénese entendido que Primo de Rivera está en favor de que se deje a los franceses mano libre en el Riff; pero insiste en que España retenga el puerto de Melilla. Roma está observando atentamente las negociaciones, y tiene el propósito de pedir Melilla como precio de su colaboración en la conquista de Abd-El-Krim.

Dice la prensa española que se están produciendo graves desórdenes antisemíticos en la región de Orán y en el puerto francés de Argel, lo que ha impedido que se envíen refuerzos de allí al Mariscal Lyautey, que se halla al norte de Fez.

Manifiesta Primo de Rivera que sólo la solución de la cuestión marroquí puede salvar a la monarquía, e insiste en que el futuro de España está en Centro y Sudamérica, y no en Africa. Todavía tiene esperanzas el dictador de llegar a arreglar con la Gran Bretaña el cambio de Ceuta por Gibraltar, con lo cual quedarían automáticamente resueltas las diferencias franco-inglesas en la costa septentrional de Africa.

Nuevo Ataque a las Tres Grandes Empresas

Ayer logró meterse otra cuña contra el supuesto monopolio de la industria cinematográfica, que está en manos de la tres mayores compañías del peliculeras: la "Famous Players-Lasky", la "Metro-Goldwyn Mayer" y la "First National." Dicha cuña consistió en la noticia dada en Omaha de que la "Universal Pictures Corporation", una de las más poderosas entre las independientes, había comprado los numerosos teatros de los hermanos Hostettler. Dícese que llegan a treinta y cinco los establecimientos de cinema que poseen estos señores en Nebraska, Iowa y Missouri.

Dícese que éste ha sido el golpe inicial de una lucha a muerte que emprenderá Carl Laemmle, presidente de la "Universal", para llegar a poner las cintas de su compañía en las principales ciudades del país, donde hasta la fecha no han tenido entrada, debido a que los teatros están acaparados por otros capitalistas. Dícese que esta campaña de la "Universal" beneficiará también a otros productores independientes, pues se les dará entrada a sus películas, cada vez que se pueda.

¿Qué llevaron ustedes de comer al parque de Pasadena el Día de las Mamás? (What did you take with you to eat on Mothers' Day to the park in Pasadena?)—Como te dije el otro día (As I told you the other day), llevamos tres guisos (we took three dishes with us,) que mi papá, mi prima María y yo guisamos desde la víspera (which my father, my cousin Mary and I cooked since the day before).

Mi papá compró dos libras de magnífico solomillo de vaca (Papa bought two pounds of excellent beef tenderloin), y asó la carne al horno en una cacerola bien tapada (and roasted (braised) the meat in the oven, in a tightly covered stew-pan), en la que también puso patatas mondadas, guisantes frescos, rebanadas de tomate fresco, ramitas de perejil y de otras hierbas finas, una pulgarada de orégano, bastante sal y un poco de pimienta (into which he also put peeled potatoes, fresh green peas, slices of fresh tomatoes, twigs of parsley and other sweet herbs, a pink of wild marjoram, enough salt and a little pepper).

Pasado mañana te seguiré contando de nuestra comida (I will go on telling you about our dinner the day after tomorrow).

RUPTURE

EXPERT HERE

F. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Rosslyn Hotel and will remain in Los Angeles this Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. daily.) Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in ten days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position, no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or Incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

P. S.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—F. H. Seeley.

ARIZONA BUILDS TOURIST HOTELS

PHOENIX PLANS $600,000 FUND FOR TRAVELERS' RESORT; OTHERS IN LINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, May 18.—Phoenix is moving toward erection of a large hotel especially for tourist needs. The tourist resort hotels at Chandler, Ingleside and Castle Hot Springs annually are filled to capacity, while the local commercial hotels usually are crowded. Construction of the new Southern Pacific Phoenix main line is expected to add to the demand for accommodations.

Tucson has raised $300,000 toward construction of a hotel that is to cost at least twice that amount, and is to be placed in the outskirts with a fringe of cottages. Prescott, Flagstaff, Yuma and Nogales also are moving toward erection of modern hotels. The Prescott Hotel is to cost $300,000 and is to be called The Hassayampa. It will be on the site of the old Congress Hotel on East Gurley street.

NOGALES (Ariz.) May 18.—Plans have been made for erection in Hermosillo of a 100-room hotel, to cost $250,000, to be placed on the site of the Arcadia Hotel, destroyed by fire last year. Backing the enterprise are Capt. L. W. Mix of Nogales and C. O. Hall and E. W. St. Clair of Los Angeles. It is proposed to rush work on the structure that it may be open for American tourists in the fall.

Make your Ice Box a Frigidaire

Almost any ice box—your ice box—can be converted into a Frigidaire Electric Refrigerator easily and inexpensively.

The change is simple. The Frigidaire "frost coil" is placed in the compartment where you now keep ice. The Frigidaire compressor is placed in the basement or other convenient location. Frost coil and compressor are connected with small copper tubes, and a connection made to your electric wiring. That's all. Your refrigerator becomes cold and stays cold.

At once you notice a difference in all foods. Meats keep indefinitely, fruits are always firm and juicy. Vegetables do not spoil. Lettuce and celery retain their original crispness. Milk, cream and butter are always sweet and fresh.

You enjoy new convenience in the kitchen. Frigidaire freezes dainty ice cubes for the table, and makes delicious frozen desserts with scarcely any trouble on your part.

Frigidaire is automatic and economical refrigeration. It makes you independent of outside ice supply. And it costs less to operate than you probably now pay for ice.

Come in and let us show you Frigidaire in actual operation. Let us tell you how little it will cost to put one of the thirty-two Frigidaire models in your home.

GLADIOLI WILL FEATURE SHOW

California Valencia Exhibit to Start Friday

Anaheim Event Attracts Many Flower Culturists

Huge Archway to be Dedicated on Opening Day

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ANAHEIM, May 18.—The fifth annual California Valencia orange show, which opens Friday in Anaheim for eleven days, will not be confined to displays of the summer variety of oranges alone, as one of the featured exhibits of the citrus division will be a gorgeous array of gladiolus blooms.

Members of the Southern California Gladiolus Association are preparing a mammoth display of the rich-toned sword lily blooms to occupy a prominent position in the citrus salon, assigned them by Herman Stern, director-general of the show.

Several of the best-known flower culturists in Southern California, numbered in the association membership, are preparing to send their prize blossoms to be incorporated in the colorful display of members of the iris family.

Hiram H. Tracey, instructor in botany in the Fullerton Union High School, an official of the association, is taking an active part in preparing the display. Students of the school are assisting him in designing the exhibit.

In addition to more than ten carloads of Valencias, grapefruit, lemons and avocados will be seen in featured exhibits. The most elaborate decorative scheme ever seen in California, on the French Renaissance motif, is being carried out in the citrus, industrial and automotive salons of the exposition.

A huge triumphal archway, surmounted by an eighty-five-foot tower, with other permanent buildings, is to be dedicated on the opening day of the show. Each of the eleven days of the exposition is to be featured by a different entertainment program given on a dias in the citrus salon.

Chambers of commerce of numerous Southland cities are co-operating with the citizens of Orange county in the final arrangements of the educational and entertainment features of the exposition.

Valley Farmer Tells Value of Asparagus Crop

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, May 18.—S. O. Houghton, prominent business man and rancher here, was the principal speaker today before the Kiwanis Club luncheon, choosing as his topic the increasing asparagus industry in San Fernando Valley. Asparagus was served as the chief dish of the luncheon.

Mr. Houghton stated that he and eleven Chinamen constituted the Los Angeles County Asparagus Marketing Association. They have 400 acres in asparagus, which is 90 per cent of all the asparagus acreage in the county. Mr. Houghton stated that these 400 acres will produce about $800 gross each this season, under normal production conditions.

Most of the talk centered on the culture of the vegetable and the value of co-operative marketing to get best financial returns. Mr. Houghton pointed out that intelligent farming was the only kind that could succeed nowadays. The old farmer of a generation ago, who could scarcely read or write, is a back number, and hasn't the ghost of a chance on a competitive basis with the young farmer of today who got his scientific understanding of farm work by learning it in an agricultural college, Mr. Houghton asserted.

WATER PROSPECTS IN SAN JOAQUIN GOOD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, May 18.—Second high water in San Joaquin Valley rivers means the breaking of a long period of drought in the big valley and abundance of water for irrigation. The warm spell about the first of the month brought down a large volume of water in Kings River, which reached the maximum of 10,000 feet at Piedra, Fresno county, the measuring point, on the 7th inst.; then the weather turned cold, with some rain. Now another warm period is on, snow in the high Sierras is melting again and the river flow of 5000 feet Saturday went up to nearly 7000 today. All the irrigated lands of Kings county have been flooded once this year and now a second good wetting is in sight, adding greatly to prospects for crops.

SAN FERNANDO SEEKS BRANCH OF AUTO CLUB

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, May 18.—San Fernando motorists are making an effort to have the Automobile Club of Southern California establish a local office here. H. J. Poppleman, director of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of a committee making overtures to the Auto Club officials. In petitioning the officials the assertion is made that San Fernando is the logical place for the club to locate its northern outlying office for the Los Angeles district. Virtually all the highways from Southern California leading to Central and Northern California through the Newhall tunnel converge at San Fernando, where, on week days, 10,000 autos pass through daily. On Sundays, as many as 50,000 cars have been counted, the petition states.

DIVORCE DOUBLY COMPLETE

Final Decrees to Both Husband and Wife Appear on Record of Court at El Centro

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, May 18.—Mrs. Rose M. Daley of Los Angeles and H. E. Daley of Sacramento are believed to be the most completely divorced couple in the State as a result of a hearing in Superior Judge Conkling's court here recently. The couple formerly resided in Imperial Valley, but an interlocutory decree of divorce was entered May 5, 1924, after which they moved away.

Under the law one year must have expired after the entry of the interlocutory decree of divorce before a final decree may be entered and become effective. Mrs. Daley filed her final decree May 5, 1925, and on May 7, Daley filed a final decree. County Clerk Mousseau refused to enter the decree filed by Daley because that of Mrs. Daley was already entered in the docket. Through his attorney, Frank Birkhauser, Daley applied to the court for an order vacating the decree filed and entered by Mrs. Daley on the ground that it had been entered too soon. Attorney Charles E. Scott appeared for Mrs. Daley and opposed the motion to vacate her decree.

Although Judge Conkling agreed that Mrs. Daley's decree had been entered one day too soon, he refused to vacate it, as it was ineffective and required no action by the court, but ordered the clerk to enter the decree for Daley. This gives two final decrees appearing on the court record.

TWO STORES ARE BURNED IN WHITTIER

City's Business District Threatened by Fire That Causes $6300 Loss

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

WHITTIER, May 18.—Fire that seriously threatened the business district of the city today destroyed two business houses and their contents, at an estimated loss of $6300.

The business house in which the two stores were located, at 115 South Greenleaf avenue, was a frame building of one story and was one of the oldest in the city. It was owned by J. H. Woodworth of 200 Colorado street, Pasadena.

The building, consisting of two store rooms, was occupied by Sam Fultz's bicycle show, with an insurance of $2000 to cover goods valued at $2500, and S. P. Swett, who had a cigar and candy store. His loss is estimated at $1800, with $1200 insurance. The building was valued at only $2000.

Defective wiring was given as the probable cause of the fire. The local fire company had some difficulty in saving another frame business block adjoining on the south. On the north of the Woodworth Building was a brick block that shut off the flames from spreading in that direction.

LINK COMPLETED IN DRAIN AT ALTADENA

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 18.—A charge of dynamite exploded in the Altadena storm drain today virtually completed a 2220-foot tunnel from the head of Lincoln avenue to the Arroyo Seco. The tunnel, built at a cost of $250,000, was erected by J. W. Regan, chief engineer of the Los Angeles county flood control. It is the first money to be spent from the $35,000,000 recently voted by the people of the county. Work from both ends of the tunnel was carried on at the same time. Workmen from both ends met 1000 feet in the earth at a place specified. A stick of dynamite broke the last exisitng wall.

WOMAN PAYS RECORD BOOTLEG CASE FINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, May 18.—The heaviest fine for bootlegging ever given in this country, $750, was imposed in the Superior Court this morning on Mrs. Mary Irigary of Stratford. She pleaded guilty to two charges of selling intoxicants, but Dist.-Atty. McKay asked for a dismissal of one on the grounds of insufficient evidence. He said that he was satisfied with a plea of guilty on one charge and asked that a jail sentence be not imposed on the other, the woman having three minor children and her husband being seriously ill. The heavy fine was paid and the woman released.

The first electric railroad in India, which was opened last February, will be extended at a cost of 23,000,000 rupees.

TINY BONE CAUSES MAD-DOG SCARE

Canine Loses Temper When Ossicle Preempts Lodging Place in His Throat

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, May 18.—A tiny bone, caught in the throat of a dog belonging to Mrs. J. J. Pritchard of Grove avenue, was responsible for hurried runs of both police and Sheriff's officers. The usually gentle canine, aggravated by the continued tickling in this throat for more than a day lost his temper over the matter. Approaching humans did not meet with his favor and he made it plain to them. The dog's unusual actions led his owner to believe he might have hydrophobia and, fearing to approach to tie him, she called the police. Police officers were out on a call, and Undersheriff Rayburn answered the summons. In the meantime the police returned to the station and arrived at the Grove-avenue home in time to help remove the bone.

Fugitive Pair Reported as on Way to Arizona in Car

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, May 18.—Charging them with the theft of a kimono which she valued at $1000, Mrs. L. B. Brown, 435 Caldwell avenue, today caused a grand larceny warrant to be issued in Judge George R. Crane's court for Francis Conn, 60 years of age, and his son, Joseph Conn, age 22. The Conns had been tenants in Mrs. Brown's house, where she retained one room for private use.

On her return today from a stay in Los Angeles Mrs. Brown was informed by neighbors that the father and son had departed by motor car for Arizona. Investigation is said to have disclosed the fact that they took with them a quantity of her goods and chattels, including the expensive kimono.

Mrs. Brown recited to Judge Crane that she had learned that Joseph Conn had taken a silk "nightie" belonging to her and presented it to a neighbor woman. She also recited that a quantity of dishes and a rubber apron were stolen. Mrs. Brown declared that she had been informed the pair were en route to Topeka, Kan.

The police are investigating in an effort to learn if the two men have yet gotten out of the State.

Before departing for Petaluma, Poehlmann took a survey of many of the poultry colonies in various parts of the valley.

LONG BEACH AFTER TESTS

Proposed That Antiaircrift Experiments Be Made on Local Aviation Field

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 18.—Tests of the efficiency of Pacific Coast antiaircraft defences and experiments to determine further needs along this line may be held in Long Beach next fall was indicated here today. The use of this city as a field for the proposed tests depends, it was said, upon the ability of the city authorities to equip its municipal aviation field, north of Signal Hill, with proper hangars and lighting apparatus.

Following a conference yesterday with army officers at Fort MacArthur, Adjt. Kollender of the local post, American Legion, declared that he intends to take up with city officials at once the matter of equipping the local aviation field in accordance with the needs of the government for the tests. The test problems are to be worked out this fall by a squadron of airplanes attached to the Ninth Army Corp headquarters, which is to work in co-operation with Fort MacArthur in a test of the latter's efficiency in antiaircraft defense, Kollender said.

A properly equipped operating base near the fort will be necessary for the squadron, it is said, and every effort will be made to urge upon the government the use of the municipal aviation field for the purpose. Local aviators are preparing to co-operate to induce the city authorities to equip the field.

DRAFT CASH, IS PROPOSAL TO END WAR

Speaker at Riverside Says Conscription of Wealth is Guarantee of Peace

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, May 18.—Conscription of wealth as well as men for war purposes and providing for an expression of the people by ballot on the issue of declaring war were two plans for universal peace advocated by Dr. Clinton N. Howard of New York, chairman of the World Peace Commission, in an address at the First Methodist Church last night. Dr. Howard spoke in the afternoon at the First Congregational Church. He came to this city from Los Angeles, where he conducted a number of peace meetings. The commission he heads is conducting a world-wide campaign for the abolition of war.

"If the men who make war had to do the fighting, furnish the sons and pay the bills, the war game would end tomorrow," said the speaker. "We propose a cure.

"In future wars we must conscript property and wealth as well as men. We must put money and property on the same parity with humanity. If the government is to knock on the door of the home and say, 'I want your money,' it must knock on the door of the miner and say, 'I want your coal,' or on the door of the oil trust and say, 'I want your oil.' Let its security be the same security offered a widow for her son—none, except the honor of country and victory for the flag."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, May 16.—Slot machines, which heretofore have been permitted to operate without restraint, are due for the discard. The City Council today instructed the City Attorney to prepare an iron-clad ordinance covering the petty devices.

The proposed ordinance, it is said, will cover all of the smaller forms of games of chance and will include recommendations of the police judge, before whom cases connected with operation of slot machines have been tried in the past and thrown out because the judge ruled the law was not sufficiently binding.

More strict regulation of dance halls is advocated by Police Judge Claude Chambers in a communication to the Mayor today. Chambers declared the youth of the city is being debauched and he urged that the Council investigate the situation.

PROFITS SHOWN BY OIL CONCERN

United Reports Figures for 1924 Business

Satisfactory Advance Made in First Quarter

Refining Company Expands to Bay Region

Operations of the United Oil Company and its subsidiary, the Richfield Oil Company, for the year ended December 31, 1924, resulted in net profit of $1,223,058.77, after the deduction of general expenses, depletion and taxes, or the equivalent of $6.79 a share on the 180,000 shares of outstanding stock, according to the annual report released yesterday by James A. Talbot, president.

The net profit for the first three months of this year, after all deductions for expenses and taxes, amounts to $474,351.79, or $1.86 a share, which is at the rate of $7.45 a year on the 254,610 shares of outstanding stock.

BONDS CONVERTED

Gross profits from the sale of oil and products totaled $3,428,926.26 for the year 1924, and the profit from operations after deducting marketing and selling expenses and general expenses and taxes amounted to $1,711,953.45.

During the last quarter, all except $375,000 of the $2,625,000 of bonds have been converted to stock, thereby effecting a saving to the company of $157,500 a year in fixed charges. The statement for the quarter shows continued improvement in the current condition of the company. Marketing operations in this period have been extended to the San Francisco Bay district, Sacramento and all San Joaquin Valley cities south of that point.

The new refinery at Hynes has been in operation since July, 1924, and has a tested capacity of over 16,000 barrels of crude oil a day. Eminent petroleum and refinery engineers, Mr. Talbot asserts, speak with high praise of its excellent design, modern equipment and economical efficiency. The earnings arising from this source continue at a gratifying rate and are considerably in excess of the preliminary estimates, the president reports.

SURPLUS DECLINES

The company had $200,000 less in surplus on March 31, last, as compared with December 31, 1924, which, President Talbot points out, is covered by charging off from surplus financing charges incident to the sale of bonds, and an item of $690,000 formerly carried as good will value of Richfield Oil Company

The consolidated profit and loss statement for 1924 follows:

Gross profit from operations	$3,428,926.26
Deduct—
Marketing and selling expense, general expenses and taxes	1,716,972.81
Profit from operations	1,711,953.45
Other income credits	101,386.12

Deduct—
Abandoned leases and wells, other income charges and bond interest	590,280.80
Net profit for 1924	$1,223,058.77

ELECTRICAL CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Central-Station Companies Place Many Orders to Cover Extensions

Central-station companies have been placing many orders for equipment and supplies to cover extensions and improvements, according to Electrical World, New York. There are no particularly large sales, but the volume is good and many inquiries are being received by manufacturers. Industrial companies are buying a fair amount of supplies, and steel companies are quite active. Many orders are in prospect from the steel industry.

In New England the demand for industrial lighting has been quite brisk, and sales of central-station supplies continue active.

Many small orders for switching equipment and construction material have been placed in the New York district by central-station companies. Business in that district is spotty, but good volume, and industrial companies are placing good orders for supplies.

In the Southeast central-station companies are actively engaged in extensions and improvements, and building construction continues active, particularly in Florida and Alabama. The demand for appliances in that district has improved very much.

Sales are good in the Middle West, and the volume is increasing. Heavier purchasing of apparatus by the various utility companies in that territory is noticeable.

On the Pacific Coast orders received mainly cover special lines, and sales have declined from the volume reached early in the month.

MARKET HISTORY WRITTEN

Los Angeles Investment Enters New Phase of Interesting Progress; Price Hits Peak

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Nearly eleven years ago, following the reorganization of Los Angeles Investment after acute financial troubles, the stock sold on the exchange around 30 cents. Nine years later, or in the latter part of 1923, a leading broker startled exchange members with a bid for any or all of the outstanding stock at $1.80. Last year, after the discovery of oil on the company's property, Los Angeles Investment in a sensational advanced reached $4.60. Another chapter was written last week in the market history of this stock when it moved into new high ground at the record price of $6.85.

Nothing like Los Angeles Investment has ever entertained the imagination of speculators and investors in the Southwest. Several mining and oil favorites have flashed momentarily on the speculative horizon, but none of them has displayed the continuity of advance that Los Angeles Investment has shown. When the reasons influencing this remarkable performance are examined there is plenty of ground for the enthusiasm behind the market action of the stock, and an interesting commentary developed on the general economic development in Los Angeles.

NEW HIGH MADE

Right now Los Angeles Investment is the speculative favorite on the exchange because of the oil developments on the company's properties. Last week, when the new high was recorded, nearly 61,000 shares were transferred, and in the month of April the volume was slightly more than 100,000 shares. Yesterday the stock ascended to $6.90, the biggest yet reached. But behind the glamor of oil is a stable background of the kind that has demonstrated the intrinsic market worth of many of the old-line investment stocks.

Primarily, the company is a home-building organization. It operates extensively in subdivisions, and in 1924 sold 470 houses and lots for a total of about $2,500,000. Allied activities, however, carry the company's business into several important fields, which permits the desirable feature of diversification in a broad scale of operations.

Los Angeles Investment not only builds houses and sells lots, but it owns and operates down-town business property. It is in the hotel business and it possesses one of the largest auditoriums in the city. The Trinity Hotel and the Trinity Auditorium together, are valued at over $1,600,000. Valuable Broadway office buildings are another source of revenue.

BUSINESS DIVERSIFIED

Through the Investment Securities Corporation Los Angeles Investment deals in mortgages and trust deeds on properties other than those owned by the company. Real estate and building activity in Los Angeles have enabled this subsidiary to harvest substantial profits.

The company is in the lumber business, its yards covering an area of approximately seven acres, and including a modern planing mill, dry kiln, cabinet shop and sheds. An engineers' and builders' organization last year handled approximately $750,000 worth of work, including building construction, street paving, water mains, sidewalks, curbs and related activities.

As a public utility the Investment Water Company furnishes water to more than 1100 homes The rates are fixed by the Railroad Commission.

In 1924 the mortgage department of the company sold 323 mortgages for over $766,000. An escrow department handles an immense volume of general trust business and obtains satisfactory income from the sale of insurance. More than 2000 policies were issued in 1924.

SYNDICATE ENTERS BID

Largely influenced by the general expansion in the business of these departments and subsidiaries, an investment group made its spectacular $5,000,000 bid late in 1923 for the outstanding stock of the company. The sales of the company were at a high figure, and on the basis of this information a price of $1.80 was placed by the syndicate on the stock. The market responded to the bid, but little stock was forthcoming.

If the members of this syndicate were open to the charge of recknessness on their bid later developments clearly justified their confidence, although the event was fortuitous. Early in 1924 the Standard Oil Company began drilling for oil on one of the Los Angeles Investment subdivisions, and subsequently found productive sands, proving the existence of a new field. Since that time, speculation in the stock largely has been motivated by oil prospects.

The story of the company's progress is best told in the dividend record. The stock was placed on a paying basis in 1920, and 2 per cent was distributed to more than 14,000 stockholders in Southern California. The next year an 8 per cent rate was instituted, which was maintained for the following twelve months. The rate was increased in 1923 to 10 per cent, and to 24 per cent in 1924. This is the basis on which dividends are now paid.

In the intermingling of home-building, real-estate subdivisions, office buildings, hotel property and oil, there is much that is typical of Los Angeles business. The composite has given to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange a security of measurable importance, for it certainly demonstrates the reception that seasoned securities meet in the Los Angeles market.

OFFER NEW LAND BANK BOND ISSUE

Country-Wide Group of Investment Bankers Sell Mortgage Liens

An issue of $26,500,000 ten, thirty-year Federal Land Bank 4½ per cent bonds is being offered by a country-wide group of investment bankers at 102¾ and interert, to yield about 4.15 per cent to the redeemable date of 1935, and 4½ per cent thereafter to redemption or maturity.

The group offering these bonds is composed of twelve Federal land banks, investment houses and upward of 1000 dealers. The banking group is headed by Alex Brown & Sons of Baltimore, Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Brown Brothers & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., the National City Company and the Guaranty Company of New York.

The bonds are exempt from Federal, State, municipal and local taxation, are dated January 1 last, and are due January 1, 1955. They are not redeemable before January 1, 1935, but may be called at par and interest at any time after ten years from date of issue. They are in coupon and registered form, interchangeable in denominations of $10,000, $5000, $1000, $500, $100 and $40. Interest is payable January 1, and July 1, at any Federal land bank or Federal reserve bank.

Figures made public in connection with the new offering show that in seven years of active operation the twelve Federal land banks have built up until on may 31 last their capital was $50,905,040; reserve, $6,688,900; undivided profits, $3,706,251, and total assets $1,031,710,233. Every bank shows a surplus earned from operations.

While these bonds are not government obligations, they are the secured obligations of the banks operating under Federal charter with governmental supervision, on whose boards of direction the government is represented.

The bonds are acceptable by the United States treasury as security for government deposits, including postal savings fund, and the Federal Farm Loan Act provides that the bonds shall be lawful investments for all fiduciary and trust funds under the jurisdiction of the United States.

RICHMOND (Va.) May 18.—The National League of Women Voters has joined the ranks of those leading educational and civic organizations which favor a Federal Department of Education. REPORT COPPER PRICES STEADY

Consumers Await Effect of Reduced Production

Advertising Campaign Aids Sale of Product

Recent Foreign Purchases on Decrease

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor, "Arizona Mining Journal"

It is evident that the copper consumers are awaiting the extent and effect of the reduction in production before making any change from their hand-to-mouth policy of buying, as copper has been quiet and unchanged in price. The price has remained strong at 13⅝ cents. Foreign purchases are also quiet and not in as great volume as they were a few weeks ago.

The policy of curtailing production seems to be spreading and it is believed that the producers are aiming at a reduced production of about 15,000,000 to 25,000,000 pounds monthly. This should be adequate to cause a considerable change in the copper situation, as the evident overproduction during the past three months was about 15,000,000 pounds monthly.

SALES INCREASE

In the first quarter consumption of copper in this country amounted to 183,400 tons, an increase of 7600 tons, or more than 4 per cent over the last three months of 1924. Increased takings in the first quarter are largely attributed to activity of the automotive industry, which is becoming an increasingly large consumer of the metal. In three months ended March 31, last, it consumed 24,350 tons, or 3500 tons more than in 1924 final quarter. Electrical manufacturing lines in the first quarter took approximately the same as in the last quarter of 1924, or 45,000 tons. Exports were 13,400 tons, against 12,900 tons in the final 1924 period. Building trades took 9250 tons, against 8550 tons.

The trend of business in electrical lines, which is the largest user of copper, shows almost a $4,000,000 increase in the bookings of the General Electric Company and a $3,000,000 decrease in bookings for Westinghouse over the last quarter of last year. General Electric, however, showed over $10,000,000 increase in bookings in the first quarter of 1925 over the first quarter of 1924, with Westinghouse about the same as last year.

The effect of the advertising campaign on the uses of copper being conducted by the producers is most interestingly shown by the fact that, during 1924, 13.49 pounds of copper were used for each person in the United States as against 8.49 pounds in 1922.

Apprehension over the election of Von Hindenburg in Germany is not shared by Managing Director Charles W. Clark of the United Verde Copper Company, who stated in a recent interview:

"Conditions in Europe are improving day by day and I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that the biggest thing that has happened over there in several years is the election of President Von Hindenburg, following as it did the complete repudiation of the MacDonald administration in England.

"The election of Von Hindenburg is most distinctly not a monarchical gesture. It is rather a revolt against Communism and a determination on the part of the German people to re-establish their prosperity and their business on a sound basis. Our exports of copper to Europe in the last two weeks, amounting to some 10,500 tons, are the largest for years and are but an indication of what we may expect when absolute stability is assured. Personally, I have not the slightest doubt of that stability, for if you will but stop to think of it for a moment, France is the one European country in which there is not a definite return to more conservative thought following the general eruption of the Communistic idea—and France, despite anything that may appear on the surface, is one of the most conservative counties in Europe.

"The domestic demand for copper has been just a little disappointing, but I believe that there are reasons for this that will soon disappear. There has been a tendency on the part of copper consumers to delay placing orders in hope of further price recessions, but they are due to be sadly disappointed. Copper stocks are low; as a matter of fact, there is not more than a six weeks' supply on the market today, and the so-called "surplus" is at a lower point that it has been for years. The output of the mines is distinctly not greater than it should be in view of the world demand for the metal, and every indication points to a better market in the very near future.

"It is a fact that all the metals are advancing in price with the sole exception of copper, and that it alone is selling today at a price as low or lower than it was in the prewar days. There are many factors that are responsible for this condition, but every one of them is artificial and cannot endure indefinitely.

"It is unfortunately true that the copper situation on the surface is not altogether favorable, but I have every faith in the future and believe that the apparent depression is but temporary."

Market Strength Sustained

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18. — The continued diversion of surplus funds into investment channels sustained the strength of the bond market today, with prices of various railroad and public utilities issues pushing into new high ground. The growing difficulty encountered by investors in their search for attractive yields brought semispeculative issues into greater prominence and led to considerable bargain hunting in various sections of the list.

Bullish demonstrations in the public utility shares contributed to the strength of public utility bonds. American Water Works 5s established a new high record for the year and Utah Power 5s and Standard Gas 6 1-2s were included in the list of gains, which ranges from 1 to 2 5-8 points.

The steady rise in French bonds, which centered today in the Paris-Orleans and other railroad liens, was accompanied by reports that France might do additional financing here later in the year if a satisfactory settlement of the French debt were arranged. The general restoration of financial stability abroad, bankers indicated, might lead to the flotation of other foreign bonds.

The new Polish 8 per cent bonds were the outstanding exception to the general upward trend of the market today, breaking 5 points in the later trading on the announcement that syndicate support, which has been extended for sixty days, would be withdrawn tomorrow.

New financing, including a $26,500,000 Federal Land Bank issue and a $5,943,000 Province of Cordoba loan, was quickly absorbed.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and to expedite transmission the closing is omitted when it is the same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB

Public Utilities Feature

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Sensational gains in the public utility issues featured today's strong curb market. Commonwealth Power was the spectacular individual performer, soaring more than 13 points to 158, while the "Rights" closed nearly 8 points higher at 64⅜. Southeastern Power and Light jumped 11½ points to 105½, while Electric Bond and Share, the American Superpower issues, Lehigh Power Securities, Middle West Utilities and United Light and Power showed net gains of 2½ to 5 points.

Buying of the industrials was of a selective character with the sharpest gains being recorded by specialties, for which there is ordinarily a thin market. American Rayon Products moved up 1½ points to a new high at 30¼, or 8¼ points above the recent subscription price. Chrysler and Gabriel Snubber also were in good demand. A moderate rally in Dubilier was the only feature in the Radio group.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb Market, furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 639 South Spring street:

Dated May 1, 1925. Due May 1, 1940.

Redeemable on sixty days' notice on any interest date at 102; interest payable without deduction for any Normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2% per annum. Denominations $1000 and $500.

BANK OF ITALY, Trustee

Exempt from Personal Property Tax in California

SECURITY. These bonds, in the opinion of counsel will be a direct obligation of the Marian Realty Company, and will be specifically secured by a first (closed) fee mortgage on the land and building located at 1175 Market Street, and known as "Crystal Palace Public Market."

This property occupies a total of 116,175 square feet. It has a frontage of 70 feet on Market Street and a combined street frontage of 695 feet on Market, Mission and Eighth Streets. The land has been appraised by Mr. Wm. A. Schadde, Appraiser for the Hibernian Savings & Loan Society, as having a present sound value of $1,356,801. A portion of the land is improved with a reinforced steel and concrete building, having over 60,000 square feet of main floor space, which is occupied by the Crystal Palace Public Market. The actual cost of construction was in excess of $600,000. Mr. T. Ronneberg, Consulting Engineer, San Francisco, has placed a conservative value of $548,187 on this building. Based on the combined appraisals on the land and improvements, this first mortgage of $1,000,000 represents less than 53% of the total appraised value ($1,904,988) of the property pledged. The Marian Realty Company, a California Corporation, has a net worth of $2,516,782.28, including its equity in this property.

EARNINGS. A certified audit of the business of the Crystal Palace Public Market, by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery, Certified Public Accountants, dated April 24, 1925, shows net earnings for the year ending March 31, 1925, of $122,205.11. For the first quarter of the year 1925 this audit shows a net income of $34,397.23. Based on this audit and existing leases it is estimated that net earnings for the current year will be in excess of $150,000, or approximately 2 1-3 times maximum annual interest charges on these bonds.

SINKING FUND. The indenture securing this issue will provide for the payment to the Trustee, in equal monthly installments beginning May 1, 1925 (in addition to the monthly interest payments,) of an amount sufficient to retire $30,000 par value of bonds per annum, commencing May 1, 1926, up to and including May 1, 1931; thereafter monthly at the rate of $40,000 par value of bonds per annum, up to and including May 1, 1939. The sinking fund payments will retire 50% of this issue before maturity.

INSURANCE. Fire and earthquake insurance, payable to the Trustee for the benefit of the bondholders, shall be maintained upon the building to the extent of the full insurable value thereof. Adequate "use and occupancy" insurance shall likewise be maintained, so as to provide for the payment of fixed charges, taxes, interest and principal upon the bonds in the event of the destruction of the building, and during the period in which the use of the building is lost.

A bondholders' policy of title insurance, in the amount of $1,000,000, certifying the title of the property free and clear of all encumbrances except this mortgage, will be issued by the City Title Insurance Company, San Francisco, California.

HISTORY. The Crystal Palace Public Market is the largest of its kind in California, and one of the largest in the United States. The success of the market, since its opening, January 1, 1923, has been remarkable, due primarily to its location in the heart of San Francisco, as well as to capable management.

Gross sales were over $10,000,000 in 1924, and current sales indicate that this figure will be largely exceeded in 1925. There are over 4000 linear feet of counter space in the market rented to seventy-eight merchant tenants, and there is a large waiting list of other merchants desiring space.

The property pledged under this mortgage is in the center of a rapidly growing commercial district. Values in this locality have increased to a greater degree during the past three years than in any other section of San Francisco. Geographically, the property is in the center of the city and adjoins the Civic Center, on which the people of San Francisco have spent approximately $16,000,000 in civic improvements. Directly opposite the Crystal Palace Public Market an office and theater building is being erected, which will represent an investment in excess of $3,000,000.

LEGALITY. All legal proceedings in connection with the issuance of these bonds will be approved by Messrs. Morrison, Hohfeld, Foerster, Shuman & Clark, of San Francisco, for the Underwriters, and John H. Riordan, Esq. for the Marian Realty Company.

The bonds are offered when, as, and if issued and received by us, subject to the approving opinion of counsel and the permission of the Honorable Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California.

THE INVESTOR

Use of Cosmetics in America Yields Handsome Business to Coty, Inc.—French Company Sells Through Subsidiary Having Sole Rights in United States Markets.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1925, the New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 18.—With the trend of large business enterprises to seek outside capital and a public market for their securities continually in evidence, there are also, from time t otime, new types of businesses springing up to broaden the investment field. One of the most interesting of the recent period is Coty, Inc., the world-renowned French perfumer, which a short time ago marketed a block of its capital stock.

The manufacture of perfumes and cosmetics has become a large and important industry in this country, and is growing with more than ordinary rapidity. In 1923, the latest year for which statistics are available, the total sales of such products, as reported by the Department of Commerce census of manufacturers, were $117,175,741. A considerable percentage of this vast business was done by Coty, Inc., which, as the leader of the industry, presents an interesting study for the investor.

POPULARITY GROWS

Founded in France in 1904 with very small capital, this modest little business needed only a part of the intervening twenty years to assume the most important position in its line. Its products were first sold in the United States in 1906, and their popularity increased so greatly that in 1922 an American company—Coty, Inc.—was founded to handle the business in the United States.

Its growth in recent years has been remarkable, sales in 1924 aggregating almost eight and one-half times the total of 1919. Net profits in 1923 were slightly above $1,000,000, and last year exceeded $2,000,000. The company has exclusive distributing rights for the United States of all present and future Coty products, as well as the sole right to the trade names and the trade-mark, "Coty," in this country, and, accordingly, the United States revenue laws prohibit the importation of its products through unauthorized channels. In such circumstances its business may be expected to increase not only through the broadening market for its present products, but also through the addition to its wares of new creations.

Its production consists of French perfumes, toilet waters, face powders, talcum powders and other cosmetics, and of these it sells a considerably greater volume than any of its French competitors. Its face powder has become a standard, in that it is consistently used by a great number of women. It thus holds a commanding position in this industry in the United States, and the quality of its products is acknowledged. It is the policy of the company to use only ingredients of the finest quality obtainable, which are blended and inspected with exceptional care.

PACKING DONE HERE

Unusual attention is given to containers and packing. Products and packing accessories are sent from the Paris laboratories, being imported in bulk into this country, to be assembled here. This work alone, however, is of such magnitude that it requires a vast modern laboratory and a staff of about 800 employees, many of whom, especially the department heads and chemists, are French. While thus remaining in its products and atmosphere essentially French, the business presents a practical adaptation to the requirements of American marketing.

The consistent large yearly increases in sales are evidence of the rapidly spreading popularity of Coty perfumes and cosmetics among American women. This popularity has been obtained, incidentally, without extensive advertising. Expenditures for such purpose during the last two years have averaged less than 6 per cent of sales, a small proportion for a product of this character, with national distribution. But increasing activity in that direction is contemplated. One of the unusual features of the business, and a favor that is of considerable advantage, lies in the fact that raw materials do not fluctuate greatly in cost, and selling prices, therefore, are not subject to frequent change.

The capitalization of the company consists of 309,300 shares, of no par value capital stock. It has no preferred stock and is without funded debt. Dividends are expected to be inaugurated shortly at a rate that will give the stock at current market prices a yield of about 10 per ment.

Wheat Climbs Higher; Little Change in Corn

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 18.—A bulge to 1.74¼ for May wheat here, the highest on the present upturn, and the best figure since March 13, put the local market out of line with the West and Northwest and resulted in purchases of 800,000 bushels of cash grain to arrive, Minneapolis selling 300,000 bushels, Kansas City, 150,000 bushels; Omaha, 100,000 bushels; St. Joseph, Mo., 10,000 bushels, and Leavenworth, Kan., 40,000 bushels. The market eased sharply on scattered selling, which found support lacking, and the close was at 1.69¼@1.69½, a net loss of 1⅝c. Winnipeg May showed further congestion and it closed at 1.89, a gain of 3⅝c, after selling at 1.94 in the early trading.

Commission houses had July wheat to sell on resting orders at 1.54 and again at 1.55, and after the visible supply was posted showing a reduction of 2,800,000 bushels, when the trade had anticipated over 3,000,000 bushels, profit taking developed and a break of over 3c followed. The finish was at 1.51¼@1.52, while September was 1.42¼@1.42½, net losses on the deferred deliveries being 1⅛@1⅝c. Corn was heavy and lost ⅛@1⅛c, with oats off ⅛@⅜c, while rye was 1c higher to ⅛c lower. May corn finished at 1.12, July at 1.14⅞@1.15 and September 1.13¼@1.13⅜.

Lecount was out with a summary of conditions observed in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which the trade construed as unfavorable, and Cromwell issued a statement covering part of Kansas, which suggested that the new winter wheat crop in that territory was deteriorating. Reports of this character, combined with the strength in the May, led to fair buying of the deferred deliveries, and the advance to the high point. Houses with eastern connections sold September rather freely, and with profit taking in the July caused the reaction and easy close. At the last the July-September spread widened out to around 9½c, compared with 7c recently.

Export demand at the seaboard was only fair, with sales of 400,000 to 500,000 bushels, mainly Duluth springs, the late break catching some orders. Liverpool closed 2⅛@4⅛d higher, coming better than expected, although the supply on ocean passage decreased only 3,448,000 bushels for the week, and is 43,624,000 bushels, against 72,704,000 bushels last year. The domestic visible supply is now 40,894,000 bushels, against 46,744,000 bushels last year. Freezing temperatures were said to have done a little damage in the Canadian Northwest recently, but the forecast was for warmer weather over the entire belt.

Local sentiment remains distinctly bearish on corn, and the undertone was heavy throughout the day, the finish being at the bottom. Trade in the aggregate was light. No. 2 yellow on spot was off ⅝c, as compared with the price bid at the close on Saturday, with sales at 4c over the May. The visible supply decreased 1,678,000 bushels, and is 19,582,000 bushels, against 15,466,000 bushels last year. Oats followed corn and closed easy. Local handlers sold 400,000 bushels to exporters, and 200,000 bushels to the domestic trade. A decrease of 3,882,000 bushels in the visible supply made the total 40,125,000 bushels, against 8,903,000 bushels last year.

A sharp advance in hog prices had some effect on provisions early, but New York interests sold lard and made an easy close, with net losses of 5@15c. Ribs were 13c lower to 5c higher, and bellies 20@23c higher.

INVESTMENT FEATURES

As summarized by Mr. Herbert L. Robards, Secretary of the Company, in a letter to us, which is now in our files.

THE COMPANY

The Miami City Power and Water Company, with its predecessor, has served the City of Miami, Arizona, with water, light and power continually since 1911.

SECURITY

The loan of $350,000 is secured by first closed mortgage on all of the real and personal property of the Miami City Power and Water Company, including water rights, reservoirs, pumping plants, distributing mains, electric generating plant, equipment, power and light distributing lines, easements and rights of way, appraised by Mr. A. B. Waddingham, Consulting Engineer, Los Angeles, at a depreciated replacement value of $599,129.61.

The Company has leased its property to the municipality of Miami for a period of ten (10) years at an average net rental of $68,425.00 per year, and this lease has been assigned to the Trustee as additional security for the bondholders.

EARNINGS

The annual net rental, which the municipality of Miami has covenanted to pay to the Company in equal monthly installments, is in excess of three times the maximum annual interest requirements on this issue. Earnings for the last three (3) years have been in excess of $55,000 per annum, or more than twice the maximum annual interest charge on this issue.

LEASE AND OPTION

The municipality of Miami has entered into an irrevocable contract to lease and operate the entire property of the Company for a period of ten (10) years from May 1st, 1925, at annual rentals payable, in equal monthly installments, as follows:

First year	$79,000.00	Sixth year	$67,250.00
Second "	76,650.00	Seventh "	64,900.00
Third "	74,300.00	Eighth "	62,550.00
Fourth "	71,950.00	Ninth "	60,200.00
Fifth "	69,600.00	Tenth "	57,050.00

The lease further provides that the municipality of Miami shall maintain the property in a high state of efficiency, including repairs, extensions, betterments and replacements, at its own expense, and in turn has an option to purchase the property outright. In case the option is exercised, all outstanding bonds must be retired at 105.

CITY OF MIAMI

The City of Miami lies in the center of Arizona's richest copper district, with a present population in excess of 10,000 inhabitants. The assessment roll for 1924 shows a value of $3,392,711.

The Miami Copper Company, the Inspiration Consolidated Copper Company and the International Smelting Company, which are all located within a radius of a mile of Miami, employ approximately 4500 men, with an annual payroll in excess of $8,000,000. The assessed valuation of these three properties alone is $69,470,203. The huge low grade ore bodies already blocked out insure a long life to this district. The Miami Copper Company is spending about $1,000,000 for improvements this year and the Inspiration Consolidated Copper Company is constructing a new leaching plant at an estimated cost of $6,000,000.

The municipality has shown a steady and stable growth for the last fifteen years. Livestock raising is the principal industry for the surrounding country, about 5000 head being grazed in the immediate vicinity.

The present bonded indebtedness of the municipality is $485,000, less $144,000 gas plant bonds; net debt, $341,000. Bank clearings for the last year were nearly $14,000,000.

LEGALITY

All legal proceedings in connection with the creation and issuance of these bonds will have the approval of Messrs. O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller & Macneil, Attorneys.

High Priced Specialties in Spectacular Gains

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—The bull movement in stock prices today entered upon its third consecutive week; continuance of easy money rates, hardening of commodity prices and increased indications of trade expansion furnished the groundwork for the advance.

Two score issues were lifted to new peak prices for the year with public utilities and motors governing the best demands of the group strength. High-priced specialties again recorded the most spectacular gains. Nash Motors soared 21 1-2 points to 397, a new record price and more than 200 points above the year's low. Mack Trucks soared nearly 9 points to a new top figure of 173 3-4.

UTILITIES IN DEMAND

With the public imagination fired by rumors of new super-power projects and reports of high current earnings by the principal power and light companies, public utilities were in brisk demand. American Water Works continued its remarkable advance by moving up 3 points to a new high record at 62 1-2, closing near the top. Detroit Edison, Electric Power and Light certificates, Brooklyn Edison, and All-American Cables also bettered their previous 1925 high prices.

Rumors of an early increase in Pennsylvania crude prices stimulated activity in the oil shares during the afternoon, Associatetd Oil standing out by climbing 3 points to a new 1925 high at 40. Houston closed nearly 3 points higher at 65 7-8 and net gains of a point or so were recorded by the Pan-American issues, Pierce Oil preferred, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Tidewater.

COCA COLA UP

Certainteed Products crossed 49 to a new high in anticipation of early resumption of dividends. Other specialties for which there was good demand were Marlan, Rockwell, Motor Wheel Corporation, Art Loom Corporation, Crex Carpet, Famous Players common and preferred, Coca Cola, Union Bag and Paper, Advance Rumley preferred, Mathieson Alkali, DuPont, Ward Baking "A" and Van Raalte Silk, all of which attained new maximum prices for the year.

Activity in the rails was confined to a relatively small number of issues. The St. Paul issues held firm despite the announcement that the Interstate Commerce Commission had ordered an investigation of the receivership proceedings.

Call money held steady at 3 3-4 per cent. The time money market was slightly easier, sixty to ninety-day funds being quoted on a flat 3 3-4 per cent basis and the longer dates at 4 per cent. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

The foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits. Demand sterling held firm above 4.85, but French francs were slightly easier around 5.18 1-2 cents.

Argentine exchange touched a new high on the current movement at 39.80 cents.

Level of Commodity Prices Strikes Lowest Point in Three Years—Recessions Well Distributed Over Wide List of Products—Balance Better.

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 18.—Straws showing the drift of commodity prices have appeared in the news for weeks, but the publication of the Bureau of Labor Statistics index gives us the first authoritative and comprehensive record of what happened in April. The significance of the government's compilation is that it pictures the general price level in perspective. Each item of the tabulation, which includes both raw materials and finished goods, is weighted according to its importance. Otherwise, a sharp rise in pepper, for example, would offset a decline in wheat. What is there to learn from the April computation?

APRIL DROP SHARPEST

The decline of 3.2 per cent in April was the severest reaction in the Bureau of Labor Statistic index for any month since 1921, when prices, following the inflation boom of 1920, were on their way down. More sensitive indices, being under the influence of particular raw materials, often have varied as much as that in a single month. Such a drop for the government compilation, however, comes so seldom as to be significant.

It means that commodity prices have been falling fast. The general level of prices, taking the prewar (1913) average as 100, stood at 161 in March. The April figure is 156. Recessions, moreover, have not been confined to any one department. All of the more important major groups carried in the bureau's compilation worked into lower ground during April. The most pronounced recessions appeared in the farm products, food, fuel and lighting, metal and metal products and the clothing groups.

BALANCE IMPROVING

The significant thing from the standpoint of the business man and householder is that relations within the price family are very much more cordial, if we may say so, than they were a year ago. We need go back scarcely a year to find a time when farm products were commanding only 34 per cent more than before the war, although things that the farmer buys were selling very much higher relatively. Building materials a year ago were selling at 81 per cent above prewar levels. But farm products have risen and building materials have fallen. Farm products stand now at 153 as against 134, and building materials 174 against 181. Disparities still exist, but the tendency is toward a better and better balance as between the different price groups.

That these maladjustments in the past have done more to retard progress than the movement of the averages, must be clear, both from logic and experience. Correction of the disparity in agricultural prices is really what started our trade revival last autumn. Such relief would not have come if all groups had moved forward together.

The general level of prices today is substantially higher than it was a year ago. Notwithstanding the fact we are now in better position to make profits, maintain happiness and look into the future, confident that it will bring good things. The reason is not hard to find. It is simply that the peaks of the price level have been lowered somewhat and the valleys have been raised.

In Honolulu, Hawaii, during a recent month, 531 automobiles were purchased.

OBVIOUS

YOU know that improved, well-located real estate is the most desirable form of security.

You know that a conservative first mortgage on such property is just about the safest kind of an investment obtainable.

It is obvious, therefore, that a group of diversified first mortgages, secured by improved and income-producing properties in growing communities, said properties having low appraisal valuations of more than double the amount of the mortgages, constitutes the soundest security that it is possible to provide.

Our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates represent actual pro rata ownership of a group or series of exactly such mortgages and, moreover, are guaranteed by this institution, under the California Mortgage Insurance Law, as to both principal and interest.

RAPID CLIMB IN RAW RUBBER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 18.—The resumption of the rapid upward climb in raw rubber prices over the week-end resulting in quotations for ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery in New York advancing to 70 cents a pound today against 61 cents on Friday, is causing considerable apprehension in the trade. The price advance is the result of continued record-breaking consumption of rubber in this country, not only by the tire, but other manufacturing industries and the restrictions on shipments imposed by the Stevenson Act in the British rubber-growing colonies.

Today's price of 70 cents for ribbed smoked seets compares with 18 cents a year ago and 44 1-4 cents a month ago. The stocks of spot rubber in London have been decreasing steadily. The decline in stocks last week, according to cable advices today was around 2,250,000 tons, leaving but 7736 tons in hand there.

The strong advance in rubber prices is bearing heavily on the smaller tire manufacturers, according to reports and has cut into the profits of the larger manufacturers to some extent. Under the terms of the Stevenson Act, the amount of crude rubber shipments cannot be increased until the end of July. There is no relief in sight for the American tire manufacturers until that time. It is confidently expected that tire prices will be advanced, erhas sharly, on June 1. It si pointed out that tire prices, prior to the 5 to 10 per cent advance on May 1, which did not affect balloon tires, were based on crude rubber at 20 to 25 cents a pound. Rubber now going into tires is said to average around 52½ cents a pound.

Until recently there was a large overproduction of tires, due to the great number of small manufacturers entering the field. The larger producers would like to see these smaller manufacturers weeded out and they may hold price advances to smaller than justifiable figures in order to squeeze the smaller fellows. At the same time the bigger producers have not been making profits that would encourage the taking of large losses now in order to force the smaller makers out of the game.

Ribbed smoked sheets spot, 70 cents; June, 68; July-September, 65 1-4.

First latex crepe spot, 68½ cents; June, 66½; July-September, 64.

Clean thin brown, 69 cents.

No. 2 amber, 69 cents.

Upriver fine Para, 60 cents.

Western Pacific Reports Gain in Freight Revenue

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The annual report of the Western Pacific Railroad Company, issued today by President Charles M. Levy, covering operations for the year ending December 31, 1924, is encouraging. Although it does not reveal exceptional earnings, the fact that the company was able to meet interest requirements and add a fair sum to surplus, is satisfactory in the face of the poor conditions that all western railroads faced during the year past.

While passenger business dropped off 14.11 per cent, mail revenue was 4.99 per cent lower and express business netted 2.28 per cent less than the previous year. Freight business increased 4.38 per cent and miscellaneous revenues were 19.14 per cent heavier than 1923, making net operating revenues for the year 1.64 per cent better than the previous year.

The company paid four dividends aggregating 6 per cent on its preferred capital stock, totaling $1,650,000 from the surplus account, but made no return to common stockholders during the year. Net corporate income for the year amounted to $1,329,264.68, which was slightly less than the dividend requirement.

Operating expenses were $11,477,664.53, as against $10,663,711 in 1923, or an increase of 7.63 per cent over the previous year. This unfavorable part of the report is due to the preparation by the company of repaired track in Nevada for additional traffic, incident to joint operation with the Southern Pacific, which will bring a much larger revenue to the company in the future.

WOOL MARKET FIRMER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, May 18.—Trading on the wool market opened today on a little firmer basis. The tendency was to hold firm in place of considering lower offers. Scoured wools in particular were fairly active. A sizable amount of this stock has moved to the woolen mills. Some houses that have been selling in limited quantities are taking on additional supplies, both foreign and domestic.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE: Fairly active demand developed for yesterday's moderate supply and a fair clearance was made. The better grades of both she stock and steers sold readily at fully steady prices, with spots showing some strength, while the plainer kinds were slower to move and barely held steady. The price spread of 8.00 to 8.60 took in the bulk of steer offerings, practically all being California grassers and Imperial Valley offerings, while a short load of grassers, 20 head averaging 1246 pounds, topped for the day at 9.00. Plainer kinds were most numerous from 6.00 to 7.50.

Load lots of fat cows topped at 6.85, with a small lot at 7.00, while the bulk of she stock cashed from 5.00 to 6.60, mostly 5.75 to 6.35. Canners and cutters held steady, the bulk going over from 2.00 to 3.75. Bulls sold readily at fully steady values, most bolognas clearing from 4.25 to 5.00, while beef bulls were most numerous around 5.25, with a few thin canner bolognas downward to 3.25.

CALVES: Fairly broad demand existed for yesterday's small supply of good and choice vealers and prices advanced generally 25 to 50 cents. However, the plainer kinds, comprising the bulk, were slow to move at about steady values. The price spread of 10.00@12.25 took in the bulk of 110 to 240-pound vealers, with odd head as high as 13.00. Common kinds and over-weights turned largely from 5.00 to 8.00.

HOGS: Moderately active demand developed for yesterday's supply, and with sharp advances at the Middle Western markets, prices locally advanced sharply, with the close being the high point for the day. Values were generally 25 to 50 cents higher than last week's close. The bulk of desirable weight butchers, 155 to 200-pound weights, cleared from 13.40 to 13.60, four loads topping for the day at the latter price. Mixed offerings in a small way sold downward to 13.00, with a few pigs downward to 12.50. Packing sows held about steady, the bulk going over from 11.75 to 12.00.

SHEEP: Yesterday's supply consisted of a deck and a half of lambs held over from last week. These averaged 73 to 74 pounds and cleared for 9.50 and 10.00, respectively, going out for feeding purposes. A small lot sorted out of these, averaging 77 pounds, went to a slaughterer at 12.00.

COTTON IS STRONGER NEAR CLOSE

Liverpool Futures Close Steady With Best Prices of the Session

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 18.—The market sold off about 15 to 25 points in the early trading today from Saturday's closing with May going down to 21.97; July, 22.03; October, 21.77; December, 21.95, and January, 21.64. This was due to the pressure of scattered local and outside liquidation mostly on the continued fine weather prevailing throughout the cotton belt for the present crop conditions and also to some reports current over the week-end from Charlotte concerning the probability of some of the mills in that section adopting some curtailment of production.

There was also some southern selling and occasional pressure from the trading element that has been working for lower prices lately on the prospect of the government's first crop report of the season due June 2, for the May 25 condition, being as good as around 80 per cent, against 87 per cent last year.

This selling met with a renewal of trade buying on the decline and also by some of the Wall street commission-houses, the market turning upward on some covering of shorts. This rally was assisted by some of the few remaining bulls. It extended to 5 and 10 points over Saturday's closing for the general list before 2 o'clock under the lead of May, which went up to about 22.30, with July selling at 22.34, October 22.06, December 22.28 and January going over 21.90.

"My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it relieved me of this condition. And since I married I have taken the 'Favorite Prescription' as a tonic to build me up whenever in a run down and weakened state, as when my nerves were bad, and it has always been very beneficial. Tortured for years by varicose veins
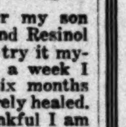
Trouble entirely healed by Resinol



Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23:—"I had suffered from varicose veins for 2½ years and had doctored continuously without results as I could not keep off my feet. The pain was so great that I could not sleep and I cried at night until I was completely exhausted. My hair was turning gray and I thought I would lose my mind. Last summer my son had a sore on his chin and Resinol healed it, so I decided to try it myself. In little less than a week I obtained relief and in six months time the trouble was entirely healed. I cannot tell you how thankful I am—I am the happiest woman in the world and I owe it all to Resinol." (Signed) Mrs. Gussie Newman, 2424 Orchard St.

Lift Out Your Corns

ICE-MINT
THE NEW DISCOVERY ENDS ALL
Foot Troubles

This new discovery, made from a Japanese product, is certainly a wonder the way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen, burning, aching feet. It takes the soreness right out, then the corn or callous shrivels and lifts off.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful. Just think! Not one bit of pain while applying Ice-mint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

You will never have to cut a corn again and run the risk of blood poison. Say good-by to your old corn salve, plasters and bundling tape for that pet corn of yours is sure to be a "goner" if it ever feels the magic touch of Ice-mint.

It imparts such a delightful, soothing, cooling feeling to the feet that you will sigh with relief.

Ice-mint is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet. It prevents foot odors and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, swollen feet the treat of their lives. It costs little and there is nothing better.—[Advertisement.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Honestly, you do not want your burdens to be lightened. What you crave in your heart of hearts is strength and endurance to bear the strain and heat of the day that you may not stumble nor fall but go triumphantly forward.

That power is yours for the taking. It is within your grasp the moment you see your life as a splendid adventure to be fulfilled in His strength and then open your heart to receive it.

"WIDDERS" HIT BACK

Protective League to Mark End of Human Sharks

The sun has about set upon the palmy days of local swindlers, promoters of mythical oil wells, and other forms of the human sharks who prey upon "poor widders," if the plans of the Widows' Protective League succeed.

The proposal to form a mutual protection league for widows in and around Los Angeles was announced yesterday by Mrs. Lillian Pascal Day, a widow and writer of fiction. The first organization meeting of the league will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at 1540 North St. Andrews Place, Hollywood. All widows are invited to attend. This is to be a nonprofit mutual-protection organization, Mrs. Day said.

The purpose of the league, Mrs. Day explained, is to afford mutual protection to all members of the league against all forms of financial imposition the average widow seems to fall heir to along with the estate left by her husband. This includes not only various forms of bunko schemes, but also "strong-arm" real-estate quacks and bad debts, both from the point of view of collecting and preventing them.

The league will have in its employ attorneys competent to give necessary advice on legitimate matters brought before them by league members.

Membership in the league is open not only to "sod" widows, but to "grass" ones as well, Mrs. Day said. In the matter of the "grass" widow, however, the league will in no way undertake problems connected with the obtaining or collection of alimony. "Our purpose is to protect the money the widow has in her pocketbook," said Mrs. Day. Alimony, she pointed out, is a matter for the courts to handle, and domestic relations are outside of the realm of the league.

The league emblem is to be a pair of outspread Egyptian wings with the letter W.P.L. embossed.

Warner Chiefs to Leave Today for New York

The Warner Brothers executives, including Harry Warner, Albert Warner, Meyer Lesser, Sam Morris and Herman Starr, will leave this morning for New York, where they will carry out the policies decided upon at the four-day Warner convention which came to a close here Saturday evening.

The exchange managers from all parts of the United States and Canada left for their respective cities yesterday morning.

It was also decided that Los Angeles would be the meeting place each year to discuss plans for the coming year's schedule of business. The Warner studios and their six companies in active production also gave the visitors an idea of how their product is to look.

The departure of the New York executives leaves Jack Warner and his associate, Bennie Zeidman, in direct charge of the western studio and the pictures to be made during the coming year. The others of the Warner Brothers will make their headquarters in New York.

COUNCILMEN SUGGEST MEN FOR RIVER BOARD

The City Council yesterday in a resolution introduced by Councilman Criswell urged the Speaker of the State Assembly to appoint on the Colorado River legislative committee representatives of Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. These appointments relate to positions on the committee to be filled from the State Assembly.

"Universal must have a fair outlet for its productions and in many cities this outlet was practically unobtainable. From now on Universal will steadily expand, it is the only recourse we have—the exhibiting field."

The price paid for the Hostettler circuit was not made public.

Hostettler brothers entered the moving-picture business with one house in Wayne, Neb., seven years ago. Since that time their holdings have grown to seventy-two theaters in three States. One year ago they sold a portion of the group and now have disposed of the remaining houses. They will retire from business, it is said, and will make their future home in Los Angeles.

Among the holdings just sold to Universal are five theaters in St. Joseph, Mo., three in Hastings, Neb., two in Marshalltown, Iowa, three in Norfolk, Neb., two in Fremont, Neb., three in Kearney, Neb., three in Grand Island, Neb., two in Missouri Valley, Iowa, and the others scattered in different towns.

E. C. and P. W. Quinby Are Behind Enterprise

Terra Cotta Structure to Soar at Grand Corner

Work Expected to Begin Early in December

A $600,000, limit-height, terra cotta-faced office and store building will be erected at the northeast corner of Seventh street and Grand avenue. It will be thirteen stories high and will be of reinforced concrete. Work will begin shortly after December 1, when present store leases on the site expire, and the building will be ready for occupancy by August, 1926.

Two hundred and fifty offices and a number of ground floor, street-entrance storerooms will be arranged to suit convenience of tenants. The finest high-speed elevators procurable, it is announced, will be installed to care amply for maximum demands. Every usual and some unusual conveniences in office buildings will be installed in the structure.

The building is to be erected for E. C. and P. W. Quinby of the Quinby Corporation, securities and investment dealers. The designing, engineering and construction of the building is being handled by Meyer & Holler. W. M. Garland & Co., will have charge of renting and operation.

A one-story market building now occupies the site and a number of stalls are in operation there. The site has a sixty-foot frontage on Seventh street and lies 110 feet along Grand avenue.

The Quinbys have a ninety-nine-year lease on the real estate.

HORSEMEN COMING FOR CONCLAVE

Kansas City's Mounted Guard Will be Feature of Shrine Event

Ararat Temple of Kansas City, Mo., the capital of the Imperial Potentate, sent word to Shrine headquarters here yesterday that it will bring to Los Angeles for the Imperial Conclave next month, together with its patrol, band and chanters, the only mounted guard in the order, organized last July, accepted by the Imperial Divan in September and now about to make its first Imperial appearance.

Each of the thirty-four horses is the personal property of the rider, who backs him and helps his owner earn his livelihood in the Kansas City stockyards.

Horses of unusual intelligence and alertness are required for work in the stockyards and it is said these of the Ararat guard are more than the property of their owners—that they are their friends. They will travel in a special box car and will be as carefully attended as their masters riding in the all-Pullman special of the Temple. Two veterinarians, both guardsmen and members of the Temple, will be on watch.

All guard riders wear Bedouin costumes and the horses have Arab names, ranging from Abou to Zorah. Illustrious Potentate B. J. Pierce will ride a coal black gelding named Ararat and Capt. Al Coffman, commanding the guard, will ride Malaikah, named for the Los Angeles Temple.

Wife of Mayor is Resting Well After Operation

Mrs. Isabel Cryer, wife of Mayor Cryer, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis at the Westlake Hospital, and she was reported last night as "resting comfortably and doing nicely." The operation was performed by Dr. Clarence Moore.

Mayor Cryer visited the hospital several times yesterday to assure himself of his wife's condition. The Mayor said that the X-ray showed that an operation was necessary and that Dr. Moore said that it would be best to have it while Mrs. Cryer was strong and before the condition of the appendix became worse.

Mrs. Cryer is expected to be able to leave the hospital in ten days.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frances Neth, a program of songs and addresses will be given for members of the Girls' Corner Club, following the dinner at 6 p.m. today at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Among the entertainers will be Charles Rykart, basso, Mrs. Guy Bush, who will read original poems, Clinton Holt, 6-year-old impersonator, and James M. Warnack, "Foothill Philosopher" of The Times, who will speak on "Preparation."

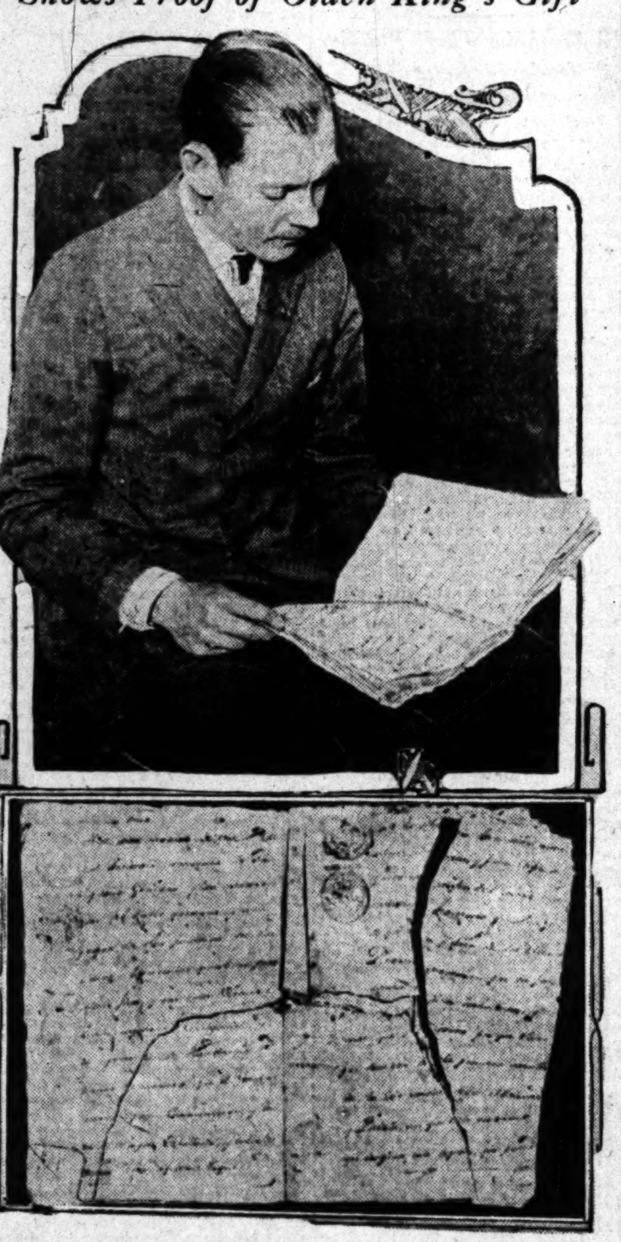
Shows Proof of Olden King's Gift



Claims Ten Thousand Acres

Above—Capt Juan R. Fernandez Terrazas examining Spanish land grant which he says entitles him to huge estate. Below is the document.

RECOVERS VALUABLE FOLIO

Mexican Here to Establish Right, Through Land Grant to Many Acres in Chihuahua and Texas

Capt. Juan R. Fernandez Terrazas upon his arrival here yesterday made known his recovery of a document, lost two years ago, entitling him, he believes, to a Spanish land grant of 10,000 acres in Chihuahua and Texas.

If you had lost a documentary 10,000 acres of land, now worth millions, and then found the acres again—only so could you appreciate the felicitous state of Capt. Juan R. Fernandez Terrazas of Chihuahua, Mex.

Capt. Fernandez (he explains that his mother was of the noted Terrazas family of Chihuahua) comes by the document by lineal rights down from his paternal great-grandfather, who got the 10,000 acres from Fernando VI back in 1755. Its ancient Spanish in faded ink relates full proof, he believes, that he is the real owner of the vast tract that once was his great-grandfather's hacienda. It is, he says, the original and entire Chamizal district which is only known in modern history as the Chamizal Zone case, in which Mexico claims a few city blocks of the Mexican quarter of El Paso, Tex., which the international commissions have failed to decide. This piece of El Paso, plus a piece of the city of Juarez, plus vast tracts of the fertile plains of Chihuahua, are his, he says—so long as he can keep the proof.

OLD GRANT HANDED DOWN

The Fernandez family left their property during the Mexican war of independence and their land was resettled by the present owners or their descendants. In these years the Rio Bravo, or Rio Grande as it is now known, having become less brave if not more grand, has changed her course, leaving, Mexico claims, a

RULING ON CHAPLIN'S SUIT TODAY

Extent of Charlie's Right to Character Part to be Defined for World

The extent of Charles Chaplin's proprietary interest in the whimsical, wistful character he created, will be defined to the world today. Judge Hudner yesterday announced that at 10 o'clock this morning he will render his decision in the famous suit of Chaplin vs. Aplin.

At the time of its trial several months ago this case attracted much attention, because of the fame of the plaintiff and the interest of stage and film people in the questions involved.

Chaplin sued to restrain Charles Amador from appearing in pictures under the name of Charles Aplin and in the character and costume that Chaplin asserted he had made famous. Amador's defense was that all of the details of Chaplin's characterization were "old stuff" and the common property of players the world over.

Chaplin pointed out that it was the ensemble, the character itself, he wished to protect from imitation and so involved were the arguments of each side that Judge Hudner has been pondering the question ever since. Lloyd Wright, counsel for Chaplin, and Attorneys Ben Goldman and Isador Morris, for Amador, are scheduled to be in court this morning to receive the judgment.

Rotary Type of Incinerator to be Given Trial

The purchase for $5000 of a rotary incinerator to demonstrate its value in burning city rubbish was recommended to the Board of Public Works yesterday by City Engineer Van Norman and the recommendation was approved by the board and sent to the City Council. After investigating in the East all types of rubbish incinerators used by cities in disposing of municipal rubbish, the City Engineer has reached the conclusion that a number of rotary kilns can be purchased and installed at a low cost and make unnecessary the building of a large, expensive incinerator plant. One of the rotary type can be purchased and installed for $5000. The City Engineer is convinced that it will demonstrate the value of this low-cost method of disposing of street sweepings and other rubbish.

OFFICER, CALL THE BEE DROVER!

Pasadena Traffic Jazzed Up as Cop Emulates Gyrations of Band Leader When Swarming Insects Hit Him; He Has His Job Cut Out for Him Today, Too

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 19.—The famous bee drover of "Lightnin'" could have named his own price for a while had he been in Pasadena this afternoon.

Eight million, more or less, of the insects noted particularly for their industry, decided to swarm at 4 p.m. at Colorado street and Raymond avenue. They also decided to swarm around Traffic Officer Walker, who was in the center of the intersection, busy trying to enforce Pasadena's new jaywalking ordinance and take care of automobile traffic at the same time.

Walker waved his arms in signals that bore no relation whatever to the Pasadena traffic ordinance, and in less than three ticks of his wrist watch, drivers, trying to obey what he seemed to be ordering, had traffic in the worst snarl of a generation. Walker, stung several times, beat it for a corner drug store for relief, and the bees made for a nice red fire siren on the corner, used to give notice that the fire engines are coming. They settled upon this, that is, most of them did, but strays circled around and stung several pedestrians.

The fire department was notified and blew the siren vigorously, whereupon the bees departed in some indignation, and tried to swarm on a trolley wire in the center of the street. Several passing trolleys stirred them up and the bees at last gave that up and settled on an electric light pole on the corner, where they spent the night.

So there may be another job today for the man who was able to conduct a bee swarm from Chicago to Omaha without losing a bee.

SUMMER INFLUX TO CITY STARTS

First Day of Excursion Rates Brings 3000 Tourists

Continuous Flood Expected to Set Banner Year

Attitude of Easterners Said to Insure Growth

Loaded to capacity, crack trains of the Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, the first run since the initiation of summer rates in the East the 15th inst., the forerunners of a horde of summer tourists into the city. From every section of the country the people came, more than 3000 of them.

Railroad officials yesterday expressed extreme optimism over travel prospects this summer, saying this year with the many conventions scheduled will witness the biggest influx in numbers ever experienced in this section. The next few days, starting today, will be heavy in tourist arrivals, it was said, and then it will stabilize until the first of June, when the real summer rush begins.

The Santa Fe brought the two regular sections of the California Limited yesterday, in addition to other transcontinental trains, while the Union Pacific station accommodated capacity loads from both the Los Angeles Limited and the Continental Limited. Extra cars and equipment also featured the arrival of the Southern Pacific trains yesterday.

4000 ON WAY

Four sections of the California Limited will arrive today at ten-minute intervals, the first rolling in at 2 o'clock. The Navajo, which will arrive tomorrow morning, is reported to be filled to capacity, while the No. 21 Missionary from Chicago, Texas and New Orleans, due at 6:15 p.m., also is bringing a large load.

The Union Pacific Los Angeles Limited will also come in two sections. All the trains are carrying extra cars and equipment.

During the first four days of the present rush more than 4000 tourists were reported to have departed for Los Angeles in the East, James B. Duffy, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe, said yesterday. To accommodate this influx, it was said, three sections will come into the Santa Fe depot tomorrow, four sections Thursday and three on Friday. At least 1000 tourists arrived over the Southern Pacific yesterday.

Both Fred E. Watson, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, and L. M. Brown, assistant passenger agent of the Union Pacific, were enthusiastic over the season's tourist prospects yesterday and stated the railroads, seeing this as a banner year, had taken extra precautions for the traffic.

NO FEAR FOR GROWTH

Commenting upon eastern arrivals yesterday, N. R. Powley, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, who returned after a month's tour of the East, said the railroads there were planning to handle a tremendous travel westward and that trains of five sections were being made up to handle the crowds at the opening of the summer rates as he left Chicago.

"Everywhere I went," Mr. Powley said, "I was impressed by the fact that Los Angeles need have no fear about its continued growth, as there is more evidence of a steady influx than at any time since just after the war. The majority of inquiries were directed at the industrial possibilities of Los Angeles, so we should cease concerning ourselves about population influx and concentrate our energy preparing for great industrial expansion. Our loyalty and teamwork was commented on everywhere and our constructive movements proved drawing cards for industrial expansion.

"The telephone company's faith in the continued growth of Los Angeles is doubly assured and our program for this year of more than $17,000,000 will go forward without a hitch."

COURT DEFERS HEARING

The hearing on the application for probation made by Johanna Cronin was deferred by Judge Hardy of the Superior Court yesterday until the 25th inst. The elderly woman, it is charged, induced Mrs. Rose Bunning to give her $5000 for investment in some mining stock and then kept the money and used it in the purchase of a mud-bath establishment.

AL JOLSON ENTERTAINS ON ARRIVAL

Comedian Breaks Promise to Save His Voice When World Liner Docks

Al Jolson, fun-maker, yesterday broke his promise not to use his voice again until next September—when he reopens "Big Boy" in New York — by singing his own "California here I come," as the Dollar liner President Adams docked at the harbor from New York. It was the first time he has used his voice in singing since his breakdown on Broadway two months ago.

AL JOLSON

As the around-the-world liner warped up to her berth the crowd on hand to greet the ship met Al with "Let's hear it again, Al!" He shook his head and pointed to his crippled larynx but the applause was so sustained that he changed his mind.

He was forced to repeat the entire song twice. The famous voice brought hundreds of longshoremen and stevedores out of the huge Union Pacific terminal for the impromptu concert and their yells of applause were drowned out by the acknowledgement of a half-dozen near-by steamer whistles as he finished.

Al said he is out here for two months of play before he reopens "Big Boy."

The President Adams entered port with the Catalina Channel a perfect turquoise blue under a cloudless sky. Catalina, twenty-five miles distant appeared a stone's throw.

The President Adams will sail this afternoon for the Orient on her sixth world tour after taking on two-score passengers and 2000 tons of Southern California products.

PORT BOARD CONSIDERS LAND OFFER

Commissioners Expected to Put Counter Preposal to Union Pacific

The Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday took under advisement the proposal of the Union Pacific Railroad to give the city fifty-four acres of land providing the city will develop Slips 1, 2, 3 and 4 on the east basin at Los Angeles Harbor. Cost of the development would amount to approximately $8,000,000, it is said.

The acreage offered to the city is what is known as the Consolidated Lumber Company lands.

It is understood that the board will present to the railroad a counter proposition, a better offer than the Union Pacific proposal having been made.

The board also appointed President Colden, Traffic Manager Sandberg and Harbor Engineer Nicholson to attend as representatives of the board a meeting of the State Railroad Commission today at which time the request by the Santa Fe for a permit for a temporary grade crossing on Anaheim Boulevard in Wilmington comes up. If granted, the grade crossing would enable the railroad to enter the outer harbor at an early date.

BOARD REJECTS ESPEE SPUR TRACK REQUEST

In the interests of public safety the State Railroad Commission announced yesterday that the application of the Southern Pacific for authority to construct a spur track across San Fernando Road in Glendale has been denied. While the danger that might arise from this crossing would not be great, the commission pointed out that it would establish a precedent. San Fernando Road is designated by the commisison as one of the major traffic arteries of the State. At present there is but one spur track across the street to the industrial district of Glendale, and it is intimated that action may be taken by the commission to revoke the franchise for this crossing. The crossing denied yesterday would have served the Glendale Lumber Company, located on San Fernando Road, between California avenue and Milford street.

Stories of Music

FOR MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST of the LOS ANGELES PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Los Angeles Elementary Schools are preparing a remarkable music memory contest conducted by the Department of Music, under Kathryn E. Stone, supervisor, to take place the 19th and 20th inst., at Manual Arts High School. Through the courtesy of the Fitzgerald Music Company, KHJ radio station of The Times, will broadcast each afternoon from 5 to 5:30 seven selections included in the contest with a story in connection with them.

It was with much regret that the "little friends of music" and we of KHJ played our final game of memory yesterday. Among the selections discussed were "Intermezzo" from Midsummer Night's Dream, music by Mendelssohn, "Peer Gynt Suite," by Grieg, "Volga Boat Song" and numbers from "Aida," by Verdi.

And now it is the morning of the nineteenth and the hearts of the "Young Crusaders" are beating high with hope of the results of the contest of today and tomorrow. Carry with you thoughts of responsibility toward your task and gratitude for the privilege of performing it. Just think, if every school child in Los Angeles could attain 100 per cent in the music memory contest, it would mean that the success of fine music in our concert halls and over our radios was absolutely assured for the Los Angeles of tomorrow.

As for gratitude, if you will read the history of the young lives of great musicians and how they had to fight and struggle to hear good music, to choose between food and a ticket to hear some artist, and then realize that your city is willing and eager to feed you the very finest musical literature without any cost save loving recognition on your part, a sense of gratitude cannot fail to be with you.

Therefore, dear little friends, go to your contest today without any nervousness or fear of the result, rather glorying in the new beauty of response which fills your heart as you listen to the records.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

I FEEL impelled to write an open letter to the women of America.

The impulse rises from many letters I get; from many conversations that I have. This is the letter:

LOVE-SICK HUSBANDS

"Dear Ladies:

"My gosh; you certainly have got them where you want them.

"I hear much talk about divorce; but I hear much more of something else. Every time one of your husbands talks about you, he becomes so mushy that he embarrasses me.

"The final verdict on all that relates to human wisdom—and to the mysteries of life and death—is this: 'Well, m' wife, she says.' And that settles it. The great SHE has spoken.

"They bring me your punk little verses; they unroll them with a sort of awe as though they were producing a lost manuscript of Milton.

"The older they get—and you get—the worse. They get further under every year. When you were 20 you were a darn good-looking gal. Now that you are 40, the Venus of Milo is a pie-faced old scarecrow by comparison.

"My prayers are with you: I hope they never wake up. As an animal tamer, you are a peach."

AN ALARMED ORATOR

A public speaker in Los Angeles predicts another world war in three years.

I think he is too impetuous. Also I do not in any way agree with the conclusion that France and Germany are in danger of getting into another war. When war comes it will come from a different quarter, and for another reason.

AWAITING A NAPOLEON

Revolutions seems to run a regular and regulated course.

They begin with a mad scramble; they terminate in a triumvirate. In order to rule at all, this triumvirate always becomes more tyrannical than the overthrown monarchy. The result is nearly always a Napoleon.

The dispatches from Russia tell of revolt following revolt. It looks as though Russia were about ready for her Napoleon.

A Napoleon means foreign wars. This is inevitable. A Napoleon cannot thrive without glory. And the only kind of glory that an uneducated country can appreciate is the melodrama of war.

THE RUM FLEET

The rum fleet which now insolently threatens our coasts is an outrage; not so much an outrage on the part of the rum hounds as on the part of the foreign countries whose flag they carry.

One of these days, our State Department will take the bit in its teeth; notify foreign countries that to permit a vessel to "clear" for America with a cargo of liquor will be considered an unfriendly act.

BUS LINE EXTENSION ON FIGUEROA URGED

Extension of the Figueroa-street bus line from Slauson avenue to Manchester avenue is urged by residents of the southwest who are served by the line. Members of the Southwest Realty Board, are supporting the movement and point out that hundreds of new homes are being constructed following the coming of the $3,000,000 southwest storm drain. Officials of the railway company stated there is not sufficient bus equipment at this time to enable the company to make such an extension. They referred the petitioners to the Board of Public Utilities.

GOLD MOTIVE IN HERMIT MURDER

Terrific Fight Put Up to Save Riches from Robber

Shattered Body of Recluse is Discovered in Well

Police Delve Into Hidden Life for Clew to Slayer

Peace officers from the rim of the Mojave Desert to Los Angeles were piecing together the life trail of C. K. Ullman, well-to-do recluse of Elizabeth Lake, last night, in an effort to solve the mystery of his murder. They found, in their investigation, that they had plucked a page from the Book of Fiction and found its counterpart in real life. Ullman was as nearly a fiction hermit as modern life permits, and he was slain for his gold.

Acting on this theory, Capt. William J. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide squad and Deputies Hunter and Hanby prepared for a systematic series of interviews of a number of persons in the Elizabeth Lake and Hughes Lake regions who are declared to have had strained relations with Ullman. Sheriff's deputies were being assisted in their investigation by Constable Price of Fairmount, Constable Cummings of Lancaster and their deputies.

THROWN INTO WELL

Ullman was slain in the living-room of his ranch home two miles south of Elizabeth Lake in Leona Canyon some time Sunday night, Capt. Bright reported. Death came apparently after a terrific struggle and was followed by a thorough ransacking of the house, the only thing left untouched being a small but adamant safe which resisted the efforts of the robber-slayer.

After Ullman had been killed his murderer dragged the body from the house to a well about twenty-five feet deep in the back yard and pushed the body down it. A trail of blood told the story of that, Capt. Bright said. The body was found in about four feet of water in the well by John Erraebhuo, a ranch hand, yesterday, when he went to Ullman's ranch.

Death, Capt. Bright said, was due to blows from some kind of a blunt instrument, the exact nature of which had not been determined last night. A cursory examination, he said, revealed at least two fractures of the skull when the body was taken to a mortuary at Lancaster.

Ullman, it was said, had lived a secluded life, barring the door of acquaintanceship to all save a few persons who lived in his immediate vicinity.

HAS WIFE IN EAST

Deputies said they learned that he has a wife living in some eastern city, but that she and Ullman had been estranged. He also is said to have a son living in this city.

Beside owning about 350 acres of land near Elizabeth Lake, Ullman has had the reputation for years in the region of having hoarded a great sum of money, although no definite financial statement was available. He never kept money in banks, it was said, but is supposed to have had it about the premises.

The disorderly condition of the ranch house, officers declared, left no doubt as to robbery being the motive for the crime. Murder followed, they reasoned, when Ullman apparently put up a desperate battle to keep his wealth.

HONGKONG PIRACY RIDDEN

So Declares Englishman, Guest Here, Who Sees Little Hope for Chinese Commerce

Piracy flourishes under the very nose of British war vessels in the English-controlled port of Hongkong, according to C. B. Brown, member of an English firm of public accountants in Hongkong, who arrived at the Alexandria yesterday en route to England for a six months vacation.

"A large British merchant vessel was looted by pirates less than 100 miles off Hongkong just before I embarked for America," said Brown. "This instance of the general lawlessness that reigns in the Far East at this moment is only one of many of a similar nature that have occurred since the breaking down of stabilized government in China.

"Naturally, the British do all in their power to protect their own interests and those of other foreigners in the troubled region but their efforts are often futile. In the numerous cases of piracy, for instance, they have never, so far as I know, been able to bring the guilty persons to justice. The looting of this ship was typical of the manner in which the pirates operate. It was an inside job—the looters boarding the vessel at the port as passengers and overpowering the crew when far enough out to make it safe."

The Briton stated that foreign trade in China is practically at a standstill. "Many foreign firms have gone into bankruptcy, and others continue in business only through the financial assistance rendered by British banking houses," he said. "There are no signs as yet of an improvement in the unsettled conditions. The central government is powerless and the rebellious factions are as aggressive as ever. How order is to be restored nobody seems to know, though it is probable that it will eventually have to be accomplished by foreign intervention."

ANCIENT FOLIO IS RECOVERED

piece of Chamizal on the American side. Hoping some time to regain the land, the old grant was handed down from father to son, and two years ago Capt. Fernandez came here to see a lawyer about his claim. He had been educated in the Mexican military academy at Chapultepec and had been an aviator in the revolutionary Mexican armies of this generation.

He first stopped to visit his aunt at Colton, and then came here and, taking a room at the Alexandria, made an appointment with an international lawyer. But, opening his grip, he couldn't find the old document. After throwing shirts and underwear all over the room he summoned six bellboys and the chief clerk and notified the police that the document had been stolen. It got a paragraph in the papers at the time. Curiosity shops were searched in vain. The 10,000 acres were gone.

The old grant is a folio of a score of sheets of ancient paper, covered with scrawls that only an antiquarian can read and dotted with the ancient seal of colonial Spain, the two worlds with the Spanish crown over both of 'em. The folio is damaged by a cut through all the pages for half their width. The captain explains that the major-domo of his grandfather had turned traitor and tried to steal the grant from the family strong box, but was thwarted by a good and faithful servant named Epitacio who ran the best family carving-knife through the old document, which happened to be held against the major-domo's chest, incidentally damaging the major-domo beyond repair in those days of elementary surgery, but saving the family birthright.

Such was the rare document that was lost here in California, and yesterday Capt. Fernandez walked around with it under his arm. It seems that on this trip he again went to visit his aunt at Colton. Soon after his arrival she remarked:

"By the way, Juanito, is this funny old paper yours; I found it on the floor of your room after you left two years ago?"

Capt. Fernandez nearly upset the breakfast table, and clasped the old paper to his breast.

It was undamaged except for the ancient knife cut, but looked a little frayed at the edges and there were markings, like little spots of blood, all over it.

It transpired that soon after his aunt had found the old paper a fly crossed that worthy housekeeper's path, and thence forward for two years she had been swatting flies with it, except when it reposed on the shelf over the gas stove in the kitchen.

BOX MANN ACT TRIAL DUE TODAY

Judge James to Sit in Case of Man Charged With Bringing Girl from East

Trial of John W. Box, who, with Alexander R. Rhodes, is charged with bringing Jeanne R. Taylor from Freeport, Long Island, to Los Angeles last February, will open this morning before United States Judge James.

Held in the Los Angeles County Jail after the detention of Box and Rhodes by Department of Justice agents, the Taylor girl borrowed a red paper flower to rouge her lips that she might appear as radiant as possible on preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Turney. The flower coloring infected a fever sore on her upper lip and she died in the General Hospital as her brother stepped from a transcontinental flyer to aid her here.

Box is said by Federal officers to be a married man and Rhodes is accused of aiding and abetting him in transportation of the girl. Rhodes has pleaded guilty and is expected to be a government witness today against Box.

GROCERS WILL TAKE UP SUNDAY CLOSING

An open forum on the Sunday closing question will be engaged in by members of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association at a meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the auditorium at 240 South Hill street. Talks will be made by J. L. Jonas and J. B. Jacobs. A report on rolling grocery stores will be presented by the committee.

POLICE GRAFT RUMOR SPIKED

Officials, After Quiz, Declare Stories Unfounded

Hold-Out on Proceeds of Robbery Charged

All Bastheim Theft Plunder Declared Returned

Persistent rumors of graft in the police department during the investigation of a $100,000 diamond robbery several months ago were thoroughly aired at a conference of police officials, called by Dist.-Atty. Keyes, and dispelled as false yesterday afternoon.

The rumors arose out of the investigation of the theft of jewels from the Bastheim Jewelry Company and for which Tom Conway and Fred Harris are serving prison terms. The two prisoners communicated with one of the members of the county grand jury and bargained to "squeal" on certain members of the police department whom they accused of failing to return a portion of the recovered jewelry.

In return for their information they sought their freedom from jail. Dist.-Atty. Keyes's statement, given out after he had thoroughly investigated the rumors and which vindicates all persons connected with the case, is as follows:

"Since the disposition, conviction and sentence of Tom Conway and Fred Harris for the larceny of the diamonds, watches and jewelry of the Bastheim Jewelry Company, persistent rumors have been going about the city to the effect that certain police officers of the Los Angeles police department had failed to account for and had retained in their possession certain articles of jewelry which they had recovered from these thieves.

"The undersigned have just completed a thorough and complete investigation of these rumors and find that they are absolutely false and untrue; that the officers connected with this particular case worked diligently and honestly in arresting the above-named thieves and recovering the property; that every single item of property recovered was returned to the owners and that there is not even a well-grounded suspicion against any officer in this case."

This statement was signed by Foreman Taylor of the grand jury, Alexander N. Williams, chairman of the criminal complaints committee, grand jury; Dist.-Atty. Keyes, and Chief of Police Heath.

The suit for $100,000 damages originally filed in the San Francisco court last January against R. C. (Cliff) Durant and Lea Gapski by Martha Fuller, a nurse, was transferred and filed in the local Superior Court yesterday.

The change of venue to the local court was granted on the presentation of affidavits by the defendants that they are residents in Los Angeles county

Mrs. Fuller charges the defendants with assault and battery, asserting that they beat and scratched her in a stateroom of the Durant private yacht in the harbor of Honolulu on October 4, 1924. Mrs. Fuller, who is a trained nurse, said she was engaged by Durant's physician as a nurse for Miss Gapski, who is a dancer from Detroit. The asserted beating is said to have come as the climax of an argument started between the women on the boat.

Durant denied that he took part in the assault as charged, but merely looked on amusedly. A demurrer filed to the suit by defendants will be filed shortly. It was announced yesterday that Durant will fight the case in the courts.

Pasadena Golf Club Safe is Undamaged in Theft of $700; Oil Station Robbed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 18.—Belief that a woman robbed the Pasadena Golf Club of $700 at an early hour this morning was expressed by the police. Considerable mystery has entered the robbing of the exclusive clubhouse for the reason that the lock on the safe was not broken, although the contents of the strong box were taken. A lipstick was found near the safe. It is upon this clew the police hope to trace the thief.

Further belief that a woman accomplished the daring job was expressed when it was found that all the compartments of the safe were removed to the ladies' room of the clubhouse and the contents poured on the table. All cash contained in the compartments was taken, but several thousand dollars worth of checks were spurned.

Either the combination of the safe was not locked Sunday night when the club was closed or the thief was familiar with the combination and opened it without force, according to Constable John Sosey.

The California Clothing Company, 1151 North Fair Oaks avenue, was robbed of approximately $2500 worth of clothing by thieves who cut a panel from the rear door of the building and ransacked the plant. Detective Lieutenants Kaighin and Decker were assigned to the case.

The Standard Oil service station at the corner of Colorado street and Rosevilla avenue was held up and robbed of $36 in another early-morning robbery. The manager, G. M. Carroll, was forced to lie down while the armed bandits emptied the cash register. This is the second time in the last few months this particular station has been held up, it was reported. Detective Lieutenant Culver and Sergt. Cropsey are investigating.

Deadly Collar Button Scores Wrecked Home

A tiny collar-button became the boulder, in the view of an angry husband who could not find it, that wrecked the marriage of Florence Winslow, she told Judge Summerfield, at the hearing yesterday of her suit for divorce from George P. Winslow.

"Just at the time the collar-button rolled away, I was locked up in a room, writing a letter to a friend. I had locked the door to get a little peace and quiet," Mrs. Winslow related. "Well, the button got away from Mr. Winslow, and I could hear him charging around after it. After awhile he came and banged on my door, and demanded that I find his collar-button for him. Well, I wouldn't do it. So he broke the door down, and a general rumpus followed."

"Decree granted. Score another one for the deadly collar-button, the serpent in the bosom of modern civilization," Judge Summerfield declared.

Masked Gunmen Deprive Victim of Cash, Checks

A pair of masked gunmen overtook Stanley Melvin, a transient stopping at the Union Hotel, near the intersection of Ninth and San Pedro streets early yesterday morning and relieved him of $100 in cash and $350 in checks.

Two major burglaries in the early morning hours also were reported to police. Mrs. M. S. Holcomb lost $1300 in jewelry to burglars who forced their way into her home at 2224 West Twenty-fourth street and Urbana Gardeer reported the theft of $2000 in jewelry from her home at 1664 Tarleton avenue.

CITY'S COLISEUM BILL AGGREGATES $54,000

The city, which is sharing with the county the expense of building the ornamental entrances to the Coliseum at Exposition Park, from Figueroa and other streets, will spend $54,000 as its share of the expense, the City Council's Finance Committee was notified yesterday by the City Auditor. As $32,800 has already been spent, the committee recommended that the remainder of $21,200 be appropriated. The work is being done under the direction of City Construction Superintendent Brittain, and will provide wide, paved walks to the stadium with flowers and shrubbery and ornamental lighting posts.

Hospital, and her condition was reported last night as satisfactory. The operation was performed by Dr. Clarence Moore. Mayor Cryer visited the hospital several times yesterday to assure himself of his wife's condition. The Mayor said that the X-ray showed that an operation was necessary and that Dr. Moore said that it would be best to have it while Mrs. Cryer was strong and before the condition of the appendix became worse.

CHRISTMAS SLAYER ON PROBATION

Causes in Miner's Killing of Asserted Swindler Are Considered by Court

Sam Knezovich, a miner who pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the killing last Christmas Day of John Dropulic, was granted probation for a period of ten years yesterday by Judge Collier of Superior Court. Knezovich originally was charged with murder but was allowed to plead to the manslaughter charge through arrangement with the District Attorney's office.

In view of the circumstances of the slaying, as disclosed by the probation officer's report, Judge Collier stated it was his opinion Knezovich was entitled to probation. Knezovich was said to have shot and killed Dropulic as the latter was leaving a cafe near Fourth and Spring streets.

Knezovich stated Dropulic had swindled him out of his life's savings in a bunko game several years ago and that he had sought the man continually to demand restitution. When he learned Dropulic was in Los Angeles, he said, he informed police of his grievance and, it is asserted, was advised to go out and bring in Dropulic. Knezovich, it was said, construed these instructions in the code of the old mining days when such advice was accepted as meaning that the hunted man was to be brought in either dead or alive.

OFFICERS CLEARED IN ESCAPE OF PRISONERS

Dismissal of the charges against C. J. Kane and W. E. Smith, former police officers of Culver City, who were accused of aiding prisoners to escape, was ordered yesterday by Judge McLucas of the Superior Court at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley. The deputy prosecutor explained that a detailed investigation had shown the charges against the former officers to be the outgrowth of a misunderstanding. They were arrested several months ago by Deputy Sheriff Bond and his squad. It was charged at the time that they had aided two men arrested by Deputy Bond to get away.

AVENUE WILL BE WIDENED

Councilman Baker of the Fourteenth Councilmanic District yesterday secured an appropriation by the City Council's Finance Committee of $250 for the purchase of land at North Avenue 63 and Elgin street, which will straighten and widen Avenue 63 at that point. This improvement was much desired by the residents of the district and the North Avenue 63 Improvement Association.

4 out of every 5

Those are the odds you fight in the battle against Pyorrhea. Four out of every five over 40—as well as thousands younger, too—are afflicted with this sinister disease. Will you be a victim?

Protect your gums and save your teeth

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line. If the gums shrink, serious dangers result.

The teeth are loosened. They are exposed to tooth-base decay. The gums themselves become tender and bleed easily. They form sacs which become the doorways of organic disease for the whole system. They often disfigure the mouth as they recede.

If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. Forhan's is safe, efficient and pleasant-tasting. It preserves gum health, corrects tender gum spots, hardens gum tissues so they will offer proper support to the teeth, and keeps your mouth fresh and healthy.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Mate Through With Women, He Informs Court

Phillip Saslavsky is through with women. He told Judge Summerfield this yesterday in terms that admitted of no uncertainty.

"When I get through with the one I have now—never again. Already they cause me too much trouble," he announced firmly.

Mrs. Ida Saslavsky had just told the judge something herself.

"He's running around with women," she said.

It was in connection with his denial of this charge that Saslavsky uttered his renunciation of women and their ways. The whole matter was pertinent to Mrs. Saslavsky's divorce proceedings, because the two were in court yesterday on her motion that her husband be ordered to pay a doctor bill and the fee of her counsel, Attorney T. J. K. MacGowen. Mrs. Saslavsky said that, despite her husband's plea of poverty, he was able to finance various gallantries. She said he was worth $100,000.

Judge Summerfield, without going into the merits of the charges and denials, ordered Saslavsky to pay the doctor and to pay $100 on account of MacGowen's fee.

TWO PLACED ON TRIAL IN TRAIN HOLD-UP CASE

Trial of Mark Godfrey and Russell Smith, charged with holding up the crew and passengers of a Pacific Electric train at Valley Junction in October, 1923, opened yesterday in Judge Reeve's department of the Superior Court. It is expected the jury will be completed today. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Orme is prosecuting the case. Sidney Wood, convicted some time ago of participation in the crime, is now at San Quentin awaiting a pardon from Gov. Richardson. Dist.-Atty. Keyes has recommended that the pardon be granted as it has been shown that Wood had no connection with the hold-up, and that he was the victim of a miscarriage of justice.

Busy Summer

The Camels are coming. In a few days they will take possession of the city. With them will come families, friends and tourists.

Brighten up the corner where you are and give them a real Los Angeles welcome. Every one of them is a potential friend and prospective future citizen.

They will leave millions of dollars in circulation. Give them a big money's worth.

Then there are the Knight Templars coming from or going to Seattle—the Elks, music people and Christian Endeavorers en route to and from Portland—the National Electric Light Association at San Francisco, etc.

Many of them will stop here. Let's be a royal host to them all.

And the All Year Club has inquiries way in excess of even 1923.

Pretty busy summer. Plenty of nearly everything—good markets—lots of money in circulation—and much good company.

ANDERSON PLANS RUM FLEET WAR

Eastern Tactics Will be Used Against Vessels Off California Coast

Plans for the suppression of the whisky fleet off the Southern California coast are now being worked out in Washington, according to W. W. Anderson, divisional prohibition director. Mr. Anderson stated he did not know how long it would take to set the system in motion. He said that the same tactics as those utilized off the Atlantic coast would be employed.

The absence of Rum Row at the present time is looked upon as temporary, and plans are being made for a lengthy battle.

"We must have ships," said Mr. Anderson, "to watch the rum-runners, and make smuggling so expensive that they will give up in disgust."

The rum ship Gertrude, forced to quite Tanner Bank several days ago by the Coast Guard Cutter Vaughan has taken up her station on the west side of San Miguel Island, thirty-five miles west of Santa Barbara, according to radio advices yesterday from the cutters Vaughan and Tamaroa. Difficulty is being experienced by the cutters in stopping the rum runners between the rum ship and shore, it was said, because the smugglers' crafts are faster.

Mr. Anderson arrived yesterday from El Paso, where he has been attending a conference of Federal officers and Mexican officials concerning a new treaty to cover the smuggling of aliens, liquor and narcotics. He will return to El Paso Thursday.

Hunt for Haupt is Extended to San Francisco

Search for Charles Harkness Haupt, charged with stealing his 2-year-old son from his estranged wife, was extended to San Francisco and adjoining States yesterday after the receipt of a telegram from Haupt early yesterday morning, in which he informed his wife that he was going east with the boy.

The boy, according to Mrs. Haupt, was kidnaped from the home of her parents by her husband Friday. Later Haupt informed his wife by phone that he would meet her Saturday at her attorney's office, but he failed to appear there, and is now believed to be heading east with the boy.

AUTHOR TO AID DRIVE FOR PALESTINE FUND

Maurice Samuel, distinguished novelist and lecturer, and author of "You Gentiles," an outstanding literary success, will arrive in Los Angeles soon to aid executives of the Palestine Foundation fund in the drive for $100,000, to be used in Palestine. The drive is now under way. Mr. Samuel will be met here by a committee of the leading Jews of the city and will be tendered a banquet at the Biltmore on the 25th inst., at which he will speak. Arrangements for the banquet are being completed by Bernard Stone, who is here from England to supervise the drive. Mr. Samuel recently returned from a tour of Palestine, and will describe the work of rebuilding the Jewish national homeland in progress there.

Like Telephoning

Mrs. John Barrymire is a brilliant wit as well as a brilliant writer. At a dinner recently she was defending a woman who had divorced her husband.

ARBUCKLE TO IGNORE 'PLOTTERS'

Hatred of Publicity Back of Refusal to Prosecute Asserted Blackmailer

"I want to be let alone so I can go to work. Action against Mrs. Murphy would only stir up a lot more publicity and I don't want it."

Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, one-time film funster and two-day bridegroom, thus phrased his present attitude toward an asserted attempt to blackmail him. In lieu of any vindictive desires on the part of the would-be victim, the District Attorney's office did the only thing to be done under the circumstances, viz.: to forget all about it.

The plot, as explained by Arbuckle at his Beverly Hills home, where he is figuratively holding the fort with Doris Deane, his newly acquired bride, a Jap servant and an auto "saved from the wreck" as he termed it, evolved about a desire on the part of certain persons to extract from him something he says he doesn't have, to-wit, money.

He declared an asserted refusal on his part to aid his brother, supposedly in straitened circumstances, was to be used in a character assault against him. The plot, he said, was nipped when he rung in officers of the District Attorney's office as personal friends and exposed it in their presence. Mrs. J. H. Murphy, the woman in the case, who is said to have acted as agent for the plotters, admitted she conceived it, according to Arbuckle.

How anyone could get money out of him right now is more than he can figure out, Arbuckle said, for the lack of it is what is making his honeymoon a sight-seeing tour of Beverly Hills.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR FINED $250

Duncan Pleads Guilty to Charges of Reckless Driving

L. A. Duncan, a contractor, who was indicted for manslaughter in connection with the death November 26, 1924, of Winona Spencer Spear, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving yesterday in Judge Craig's court and was fined $250.

Duncan was permitted to enter a plea to the lesser charge on the recommendation of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, who stated the district attorney's office felt, after having conducted a thorough investigation of the circumstances of Mrs. Spear's death, that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution of Duncan on the manslaughter charge.

Mrs. Spear, according to Costello, died of injuries she received when an automobile driven by Duncan collided with a truck on Ventura Boulevard and veered to the side of the road, striking the woman.

SAFETY FIRST

The safety zones are well enough, but it is getting to be quite a gymnastic trick to get to them.

THE DOCTORS DISAGREED

Last week a man in Hongkong bit a dog. An English doctor says the man was mad, but the Chinese say he was hungry.

VERY SIGNIFICANT

The most significant thing about Von Hindenburg's election was that he was chosen for the high office he occupies by the people and not by the war lords.

WOMEN DO THE WORK

One man answers the question: "Should wives be paid wages?" in the hearty affirmative. He says if his wife doesn't get wages he may have to go to work himself.

HOHENZOLLERN VS. PRUSSIA

The ex-Kaiser and his kin are fighting in the courts for about 1,000,000 acres of "crown lands," upon which German citizens are squatting. To have to go to court—Hoch! How times have changed!

WE HOPE SO

A Florida legislator introduces a bill to make calling any woman a "flapper" an offense against the peace and dignity of the State. Good—that may force Florida people to coin a new word for "flapper."

HOME FIRES BURNING

It is claimed that the German women elected Hindenburg as executive of Germany. This is not to be accepted as an indorsement of war, but rather as a wish for stabilized government. The women do not care to run the risks of Socialism.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

We have occupied the Philippines for twenty-seven years and seem to be no nearer the time when we can safely withdraw from them than we were at the end of the first year of our occupation. Uncle Sam will never leave a job till it is finished.

WASTE OF MONEY

A scientist announces the discovery of a method whereby an intoxicated person can sober up in thirty minutes. That may be useful in Europe, but will soon prove a drug on the market in America. We can sober up better than by employing this scientist's alleged discovery.

THE REASON WHY

It is said that Americans break more laws than any other people. Possibly the reason is that they have so many more laws to break. We have over 200,000 enactments in this country that other races have not yet reached. Just as we spend or give away more money than other peoples, so we break more laws because we have more of them to fracture.

CHANGE OF SCENERY

Two or three of the star performers in the bootlegging industry in Chicago are quitting the game. They are really threatened with arrest and possible confinement. So they are taking their profits and withdrawing from the field. But the itch for adventure is still with them and so they are going to Florida to engage in the exploitation of lands. They will sell seaside subdivisions to strangers. There are sharks of all kinds around the Florida peninsula and many of them are ripe to tackle anything.

DUKES ARE DUCKING TAXATION

Openly seeking ways and means of escape from the excessive taxation for which as individuals they are liable, many of the peers of England are turning themselves into corporations. The Duke of Marlborough has incorporated as the Blenheim Estates Company, the Duke of Grafton as the Grafton Estates, Viscount Wimborne as the Guest Consolidated, Viscount Ullswater as the Ullswater Company, the Earl of Berkeley as the Berkeley Company and the Duke of Buccleugh as the Buccleugh Estates, Ltd. Tax dodging has apparently ceased to be ignoble.

THE BUYING POWER

The government is learning to pool its buying power. Under the old regime the various departments and divisions were apt to purchase their equipment and supplies in small lots and on their own hook. Uncle Sam would buy $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 worth of stuff every year and there were possibly 1,000,000 different orders and vouchers to cover the lot. Now the buying is being concentrated in one division. There are twenty different classifications of supplies and bids are asked in each field. The government is also arranging to pay cash on delivery. Heretofore the creditor of the nation has had to wait from sixty to ninety days before getting much attention. By buying in large lots and paying cash Uncle Sam will save a lot of money and this is the system under which the Coolidge administration is working. There is no wastage at any point.

MONKEY BUSINESS

In forbidding the teaching of the theory of evolution within its boundaries and in actually causing the arrest of a teacher on a charge of imparting the facts regarding Darwinism to his students the State of Tennessee has approached perilously near the ridiculous.

In effect, her legislators have assumed the not inconsiderable responsibility of arbitrarily and off-hand deciding not only for Tennessee but for the world at large a scientific problem which the best brains of the world have wrestled with for decades. They have not only declared futile and foolish the work of the greatest scientists of two generations, but they have denied even to their adult and mature students the right to know that such work was done—or how or why or with what results.

Whatever may be the truth or the falsity of the Darwinian theory, it has an important place in both history and science, and to try to oust it from that place lest it corrupt the growing mind is as silly as it would be to forbid children hearing the story of Salem witchcraft lest they should try to become witches.

How much actual chance there is to keep Darwinism a deep, dark secret from the inquiring minds of the Tennessee youth was exemplified by a parade of the students of the University of Tennessee the other day in which the "floats" were exaggerated parodies in roaring ridicule of the situation.

The Tennessee Legislature has made it absolutely certain that every student who is not already familiar with the Darwinian theory will proceed forthwith to become so—merely because the legislators have prohibited it. If these solons had sought for a year for the most effective way to boost the theory of evolution in Tennessee they could not have devised a better one.

The matter has freshly and more sharply drawn the battle lines between the fundamentalists and the modernists of the church and there is every likelihood that the main engagement will be fought before no less a body than the Supreme Court of the United States. To that tribunal both sides in the case of the accused Tennessee teacher have announced their determination to carry their respective causes. On the one side the forces will be led by William Jennings Bryan, who has hastened up from his real estate office among the cypress knees of Florida to help prosecute the luckless Prof. J. T. Scopes for having told his students what Darwin believed as to the descent of man. On the other will be Judge John Neal, former prominent member of the faculty of the University of Tennessee, who was virtually ousted, with five others, because of his supposed taint of Darwinism.

Unlike the learned Legislature of Tennessee, The Times has no intention of undertaking to settle overnight the little matter of the origin of humankind. However, The Times does respectfully advance the belief that it will never be settled by seeking to arbitrarily legislate one side of the question out of existence. The Times does not believe that enforced ignorance can be made a foundation of faith nor that agnosticism can be prohibited by law. Itself profoundly convinced of the Divine origin of all, The Times believes that full knowledge will not only not undermine that conviction, but will support and fortify and prove it.

STRIKING SIMILARITIES

The Prince of Wales visits a snake park in South Africa which he likens to his own idea of hell. Judge William McAdoo of New York renews his fight on gun-toters, calling the pistol the greatest curse of America. New York holds the world record of three hundred unsolved murders in 1924. All three news items appear in one issue of The Times. There are striking similarities in the information.

The serpent and the gun-toter are the two deadliest enemies of mankind. The first one may kill at sight, the second only when he shows his weapon and flashes its deadly fire. In Africa the natives carry spears and clubs wherever they go. Their second nature makes them strike instinctively at a snake whenever met. In India the snake and the scorpion are as sacred as the bug and the holy cow, they must not be disturbed because they may be the reincarnations of relatives or friends. Cobras are the most sacred guests in families of Madras which supply their daily portion of milk to keep them in good humor.

The gun-toter is fast becoming the greatest pest of the United States. He is often locally protected like the snake in India and sometimes even petted like the cobra in Madras. The African method of killing a snake at sight could scarcely be adopted in the United States. But more effective laws could be made to restrict pistol-toting.

There are places in Africa where snakes are unfanged or their venom is extracted by making them bite gunny sacks. From Africa we might take the hint of how to get rid of the dangerous gun-toter. Once unfanged and their poison removed the gun-toter would become as innocuous as the gopher snake or the sacred cow. For the creature who relies on his hidden firearms to overawe an unarmed victim is notoriously a coward when separated from his venom and his sting.

CORROSIVE LADY MARGOT

Margot Asquith, now Countess of Oxford and Asquith, is on the war path again. In her new book, "Persons and Places," she mixes honey and vinegar. The lady's style has not been raised to a higher dignity in proportion to her elevation to the rank of a peeress. For she calls American newspapers "rotten" and American trains "awful."

There is an undercurrent of thought in her remarks from which bubbles up the old familiar Margot. In speaking of the American people as a whole she writes:

> They are the friendliest people in the world, but overconcerned with each other. Not personally, but nationally. They are vain and they would rather hear themselves abused than not be discussed.

Perhaps she is too prone to judge others by her own succeptibilities. That is the way of iconoclasts. They are so fond of their own reflection in the mirror that they apply the hammer to better looking statues and the knife to superior painted pictures. But Lady Margot prefers to use these destructive instruments from a distance, running down the English people in America and Americans in England. In this manner she contradicts the ancient truism, "distance lends enchantment."

Not satisfied with the reputation she has made in England, Lady Asquith proceeds to copy a couple of pages from the lives of American women leaders and paraphrase certain paragraphs. After which she struts around and chafes at finding "perpetual interference with personal liberty and was aware of an amazing undercurrent of illiberalism and ferocity." She was surprised at American interest in the British royal family which caused both men and women to ask her for "information regarding Princess Mary's underwear," which suggests that she would rather have exhibited her own. American men, "who are seldom fashionable and never leisured," will find no time to read her criticism, but American women are not so likely to miss or forget her complaint of "lack of privacy" and her astonishment that Americans can "thrive in rooms as hot as conservatories and can sit up all night, eat candy and ice cream all day and live to a great age upon excitement either social or commercial without leisure."

In conclusion she says: "They not only showed me unforgettable courtesy and friendship, but I feel that it is vital for the world's peace that the Americans and our people understand and care for one another." Americans will hardly forget the aspersion with which the biting vitriol of Lady Margot's pen corrodes other pages on tasting the honey of these last compliments.

MUSIC IN HOMES

No matter what time of day or night or where, here in the city of Los Angeles, one hears music of some kind, be it vocal, radio, phonograph or piano.

And after all, why not? Human life moves rhythmically rather than in flat and steady progression. As there is a rhythm of the heart and brain, so also is there a rhythm of work and play. Human enterprise is frequently intensified by the potent rhythms of music. "The drums of war" are no mere pageantry, they add conspicuously and decisively, to the ardor of those who hear them. This was particularly true at the battle of Austerlitz, where a drummer boy beat a charge on his drum instead of a retreat as he was ordered. The movie studios have orchestras on the sets. From time immemorial men have aroused their fighting instincts with wild music and cheered their depressions with tune or song.

Music is one of the oldest therapeutic measures of which record exists. The spectacle of the stripling David playing his harp in the presence of the gloomy, phantom-haunted Saul is so familiar that its significance is apt to be overlooked. Man lives, strives and achieves by his emotions. Intellect and emotions are not separate attributes. Music exerts an influence on reason as well as on feeling. Music restores harmony to the spirit and exerts a healing power on every member of the body.

Have music in your home and in your life, for it is composed of spirit, fire and dew.

HAGGARD STILL LIVES

The romance of wild adventure had few better exponents than Sir Henry Rider Haggard, the famous British novelist who passed from earth recently in his 69th year. Those of us who hunted lions with the intrepid Allan Quatermain or followed the lure of the mystic She or the fortunes of the lovely Jess felt something more than a mere sorrowing moment when the news of his demise went abroad. His loss was felt as that of a friend who had cheered many a dull or lonely hour and with whom we had fared forth upon many a long trek through the African jungle or out upon desperate seas in "the bright face of danger."

It was fortunate for the romance-loving world that Haggard went as a young man to the Transvaal and that he served in the first Boer War and journeyed far into Zululand, for it was in those interesting countries that he found Jess and Ayesha and picked up the trail that led to King Solomon's mines. His forte was not fine writing, but originality. Who besides he ever would have dreamed of writing a will, as he caused Mr. Meeson to do, upon the back of a young woman, the only engravable thing that was handy on the desert island? Who besides he could have originated that wonderful example of female longevity and perennial beauty, She-Who-Must-Be-Obeyed? And who could have thrown more dash and daring into a single character than is seen in the valiant Quatermain?

And it is because his vivid spirit survives in each page that he ever wrote that Rider Haggard still lives, though he has gone to join Dumas, Mayne Reid, Fenimore Cooper and the other great weavers of undying romance.

NIAGARA BY WIRELESS

Now they are broadcasting the roar of Niagara Falls over the radio and it is so real that a lady in Indianapolis caught cold from the spray. The crash of many waters is preferred by some to the blare of brass. Anyhow, the vast harmony of Niagara should be honeymooning stuff. It could take the place of a wedding march. It is better than a battery of saxophones.

Just About It
by James J. Montague

NATURE'S NOBLEMEN

"Baseball players are artists"—Miller Huggins, Manager of the New York Yanks.

Don't fancy the ballplayer labors for fame;
He cares not a copper for that,
It isn't the love of the glorious game
Or the pay—though it's usually fat.
It is something far higher that leads him to strive,
With all his ingenuous heart,
To keep the historic old pastime alive—
It's the soul-stirring urge of the art.

He cares not a rap for the grand stand's applause
When he clouts one clear out of the yard,
For tumult and shouting and yells and hurrahs
He has not the slightest regard.
When he discards the willow and speeds to first base—
When to second he shoots like a streak,
You see by the studious look on his face
That he's thinking about his technique.

He is often erratic, one fain must admit,
Especially if he's a star,
He sometimes appears to be tickled a bit
That he's not quite as other men are.
You notice him now and then strutting about,
And breaking the hearts of the gals,
But so, in the height of their hey-dey, no doubt,
Did Van Dyck, Corot and Franz Hals.

He is not to be judged by the standards applied
To other and commoner men,
He may well be excused for the bearing of pride
That he shows to the world now and then.
He was fashioned by genius to come to this earth
And to play an illustrious part—
To be ranked with the great, who are granted at birth
The smile and the favor of Art!

TROUT FISHIN' TIME

There's a queer uneasy feelin'
Casts a shadder over me,
And I long to be a-stealin'
Where the winds blow cool and free;
I'm as restless as a rabbit,
Nothin' satisfies me quite,
For I feel that rovin' habit
When the trout begin to bite!

Then I want to quit the grindin'—
Just dish every thought and care,
And go where the stream is windin',
Gurglin' over pebbles there;
Where the waters leap and bubble
And your tired soul invite
A good-by to every trouble—
When the trout begin to bite!

Just to loaf in grassy medders,
Where the stream runs swift and deep,
And the willers droop in shadders
Where the spring-time flowers peep.
Just to ramble, glad and lazy,
Not a cross nor care in sight,
On a dreamy day, and hazy,
When the trout begin to bite!

LETTERS TO The Times

An Eastern Observer

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) May 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] recent campaign launched by The Times to educate the country eral as to the many advantages of Southern California has had favorable reaction. In the twenty States in which I have spoken leaving my home in Hollywood in January I have been asked every day for detailed information about California, the desire ly arising from the publicity given out by The Times.

Incidentally, I have, during this interim, invited 250,000 people to visit California. I have told them that we are not "getting back on our feet," but that we have never been off of them yet;

That Los Angeles is second only to New York City in ocean shipments;

That Los Angeles is among the first dozen manufacturing cities in the United States;

That Los Angeles is the buying center of a farming community where they cut seven crops of alfalfa per year; where they grow a bale of long staple cotton to the acre; where the bean crop is sufficient to feed the Army and where we can raise enough vegetables to feed the world.

I am telling them that right in our neighborhood we grow the oranges of Florida, the apples of Virginia, the pears of Michigan, the peaches of Georgia, the grapes of Delaware, the plums of Missouri, the strawberries of Arkansas, the dates of India, the figs of Smyrna, the olives of Italy, the avocados of Mexico—that we raise prunes and persimmons, kumquats and grapefruit, lemons and mangoes, black and English walnuts, pecans and almonds, celery, watermelons—in fact, every fruit I ever ate, every vegetable I ever heard of and every nut I have ever seen except the cocoanut.

My lecture tour soon closes and about May 20 I'll be back in the fairest city that God's sunshine sifts through the clouds upon—Los Angeles.

We Do

MONROVIA (Cal.) May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Coast Guard can win the war (against rum smuggling) if it continues to have the right kind of support. It needs and must have the encouragement of public opinion.—[Times Editorial.

What opportunity has public opinion to express itself? Elections, the soap box, the newspapers. Elections occur at wide intervals of time. Soap-box oratory impedes traffic of which automobiles have a monopoly. Do newspapers open their columns to the expression of public opinion? By the merest reluctant crack of the door. How can they and keep their staff of writers employed telling their readers particulars of daily scandal? The public may boil with indignation over the open flouting of the Eighteenth Amendment. It does. But look at the topics in the occasional and scant "Letters to The Times." Interesting, perhaps, but inconsequential. Whose fault is it? Yours, Mr. Editor. If you would assure your readers that their views on bootlegging and the damnable incitement to bootlegging would be welcome to your columns you would give public opinion a voice, and it would be vociferous and red hot.

"Tin Can Tourists!"

(An indignant resident of Glendale forwards to the Editor of The Times the following letter written to the editor of the Literary Digest, the original of which he has already mailed to the New York offices of that journal.)

Dear Sir: For years I have been a reader of the Literary Digest. Of all the publications which come to me it is the last which I would expect to publish such an article as you have reprinted in the issue for May 16 under the title "Tin Can Tourists Terrifying California," treating it as a statement of facts and adding your own comment in such a way as to indicate that the man who wrote the comment was as densely ignorant of even ordinary conditions in California as is the woman who wrote the original article, Margorie L. Poole.

The writer of this letter came to California from the Middle West four years ago. Before coming here his business compelled him to spend much time in New York City. In all of the time he has been here he has seen less of poverty, hard times or destitution than in any one month of the winter season in the Middle West or in New York.

While the article which you reprint is not really worthy of even an attempt at refutation, there are some items which will be taken up, just to show how absurd the entire article must be. It is true that oranges can be purchased here for "four bits a dozen." It is also true that at no time since I came here have I been unable to buy good oranges, even if not the most fancy shipping kind, for from 15 to 20 cents a dozen, the smaller ones for less than that.

The statement "with the approach of the rainy season they find that traveling has lost its flavor" indicates such ignorance upon the part of the writer as to make one feel that she has not only never been in California during the so-called "rainy season," but has not even taken the trouble to find out just what the "rainy season" is. During the glorious, sunshiny months of winter we do have occasional rainy days. It is then that the fields, trees and flowers are at their best. With our thousands of miles of paved roads, to say nothing of electric lines, with superb service, connecting every community in the Southland with Los Angeles, travel at no time loses its flavor. It is delightful at any season of the year.

The writer listened to a "realtor" when he first came here. The lot he bought for $800 is now worth $3750. Out of his earnings since coming to California he has built a home representing an investment of over $5000. He paid the standard wage scale for his building, at that, the same scale as is now paid, everywhere, to men qualified to work. He has seen the 16,000 people, in which grow to a city of 60,000.

The attached page, torn from Los Angeles Times of last will give your writer, if he cares to learn, some real tion about industries and here. Please note the "Los Angeles manufacturing gain of 49 per cent." The for the metropolitan area 000,000; also that building to date are $54,789,490.

BETTER THAN CASH for YOUR HEIRS

IF YOU TRAIN your children in habits of simple thrift, whether you leave them much money or not, they are likely not to know want. But if they get from you much cash and little training in handling money, their net heritage may be poverty and bitter regret.

Thrift must be a FAMILY matter, a part of the routine of life, if it is to become a habit of the mind of your children.

BOUND IN FIGHT WITH BURGLARS

Capt. Sheffield Says Trio Foiled in Robbery

One Thief Believed Shot by Pavilion Manager

Hospitals Checked for Trace of Wounded Man

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

NEWPORT BEACH, May 18.—In a brush with three burglars he discovered in the Corona Del Mar Bathing Pavilion this morning, Capt. T. W. Sheffield, manager of the pavilion, fired several shots, one of which he believes took effect, but in a fight that followed was subdued by two of the thugs and was bound and gagged.

Sheffield was awakened in his room over the pavilion by the noise made by the prowlers. He fired several shots at the trio he discovered in the pavilion and rushed downstairs hoping to capture the burglars.

Two of the burglars jumped on him and after a struggle, trussed him up and gagged him. The intruders fled without taking anything, Sheffield told police who released him some time after the battle.

Sheffield is a former instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and holds numerous swimming and other medals and is identified with Red Cross work.

Police today were searching for the trio and were checking hospitals and physicians, hoping to locate the burglar who Sheffield believes was wounded.

With the exception of Learner, the defendants also are accused of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act, charging illegal purchase of forty ounces of French cocaine. Meadows is at liberty on $35,000 bond and the others are in the Los Angeles County Jail.

RADIO ANTENNA ON EVERY HEAD

So Asserts Founder of New Thought System Who Says Some Are Bald Because They Don't Tune in on Primal Energy

Bald-headed men are that way because they don't use their hair to absorb power from the universal source of primal energy, says Eugene Fersen of Washington, lecturer and founder of a new religio-scientific system of thought, who arrived at the Alexandria yesterday.

Artists, says Fersen, musicians, painters and the like are nearly always plentifully equipped with hirsute adornment. That's because they are in constant tune with the source of primal energy, the hairs of their head serving as do the aerials of a radio machine. Their hair gets exercise that way and so doesn't die off and fall out. But bald-headed men, he asserts, confine their mental operations mainly to forces within themselves, reasoning and such, and naturally their hair languishes through disuse and presently disappears.

HUMAN RADIOS

Development of human radio power forms part of Fersen's philosophy. "Every human being possesses the ability to tap the fountain of universal, infinite energy if he knows how," declared Fersen. "Animals have it. Birds fly from Labrador to South Africa without feed or water. The physical energy with which they start out wouldn't suffice for such a journey. But through their feathers they absorb energy from the ether."

Fersen was a Russian baron before he became the leader of a new-thought movement and is conversant with conditions in Russia. He hasn't used his title after he became an American citizen, he explained.

"The abandonment of all belief in a supreme being by 180,000,000 Russians will have a profound effect on religion," he said. "This irreligious state of mind is going to be communicated to the whole world, not by physical means of transmission but through thought waves. It will affect the nations west of Russia first, for thought flows from east to west, following the course of the sun.

EXPLAINS JAZZ

"Already the Russian influence is seen in Germany, France, Italy, England and to some extent in the United States. It is this influence which is largely responsible for the lack of interest in the old religions today and the increased enthusiasm for motion pictures, sports and other forms of diversion. Eventually the world will return to religion but it will be a form that differs from the ancient doctrines."

Fersen is in Los Angeles to deliver a series of lectures on his teachings. He stated that he already numbers many adherents to his theories in this section.

STOCK SALE SOUGHT

Telephone Company Also Planning Extensions at Beach

As a means of financing the automatic telephone service installed in San Bernardino and put into operation Sunday midnight, the Associated Telephone Company went before the State Railroad Commission yesterday to request permission to sell $300,000 worth of stock. The hearing was conducted by Examiner Williams.

Part of the issue also will be used to finance additions made to the company's service in Long Beach, it was said. Representatives of the company said that it was expected that the issue would be absorbed by present stockholders and employees of the concern.

PASADENA MEN SEEK STAGE LINE TRANSFER

Application for approval of the sale of the Pasadena-Ocean Park Stage Line from its present owners to T. C. Gillespie of Los Angeles was filed with the State Railroad Commission yesterday. N. A. Webb, F. S. Hendricks and D. E. Hamilton of Pasadena now operate the line and have agreed to sell the service to Gillespie for $130,000. The bus line operates in Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Hollywood and Ocean Park. Gillespie represents that the service will be improved if the transfer is effected.

WOULD RAISE WATER RATE

A proposal to increase water rates from 10 to 50 cents by the California Vineyard and Improvement Company in North Cucamonga townsite was laid before the State Railroad Commission yesterday by Nelson M. Van Fleet, owner, for approval. Van Fleet stated that installation of new mains in the district is necessary and the higher rates are proposed to carry the construction expenses.

Waives Hearing Second Time in Still Blast Case

"It's all a mistake," Grover Cleveland Stevens, accused of operating a public nuisance, declared yesterday as he appeared in United States Commissioner Turney's court.

"Yes, it's all a mistake," a bonding company representative assured the commissioner with less show of excitement than his client.

"Never mind the mistakes," the Commissioner said. "Why weren't you in court Saturday to be examined? Didn't you know your bond of $2000 would be forfeited?"

"But I wasn't supposed to appear," Stevens said. "I waived examination last Monday and was ready to plead in District Court."

"Well if you waived examination Monday the court didn't hear you and you'll have to do it again," Commissioner Turney replied. Stevens did.

The defendant is asserted by Federal officials to have rented a house in Verdugo Park several weeks ago and recently a mammoth still exploded there, wrecking the residence. Saturday half a dozen citizens waited an hour in Commissioner Turney's court to serve papers on Stevens for $2500 damage to the house.

"CONQUEROR" EDITOR PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Plea of not guilty was entered in Federal court yesterday before Judge James by Joel E. Smith, editor of the new thought magazine, the Conqueror, and his case went over to July 13 for setting of trial. Smith furnished $5000 bond required in his indictment by the Federal grand jury and was liberated after two days in the Los Angeles County Jail. Smith is charged with misuse of the mails.

TICKETS FOR SHRINE EVENTS AT COLISEUM NOW ON SALE

The fifty-first annual session of the Imperial Council, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will be conducted in Los Angeles, June 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Motley H. Flint, who has had charge of numerous successful conventions and drives, is director-general and active head of the executive committee.

Seven spectacles, band concerts and parades will be staged in the Coliseum, at Exposition Park. It is expected that 2,000,000 people will want to see these attractions, but only 60,000 seats are available.

This is the first time in the history of this country that the attempt is being made to put on a convention costing $400,000 without soliciting donations or program advertising from any firm or individual, and the funds can only be raised by the sale of Coliseum tickets. It is the civic duty of every citizen to co-operate in this great event for Los Angeles. There will positively be no funds requested or donations solicited from anyone, outside of Shrine members, except the sale of these tickets and each purchaser of tickets will more than get his money's worth in events to be staged at the Coliseum.

The B. H. Dyas Company, Seventh and Olive streets, is handling the sale of season tickets covering the entire week's events at $5.50 each.

CITY OFFICE WATER BILL IS APPROVED

Council Committee's Act May Presage Payment for Fire and Park Supply

As a possible first step toward the city's paying the public service department for water used by the fire, park and other municipal departments, the City Council's Finance Committee yesterday recommended that the city pay $479 for water used in the Temple Block, in which many city offices are located.

The water department's total bill for water to be used by the city government during the fiscal year beginning July 1 is $600,000 and Councilman Mushet said that though the city has paid for its water during but one year and has received free millions of dollars' worth of water, he was in favor of payment for this service.

Chief Engineer Mulholland, although stressing many times to the public the free water given all city departments by the public service department, has never pressed the demand for payment for this service. As the new charter provides that the water department must pay interest and sinking fund charges on all outstanding water bonds including water district bonds, it is not unlikely that the Council's Budget Committee may this year look favorably upon paying the department for the water furnished the city departments. The meetings of the Budget Committe begin the first week in June, and the budget must be completed by July 1.

YOUTHFUL ORGANIZER HITS SNAG

May be Made Ward of Local Juvenile Court as Result of Soliciting Funds

Arthur Thompson, 16-year-old organizer of the Trail Rangers, Helpful Scouts, yesterday was made the defendant in a petition filed in Juvenile Court asking that he be declared a ward of the court.

Although a typewritten card, said to have been used by Thompson in a canvass of office buildings, on behalf of the Helpful Scouts, stated in flowery terms that the funds were to be used to give summer outings to shutins and poor children, the purported philanthropic organization existed only in the boy's mind, according to police.

The boy is declared to have collected $50 from nearly 100 persons whom he solicited to aid in the drive for funds.

The petition filed in Juvenile Court makes no criminal charges against the boy. It asks for the order on the grounds that he ran away from home in Vancouver, B. C., and is begging and gathering alms. He is at Juvenile Hall.

MANN SUSPECT LOSES

Judge James Orders Sportelli's Removal to Eastern City

"Let your honor do as you please," Charles Sportelli tersely informed Federal Judge James yesterday on his appearance in court on proceedings for his removal to Newark, N. J., for asserted violation of the Mann White Slave Act last year in bringing Margaret Farington from the eastern city to Los Angeles.

Sportelli several days ago frightened his two bondsmen, Antonio and Antoinette Bonfiglio, so much that they secreted themselves in United States Marshal Sittel's office for eight hours while officers were seeking the defendant. Upon being surrendered by the Bonfiglios to United States Commissioner Turney, Sportelli glared at his former friends and declared: "I want no more bonds; I'll go to jail."

He was ordered removed to Newark.

EX-DEPUTY SHERIFF LOEB HELD FOR TRIAL

Arthur Loeb, former deputy sheriff, was held for trial in Superior Court under $25,000 bail by Justice Russill yesterday at the conclusion of the suspect's hearing on a grand larceny charge. The charge against Loeb originally was that of accepting a bribe as a public officer. When he was taken in for arraignment, however, it was found that his badge had been taken up a year ago and Justice Russill issued a special commitment charging grand larceny. Loeb is said to have accepted $45 from Charles E. Mahler to "fix" a speed tag for the latter and to have kept the money.

SCHWARTZ CASE CONTINUED

The hearing of Bernard Schwartz, former broker, on charges of seeking to influence the jury which recently convicted him of violation of the Corporate Securities Act, was continued by Judge Crail of the Superior Court yesterday until June 22. The suspect's bail was reduced from $10,000 to $5000 pending the outcome of his appeal for the conviction.

DAMAGE JUDGMENT UPHELD

Damages to a carload of lettuce, which the Superior Court found to amount to $425.04, in favor of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., and against the Pacific Electric, were found to be correct yesterday by the Appellate Court which heard the railroad company's appeal. The lettuce was shipped in May, 1920, from San Fernando and was delivered in Milwaukee.

BRIDGE BIDS ARE OPENED

Bids were opened by the Board of Public Works yesterday for the new steel concrete bridge to be built over the Arroyo Seco at Avenue 60. The bids were submitted on a basis of unit prices for materials and labor, and these will be analyzed by the City Engineer. The bridge will cost about $125,000.

Elephants were used to keep the crowd of curious natives from the airplane of an air exploring party in India recently, but the animals had to be watched to keep them from sitting on the plane.

Will Your Sheets Outlast Six Years of Laundering?

ASTONISHING strength with lightness makes Wamsutta Percale different from any other sheeting. Wamsutta Percale Sheets and Pillow Cases not only retain their original beauty through years of laundering; their fine strong texture grows increasingly soft and luxurious.

Prof. Millard's famous test proved Wamsutta Percale to be stronger after 160 launderings (equivalent to 6 years home laundering) than 23 other brands of sheetings subjected to the same test.

The new Wamsutta Tape Selvedge is another important feature which prevents tearing. Make certain that you see the Wamsutta green and gold label on every sheet and pillow case you buy. In all sizes hemstitched.

SAVED FRIEND FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Heckman Decided to Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Note Results—

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—"I had pains in my back and sides and headaches, so that I could not do my work. Once in a while I would be sick a week. A friend told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had kept her out of the hospital, so I thought I would try it, as I had tried a number of other medicines. Now I feel like a different person and am telling my friends about the Vegetable Compound helping me, hoping they will let it help them, too."—Mrs. ETHEL HECKMAN, Box 21, R. F. D. No. 1, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Saved From An Operation

Monessen, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious case of female trouble. The worst pain I had was in my right side and back with swelling in my side so that I was unable to walk at one time. I was ordered to go to the hospital, but here I am, still without an operation. I saw your advertisement and have taken the Vegetable Compound with splendid results."—Mrs. J. NELSON, 842 Donner Ave., Monessen, Pa.

Renowned Composer Prefers Kroeger Piano

Gentlemen of the Kroeger Co.:

On my numerous professional tours in the United States I had occasion to make use of the concert grand pianos of nearly all the most reputed makers in the country.

On my approaching tournee I have selected your magnificent Kroeger in preference to all others with which I am acquainted. Its grandeur of tone, endless resources and pliant, sympathetic touch have so endeared it to me that I take special pride in the reflection that upon your pianos I shall make my farewells to the American public.

Wishing you all the success that your pianos should bring to you,

I am, respectfully yours,
LEOPOLD GODOWSKY.

You will agree with Godowsky when you have touched the keys of this famous instrument. The choice of artists for nearly a century.

European Trip

Miss Ruth Bireley, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bireley of 1555 Ogden Drive, Hollywood, left yesterday for the East, where, the 23rd inst., she is sailing with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Garrison (Mildred Bireley) of Manteca for a three months' trip abroad. They will sail from Montreal and are planning to visit England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales before crossing over to the continent. Returning home they will dock at New York and before coming to California will visit with relatives and friends of the eastern cities and will come west by way of the Canadian Pacific, stopping at Lake Louise, Banff and several other points of interest.

Dr. Garrison, who is the son of Mrs. Ada Garrison of Los Angeles, was graduated from the medical school of the University of Southern California and since his marriage to Miss Mildred Bireley five years ago this young couple have made their home in Manteca.

the beautiful new floor designs in Armstrong's Inlaid Linoleum offer a real opportunity

THESE new pattern floors, now on display at good furniture and department stores, represent the last word in modern floor beauty. There are rich Handcraft tiles; two-toned, rippled Jaspés; natural marble effects; smart block and all-over designs—patterns for every type of home, for every kind of room.

Armstrong's Inlaid Floors are easy to install. Experts can lay any pattern you select in less than a day. They will cement it in place over a lining of builders' deadening felt. Waxed and polished, such a floor will last for a lifetime.

And how easy to keep an Armstrong's Linoleum Floor clean! It never needs scrubbing—just dry-mop it daily and wax it occasionally. It is springy to walk on, too. And it is sanitary, for there are no cracks to collect dust and dirt.

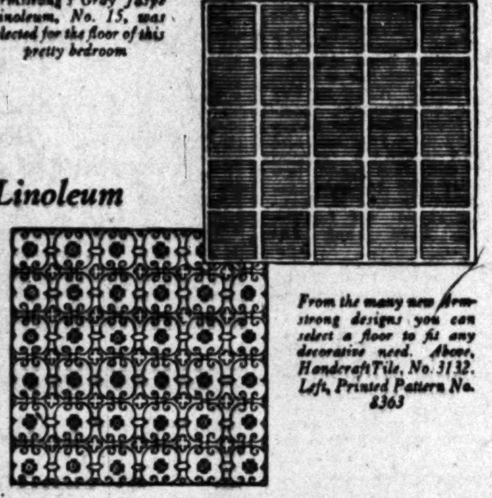
Above all, an Armstrong's Linoleum Floor is sensibly economical. It costs no more to install than an ordinary floor of wood—yet it never needs refinishing.

This may seem too good to be true. That's why we want you to stop at a good store in town and see this newer, this better kind of linoleum flooring, which bears the well-known Armstrong Circle A trade-mark.

Armstrong's Gray Jaspé Linoleum, No. 15, was selected for the floor of this pretty bedroom

And don't fail to see Armstrong's Printed Linoleum

The new designs in Armstrong's Printed Linoleum are also on display. These designs are printed in heavy oil paints over a long-wearing linoleum base. They will last for years. Easy to clean, easy to install, soft to the tread, and low in cost.



From the many new Armstrong designs you can select a floor to fit any decorative need. Above, Handcraft Tile, No. 3132. Left, Printed Pattern No. 8363

"Rugs of Practical Beauty" one decorator calls them. They are artistically designed to blend with the most exacting decorative schemes. Made in two grades: Inlaid (the colors go through to the burlap back) and Printed (like printed linoleum). They lie flat, will not fray or curl at the edges. A few minutes' mopping cleans them. Convenient sizes for small or large rooms. See them this week at all good stores.

CORNS AND BUNIONS

Here's a good old definition of a corn for the cross-word puzzle addicts—(I've recovered, thank Allah!)—Who wants some wordy words.

CORN (CLAVUS)

A local hyperkeratosis with inflammation and atrophy of guticle, situated especially in the the phalangeal articulations of the toes or the metarsal prominences.

Another old writer refers to corns as "cuticular excrescences." That sounds profane enough to relieve our feelings. He goes on to say: "The fashion of considering certain ailments as beneath the dignity of science is pernicious and the result has been that the neglected extremities of the system have been consigned to ignorant quacks or to absurd or vulgar prejudices. If trifles make up the sum of human bliss they often make the sum of human misery."

That boy had suffered, evidently.

Treatment. If possible, go to a good chiropodist and have your corns pared off. Or, if you are skilful, you may do your own paring. You've got to dissect out the core or you won't have any relief. The little safety blades with the blade on only one side, make good corn knives. Always soak the feet for a short time before parking; then you are not so liable to cut yourself. Pass the blade through a flame two or three times, quickly, to sterilize it. If you do cut yourself, apply a little iodin and don't leave any overlapping tags so that any germs present will cuddle under and begin to multiply. Keep a piece of clean gauze or a bt of absorbent cotton (held on with adhesive plaster,) wet with some antiseptic solution—boric acid, one teaspoonful to the cup of water, boiled together, is good—until it is entirely healed.

There is probably less danger in remedies which soften the corns and permit them to be pulled off. The following are good prescriptions:

CORN REMEDIES

Flexible collodion, 1 ounce.

Ten grains of cannabis indica may be added to relieve pain.

Soak the foot before applying. Then apply solution night and morning for five to six days. Soak the foot again in hot water, softened with soda, one teaspoon to the quart; then gently pull off corn.

After your corns are removed, you can keep them off by a daily rubbing of pumice stone.

After they once form, even though correct shoes are worn, they are apt to grow again after removal unless this precaution is taken, for unlike the horny layer elsewhere, the corn horny layer grows faster than it is shed.

If the corns are very painful, apply a ring of felt wadding with an adhesive side, with the hollow part drectly over the side of the core. (You can get these things I have spoken of in most any drugstore.)

SOFT CORNS

Wash daily with soap and water and wipe between the toes very thoroughly (Always do this.) Try to remove the corn first; then paint with spirits of camphor at night and at all times wear little wads of lamb's wool between the toes. Put a pinch of baking soda or boracic acid powder between the toes first. (Lamb's wool can be purchased in little cartons at the drugstore.)

BUNIONS

Bunions are always due to the wearing of shoes that do not fit, usually those that are too short. Children especially should have shoes large enough to allow for their growth. Bunions are partial dislocations of the great toe from pressure. Eventually the toe joint becomes enlarged and inflamed and the bursa or sack on the joint also becomes inflamed. Now may come a corn on that! The only real cure for bunions is the operative removal of the projecting joint. Bunion plasters may give relief.

Bootlegger Files Plea of Guilty on Two Charges

Two ounces of moonshine sopped from the pavement last January 8 yesterday cost Frank P. Terry $500 in Federal Judge James's court. Fifteen gallons of Scotch liquor, gin and moonshine later found in his home at 8106 Burlington street only cost him $250. Federal dry agents also offered as evidence funnels, tubes, filters and various other articles. Terry pleaded guilty. Judge James granted Terry until June 1, next, in which to pay the $750.

John W. Johnson of Victorville pleaded not guilty to the same charges brought against Terry, transportation and possession, and upon recommendation of Assistant United States Attorney Ohannesian the case against him was dismissed.

ANGELENO AIDS Y MEET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 18.—R. L. Olson of Los Angeles, a second-year student in the Harvard graduate school of arts and sciences, has been appointed to the committee in charge of the annual Y.M.C.A. conference at Silver Bay, N. Y. The conference will last from June 11 to 19. Delegations will attend from many colleges and universities.

COMMITTEE MAKE-UP FOR NEW BOARD

Council Defers Action as Difference of Opinion Rises on Organization

Has the present City Council the right to establish the fifteen committees for the next City Council?

Councilman Allan, chairman of the Council's Special Committee, could see no objection to preparing an ordinance establishing the committees so that on July 1 the new Council will have the ordinance before it for revision and adoption. President Workman, a member of the committee, differed from Councilman Allan and said that the organization and rules of the next Council are strictly the concern of the next Council.

As a result of this difference of opinion, no action was taken by the Council yesterday on Councilman Allan's tentative organization of fifteen committees. As this is an increase over the present Council organization of nine committees, Councilman Allan's plans call for these new committees: New Street, Recreational, City Planning, Efficiency and Personnel, Police and Fire, and Traffic and Lighting. Whatever names of the committees are finally decided upon, there will be fifteen committees in the next Council and each Councilman will be a committee chairman. The most important committee will be the Finance Committee.

Jail Sentence Given Chinese on Drug Charge

Lule Ywe, Chinese and 54 years of age, bore little resemblance to the proprietor of a silk bedecked drug den yesterday when he was sentenced in Federal Judge James's court to serve eleven months in the San Bernardino County Jail for violating the Harrison Narcotic Act.

Ywe was clad in blue denim and his long, stiff gray hair refused to obey the patting and smoothing that he bestowed upon it. Three weeks ago Federal narcotic agents raided Ywe's barn that from the outside appeared ready for the wrecker. Inside, agents said they found considerable quantity of raw opium and some morphine, eighteen "decks" or berths for wooers of the poppy seed drug, mother-of-pearl inlaid pipes, silk and satin cushions and velvet drapings.

The defendant changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced to jail upon pleas of government agents, who asserted that if liberated with a fine Ywe would seriously interfere with investigations now being conducted.

Raises Moths Feeds Them as Scientific Test

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 17.—Benjamin Keith, a former university student, has opened a moth experimental station of his own. He has collected nearly every known species of moth and is raising them on the various fabrics used in the making of clothes.

So far, he reports that moths prefer pure-thread wool to shoddy, dark clothing to light and relish food spots. National campaign for your protection.

SHAW CONCERN GIVES UP FIGHT

License for Stock Sales is Suspended on Request

Attorneys Explain Desire to Avoid Defense Expense

Hearings on Charges Made by Investors End

Hearings by the State Corporation Commission into charges that W. J. Shaw & Co., brokers, had resorted to misrepresentation in the sale of stock to investors came to an unexpected conclusion yesterday.

The company, through its attorneys, requested that its license to sell stock be suspended and the commission promptly revoked the license. The attorneys stated that the company no longer desired to sell stock and that it also desired to escape the heavy expense incident to defending itself against the charges.

The hearings had been in progress for the past six months. They began at Sacramento last December on complaint of investors who charged that the company's agent had misrepresented the value and possibilities of the stock being handled by the company. The charges referred particularly to stock in the Pacific Stores, Inc., A. Meister & Sons Company and the Morosco Holding Company, which had been handled by the Shaw Company through its offices here, in San Francisco, Sacramento, Fresno and San Diego.

The hearings were adjourned to Los Angeles after the company had received a conditional permit to sell further stock. This permit was revoked yesterday and the hearings thus ended.

RECEIVING HOSPITAL SEEKS NEW QUARTERS

Police Surgeon Goodrich was yesterday afternoon instructed by the City Council's Finance Committee to search for new quarters for the Receiving Hospital, as the lease of the present rooms at First and Hill streets expires July 1. Originally the plan was for the Receiving Hospital to be located in the county's new Hall of Justice, but as this plan has been abandoned, the Council now desires to rent more adequate quarters for the Receiving Hospital until the city's own jail, police headquarters and Receiving Hospital building is built.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR SCHOOL ADDITION

Contract was let by the Board of Education last night for an addition to the Wadsworth-street school to James P. Steele, whose bid for $53,600 was the lowest received. The plumbing contract was awarded to H. E. Murray for $4790 and heating to Hickman Brothers for $4674.

WAX SHOW EXHIBITORS ARE SEIZED

"Parisian Novelty" Proves Too Novel; Mark Seller Also in Toils

Several of the Main-street showpeople, those that cater to bored longshoremen and festive Mexican laborers, found their way into Police Court yesterday.

Florence Gannan, Charles Bamong and A. E. Snyder were brought before Judge Bullock charged with exhibiting indecent wax figures in a show in the 100-block. The place was known as the "Parisian Novelty Show" and investigators from the City Prosecutor's office reported it decidedly novel.

The display had only recently arrived in town and soon after it was put on exhibition the arrests followed. The three proprietors were held under $150 bond each and will appear in court on the 22nd inst.

Speelers have been selling German marks on the sidewalks of the local Bowery and as long as they sell them as novelties the law cannot complain. But the police have received complaints that some of these sidewalk brokers offer their wares as good investments soon to be redeemed at par by the German Republic. L. Diamond, one of the German mark "speculators," got $25 or twenty-five days upon his arraignment in Police Court yesterday.

RESTAURANT MAN IS HELD AS SWINDLER

In investigating a questioned check given by Victor F. Ryan, 40 years of age, a restaurant keeper at 717 South Olive street, Detective Lieutenant Bligh yesterday dscovered, he says, that Ryan is wanted in Aurora, Ill., on bunko charges. The check proved good, but Ryan was nevertheless arrested and held as a suspected fugitive from justice. The police wired to Aurora and Chief of Police Michaels of that city replied, it was said, that extradition proceedings for Ryan will be started at once. The wire said Ryan is accused of a $1500 swindle in October, 1920.

RETURNS FROM WILDS OF PERU

White Medicine Man Idol of Indian Tribes

Dr. S. T. Johnston Founded Christian Hospital

Spent Five Years in Cold Mountain Lands

Lost in the frozen wastes of Peru, 12,500 feet above the sea, is just one of many thrills afforded a doctor who seeks to practice in that strange country, according to Dr. S. Theron Johnston, formerly of Los Angeles, who returned on the Pacific Mail liner Colombia yesterday after five years in that country. With him were Mrs. Johnston and their daughter Thelma, 5½ years of age, and a ready speaker of three languages including that of the mountain Indians.

When the little family went into the little town of Juliaca, Peru, five years ago they were the only white family. White folks were a curiosity, and a Christian medicine man an unheard of thing. A month ago when the little family wended its way to civilization and sailed for home, they left behind them an Indian and a native population that kissed their hands and wept at their departure. They left also a hospital founded by them through the joint efforts of the Seventh Day Adventists and the Southern Peru Railroad, that is fast succeeding the medicine men who for untold ages have administered the ailing with herb juices and weird incantations.

One lone automobile of ancient vintage is the community's only claim to distinction and modernity, Dr. Johnston says, and it is owned by an enterprising Italian merchant, and is brought forth for exhibition only on feast days perhaps four times each year.

There are no roads, he said, only trails through the fastnesses, covered a large part of the year with ice, with the volcano El Nieste ever smoking just above them through the snow.

It is a wonderful country for adventure, but no place in which to rear children according to American standards and opportunities, Dr. Johnston said, so they have returned home "for good." They will make their home for the present at 1800 Glenwood Road, Glendale.

PROHIBITION AIDS CUBAN RUM MAKING

Baccardi Distilling Now One of Big Industries in Pearl of Antilles

Brewing baccardi, or perhaps more properly distilling it, is becoming one of the big industries in Cuba, since Uncle Sam placed a large foot on the manufacture of strong waters in the United States, according to Oscar Baltz and G. F. Flynn, young American engineers who arrived at the Clark yesterday after a couple of years' sojourn in the Pearl of the Antilles, where they were engaged in copper mining.

And baccardi, aver these boys, isn't at all a bad form of thirst-quencher, being made of sugar cane and possessing none of the qualities provocative of a dark brown taste in the mouth or other disagreeable features. "In fact, baccardi is being exported extensively into France, where it is taking the place of the Frenchman's favorite tipple, cognac," observed Mr. Flynn.

The mines with which Baltz and Flynn were connected are located near Matahambre in the Province of Pinar del Rio, in Western Cuba, and are operated by the American Metal Company of New York.

"Few Americans seem to be aware that Cuba produces copper," said Baltz. "The Matahambre mines are quite extensive, however, the ore obtained there being of very high grade. They constitute one of the company's most valuable properties. All the manual labor is done by natives or European immigrants, who are numerous since America tightened up her immigration laws. The executive positions are held by Americans.

BOESMILLER TO MAKE FOREIGN-TRADE TOUR

Because of the insistent demand from Europe for Los Angeles-made showcases, fixtures and soda fountains, A. C. Boesmiller, sales manager of the Los Angeles Showcase and Fxture Company, will leave for an extended business trip in Europe on the 26th inst., during which he will make arrangements for the exportation of local store fixtures in large quantities.

"Our export trade has developed so rapidly," Mr. Boesmiller said, "that we feel it necessary to give the foreign storekeeper the same type of merchandising counsel which is creating new stores in this country. Merchants overseas are thirsty for information on American mehods.

DOG RUNS UP $180 BOARD BILL IN YEAR

Former Owner Declines to Pay; Hearty Eater to be Auctioned Off

Here's a dog that cost $75. The poor ole houn' has run up a board bill of $180 at a dog hospital. What's the answer?

James J. Gormley, former chauffeur, who came into "big money," when he eloped with Helen Kelly, niece of John F. Powers, his boss, declared that as owner of the dog he refused to pay the bill. The keeper of the dog hospital can sell the dog or give it away as far as Gormley is concerned.

Dr. E. E. Kimnach, the veterinarian, said he will try to sell the dog, and failing that will give it away. The dog is a female Great Dane. She eats a good square meal. The doctor ought to know—he has been feeding her for nearly a year. The doctor and Gormley apparently cannot agree as to just why the dog was left in the hospital so long.

Through his attorneys, Warren L. Williams and Seymour Silverton, Dr. Kimnach has advertised that he will auction off the dog.

VETERAN'S SON WED AT G.A.R. MEET

Pioneer Settler Marries Widow of Friend on First Day of Encampment

William Henry Palmer, 69 years of age, coal and wood dealer of 971 Magnolia avenue, and Mrs. Julia Ella Cover, 63, of 1111 Elden avenue, widow of Perry D. Cover, pioneer Riverside orange grower, were married yesterday at the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Sacramento, which opened yesterday morning.

Mr. Palmer is a member of the Sons of Veterans of Los Angeles and his bride is active in the Daughters of Veterans society. Mr. Palmer was a friend of Mr. Cover, who died a year ago.

Mrs. Cover's relatives here were not surprised at news of the couple's marriage, although neither one confided in any one. Both are pioneer residents of Southern California. Mrs. Palmer came to Riverside in 1877 from Indiana.

This is Mr. Palmer's third marriage venture and his bride's second.

JUSTINE VALSE ESCAPES

Film Extra, Asserted to Have Had Part in Pola Negri Blackmailing, Flees Beach Sanatorium

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, May 18.—Justine Valse, artists' model and motion-picture extra, known as the "peacock girl" incarcerated in Del Mar Sanatorium, near this city, early Saturday night by Mrs. Jean McCracken, psycopathic parole officer, escaped from the institution shortly afterwards, it was revealed at police headquarters this morning. Her escape was made after she had slipped on a dress over her night clothing and walked from the building by way of a rear doorway. No information as to her whereabouts has been received.

The girl, who has been in the limelight of late, first attracted attention when she stated she was an unwilling party in an asserted attempt to blackmail Poli Nerga, screen star. It was revealed that she had been cast as an extra in several Pola Negri pictures, and that she slightly resembled the star. Compromising pictures of herself with a man had been taken, she stated, and were to be used against Miss Negri. During an investigation which followed, physicians stated she was suffering from an acutely confused mind. A long rest was advised.

Her escape from the Del Mar institution was discovered about 9 o'clock Saturday night, according to reports received by police here this morning.

RADIO SHOW CONTEST TO HAVE CASH PRIZE

In addition to other contests already announced for the first annual amateurs' radio show, to be held from June 1 to 7 in the National Automotive School Building at Figueroa and Santa Barbara streets, Sam Bender, managing director, yesterday decided to award $25 in cash to the speediest operator receiving in Federal code. The regular government test will be given, it was said, by E. S. Farnsworth, who holds a first-class United States commercial radio license, and is considered one of the speediest senders and receivers on the Coast. Cash prizes exceedong $1000 already have been appropriated.

TECHNICAL EXPERT SUES FILM COMPANY

Asserting that the Consolidated Film Industries fired him without cause, breaking a five-year contract at $10,000 a year, Leonard Abrahams, who styled himself a technical expert, yesterday filed in Superior Court a suit for $50,000 damages against the corporation. Abrahams asserted he signed the contract February 2, last, and was discharged the 6th inst. The suit was filed for him by Attorneys Milton Cohen and Jerome H. Kann. Abrahams declared he was employed as a technical expert in the Los Angeles plant of the corporation.

EXPENSE OF PRIMARY ELECTION $150,000

On recommendation of City Clerk Dominguez, the City Council's Finance Committee yesterday agreed to ask the City Council to provide payment for the 6000 election officers at the election on the 5th inst. at the rate of $10 each. This will require an expenditure of $60,000, to which $15,000 will be added for the rent of polling places. Clerks and supplies will add another $75,000 to the cost of the election, which, despite the strictest economy exercised by the City Clerk, will make the total cost of the primary election $150,000.

MAN STATES 'HEIRS' HAVE HIS MONEY

Gems Also Held by Two Young Women, He Tells Deputy District Attorney

Two young women he met in San Diego became his "heirs" and "inherited" his money even if he did pull through an operation, Will C. Schurmeyer told Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan yesterday. As a result of the story Deputy Ryan yesterday was considering the issuance of complaints.

A remark a nurse made to another just before his operation sowed the seeds of suspicion and doub as to the motives of his friends, Schurmeyer said. The remark was: "Those vultures are waiting for their victim to die." Suspicion grew when he said he saw the women were wearing his diamond rings and stickpins he thought were in trust in San Diego awaiting the outcome of his illness.

Shurmeyer told Deputy Ryan he was ill in San Diego last April. The women were friendly with him and brought him to Los Angeles. Fearing he would die he wrote instructions to a San Diego bank to turn over to the women $1500 in diamonds and $4000 in cash, to be held in trust, returned to him if he lived, but if he died, hospital and funeral expenses were to be paid and the women were to inherit the rest.

He said after he pulled through the operation he found the women had kept his rings and had drawn out part of the money. Schurmeyer lives at 1249 West Sixth street, and is past middle-age. Both women are said to be young.

Investigation of the case was made originally by Deputy Sheriffs Monteleone and Lingo.

Thursday is Bundle Day in Near East Work

Clothing that under ordinary circumstances would be turned over to the rag man after the housecleaning this year will cover thousands of desert waifs in the Near East. According to the Near East Relief Committee, Wright & Callender Building, "Bundle Day" this year will prove an even greater success than last.

Thursday has been set aside for assembling the bundles, and practically every child in Los Angeles is expected to carry his cast-off things to school that day.

Fourteen thousand children who were "desert derelicts" eighteen months ago have learned trades and are now earning their own livelihood.

HOLLYWOOD STUDENTS DISPLAY TALENT

At a recital given Saturday evening at the Hollywood Conservatory, the musicianly standard of some of the individual teacher's has scarcely ever been more in evidence. Pianists, violinists and a singer, combined their various talents.

Marguerite Neff, soprano, a pupil of Jesse Weimar, sang several songs, displaying not only a really fresh and attractive voice, but all the little niceties which go into good singing. Eunice Crook played two numbers from Sibelius's "Land of a Thousand Lakes," a Brahms "Fantasia," (this was especially well done,) and "Whims" by Schumann. The young lady has decided temperament and innate feeling.

Nina Blanche Horner played Newland's "Valse Caprice" with a beautiful, soft lilt; the Sibelius "Romance" and "Toccata" by Paradisi served further to display her fine touch and fluent technique. Raymond Bacon, a pupil of Gladys Littell, the director of the school, played "Rigoletto-Paraphrase" by Verdi-Liszt.

Among the pupils of Marie Dean especially fine was the work of her students who gave memorized interpretations of two piano numbers. Margaret Arnold played numbers by Seeling and Korngold; Arlie Dexter performed Dawes Melodie and the "Military Polonaise;" and two of Mme. Lisetta Kalova's violin pupils were heard.

QUAKER CITY TOLD ABOUT BOWL MUSIC

Mrs. Carter Presents Bid to Philadelphia Conductor to Lead Concerts Here

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Mrs. J. J. Carter, founder of the famous summer orchestra concerts in the Hollywood Bowl, is in Philadelphia, and has extended a personal invitation to Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, to be one of the guest conductors there this summer. Mr. Stokowski, it is understood, has the subject under favorable consideration, and if his summer schedule can be so arranged as to permit, he will accept the invitation.

Mrs. Carter is making a tour of part of the country, with the object of securing the most distinguished orchestra leaders and soloists for the two months' season which opens in July.

Mrs. Carter today related the story of the music movement in Hollywood from the time four years ago, when sixty-five acres in the center of the motion-picture city was purchased by the people for a summer concert theater. She told of the first $10,000 that was collected in small coins by the gifts of school children, film people and farmers that bought the valley and made it a permanent civic possession.

Veterans' Fund Organization is Progressing

Organization work for the American Legion endowment fund for disabled veterans and orphans of veterans is well under way in the Southern California district with Buron R. Fitts, Past State Commander, and chairman of the district, and Dave J. O'Leary, field secretary, making a flying visit to virtually every city in the district.

Headquarters have been established by Fitts in the Southwest Building in Los Angeles.

The southern division comprises the following counties: San Luis Obispo, Kern, Tulare, Inyo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, San Diego Imperial, Kings, Mono, Mariposa, Merced, Madera, Fresno and Stanislaus.

Gov. Richardson is chairman of the endowment fund drive in California, with David P. Barrows, first State commander of the American Legion, in charge of the northern district, and Buron Fitts in charge of the southern district.

National headquarters of the American Legion seek to raise a total of $5,000,000, the income from which will be used to care for disabled veterans and the orphans of veterans

Maj.-Gen. Fries to Visit City on Inspection Tour

Word has been received by Maj. John M. Morris, commanding the Second Battalion, Three Hundred and Second Gas Regiment, that Maj.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, Chief of Chemical Warfare Service of the United States Army, will arrive in Los Angeles on a tour of inspection Friday evening at 7:50 o'clock.

Maj.-Gen. Fries, then Capt. Fries, was United States Army engineer officer here from February, 1906, until August, 1909. Gen. Fries, while here conceived the idea of saving the title of the tide land—then claimed by private interests—to the city of Los Angeles. It is due to his efforts that the lawsuits instituted by the city were successfully terminated, so that today the harbor tide lands are the property of Los Angeles.

Representatives of the Chemical Warfare Service are planning to meet the general on his arrival at the Southern Pacific station.

Next Monday evening, reserve officers will welcome Gen. Fries at a dinner at the University Club, where an informal discussion will be held on chemical warfare subjects.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is planning to entertain him during his stay here.

COUNCIL VOTES FUND FOR BAND CONCERTS

Col. Walter P. Story, commanding the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, was yesterday praised as "a good citizen" by Chairman Mushet of the City Council's Finance Committee after the Councilman had told of Col. Story's spending more than $20,000 to provide music for the public by the regimental band. The committee recommended an appropriation of $3400 to provide concerts by this band at Exposition Park and by Roberts's Golden State Band, probably at Westlake Park until July 1.

TEN FOR ONE QUIZ IS SET FOR TODAY

Grand Jury Will Inquire Into Hennessy and Hibbs Merger Scheme

The grand jury today will begin a formal investigation into the ten-for-one railway merger which is said to have brought Thomas Hennessy and Harry D. Hibbs $300,000 or more from the pockets of avid Southland investors.

While the inquisitorial body is sifting the evidence in the case, Hennessy and Hibbs will appear before Justice Russill for their preliminary hearing on a complaint charging embezzlement. It is expected, however, that the preliminary hearing will be deferred by Justice Russill pending the outcome of the grand jury investigation.

Some thirty or more "investors" in the great "merger" will appear as rapidly as possible before the grand jury to tell what they know of the high-voltage methods said to have been used in obtaining money.

CANDLES TO BURN

Northwestern Alumni to Observe Tradition Tomorrow Night

Alumni of Northwestern University in Southern California will conduct their annual candle-lighting service in the Palm Room of the Maryland Hotel, Pasadena, tomorrow night, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. President Von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California, an alumnus of Northwestern, will address the gathering.

The candle-lighting ceremony is traditional with Northwestern alumni graduates of the university all over the world burning a candle on a designated evening each spring. A feature of the stunt this year will be an address by Walter Dill Scott, president of the university, at Chicago, which will be broadcast over the radio beginning at 7:15 p.m. Central time. Reservations for the Pasadena event may be made by calling Paul W. Jones, TRinity 5917.

Mr. Freund, who was 68 years of age, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bertha Freund, and four children, Leo Freund, Mrs. Ralph Braddock and Mrs. Gertrude McCarthy of Los Angeles and W. F. Freund of Muncie, Ind. Funeral services will be postponed pending the arrival of the son from Indiana.

Tailor Says He Struck Blow in Defense of Job

A suspended sentence was won on an assault charge in Police Judge Richardson's court when Julius Petino, a tailor, said he struck Gabriel A. Bastano in the eye because Bastano, a representative of the Amalgamated Garment Workers, tried to force him to quit work.

"I told him I had a wife and children and couldn't quit," Petino testified. "He said if I didn't I would have to pay some doctor bills."

Both men were employed in the Golden State Tailors' Service, 206 Court street. Bastano complained Petino struck him without reason at Court street and Broadway yesterday.

Mountain-Grown Teas Best

The tea plant grows best in the pure cool atmosphere of a mountain tea garden. The higher the garden, the finer and more delicious the flavor of the tea. This is partly due to the clear sunshine on a high mountain side, partly to the more invigorating air, partly to the more frequent rainfall and perfect drainage. The largest and roughest leaf grown at an elevation of 7000 feet is much superior in flavor to the tiniest tip grown only 2000 feet above sea-level. All teas used in the "SALADA" blends are grown from 4000 feet to 7,500 feet elevation. The trademark "SALADA" is a guarantee of quality.

BRIGHT FARCE

"ETERNAL MASCULINE" IS ETERNALLY AMUSING

By Grace Kingsley

The eternal masculine is a cross-sexion of the life of an antiquated Lew Cody. At least, that's the definition Joe Jackson gave me —between acts of "The Eternal Masculine" at Gertrude Purcell's play which made its very first bow on any stage at Wilkes' Orange Grove last night, with the brilliant Mary Boland starred.

It is froth, but the brightest froth in the world is "The Eternal Masculine," and you are going to have an awfully good time when you go to see it, as quite inevitably you will when your neighbor tells you how amusing it is. The play is a farce comedy, and is a giddy sister to "The Great Lover."

Avery Hopwood told me once that any subject could be played either for comedy or tragedy—excepting death and taxes. Here is the dear old subject of wife running away from husband without telling him she is to become a mother, and meeting him twenty years afterward. Only here it is played for farce and is fast and furiously funny.

Father indeed, faints when he recognizes his wife! And wife exclaims: "Of course, he is faint! No wonder, when he is about to become a father!"

There is a dash of psychoanalysis in the play, and indeed, it rather looks to me as though Miss Purcell started out to make a psychoanalytical drama, and then got to laughing so hard at herself that she turned it into farce.

The piece might have been called "Wolf, Wolf!" Because much of the fun hinges on the fact that mother is such an awful fibber that when she does tell the truth about her husband, nobody believes her, but insists that she is insane.

A clever phase of the construction of the play, to be technical for a moment, is the fact that whenever a situation becomes too absurd, or almost melodramatic, there is always somebody in the scene to kid the situation or the character with a common sense reflection. The wife and mother is one of those clever women who works hard to conceal her cleverness in order to gain her ends.

Bright lines sparkle through the play.

"Don't tell me about it," says Miss Boland to her son. "You should respect your parents' innocence."

"I won't be psychoanalyzed. Think I'm going to have anybody telling me that I'm going to murder my mother so that I can marry my father?"

Mary Boland is vivid and brilliant as the wife and mother, who wants to save her husband from making love to the girl her son is in love with. There are so many clever shadings to her work it is impossible to do justice to them here. She has a bouyant sense of comedy which carries her audience along with her mood.

Rex Cherryman is with us for the first time. He is a finished juvenile actor, and brings much charm and reality to a role that might be colorless in any other hands. I hope he can be persuaded to remain in the West a while.

Richard Tucker is fine as the philandering actor-husband, while Mildred Evelyn, David Munro, Olaf Hytten, Beatrice Prentice, Madeline Kalinowski and Forrest Seabury are adequate. I think Miss Prentice has great promise, though she was a bit nervous at her entrance last night.

McINTYRE & HEATH IN BIG TRIUMPH

"I hear this is McIntyre and Heath's last appearance on any stage. Say, when those jungle boys take off the black, I'm going to wear that color! They just don't grow them like that any more."

I went right back to the blue bench and let Tom Chatterton go to the critic's bat yesterday, down at the Orpheum, just pinch-hitting for him when he weakened with indecision once or twice when he didn't want to pan and hurt anybody's feelings, Tom being an actor himself.

"The Man From Montana" is the McIntyre and Heath act, and the Ham Tree boys seem merely to have improved with age like good wine. Tom said he didn't see why they should retire any more than champagne should. Dan Quinlan, master minstrel man, was a sort of Kid End Boy, and put his stuff over just as of yore.

"McIntyre and Heath are artists," declared Tom, giving his palms so much exercise that dear Mr. Maier down front, king pin of bald-headed row, couldn't holler his accustomed "Bravo, sing another" loud enough to be heard.

A dainty muchacha is Mlle. Rhea, with Santoro Valentining and rendering first aid in the dances on the closing spot. Don't make a recessional of this act or you are going to lose a lot. Here's a sweet dancer, lovely and accomplished. Joseph Mach plays the violin nicely, and Alex Cross helps Santoro in a strong-man stunt.

Sophie Tucker gallantly comes across with some new songs her second week. Soph can sing the songs that need laundering and make them look lily white.

"Her smile is so disarming, and not having a hard line in her face, she makes us love those warblings, however cerulean," as Tom so aptly put it.

Percy Bronson seems more or less like a stepchild without Winnie Baldwin, but his current partner, Edith Evans, is charming and blond.

"Nice voice, but we do miss Winnie's dancing," said Critic Chatterton.

"Personally, I do love Percy's stage drunks. Tom says, they seem so carefully rehearsed!

"Don't know whether being 'sun-kissed' does syncopators any good," said Tom—"you can see by your program that Adler, Weil and Herman are sun-kissed—but their melody is fine."

"Yeah," I contributed, "only their comedy looks as if they might have had a sun-stroke."

"Warren and O'Brien seem a bit to the kerosene circuit in their comedy, but their acrobatics are good," judged Mr. Chatterton.

Up on the take-off spot are Claud Anderson and Leona Yvel, who skate very nicely indeed, even though in those neck swings we were a bit afraid Mr. Anderson might break something with his partner.

"Their work is clean-cut," said Tom.

"Yeah," said I, "but Miss Yvel's clothes aren't. "Her shoes look dusty and rusty, and there is a slit in her blouse!"

"Say, this being a critic is a mean job!" exclaimed Tom, tossing my pencil back to me at the end of the show, as he led the way out and suggested a cup of that which cheers.

A Queen of Romantic Art

Jane Cowl

Who is enjoying a renewed success in the production of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Playhouse.

CELEBRITIES GRACE OPENING

Community spirit reigned last evening in Beverly Hills when the new Beverly Hills motion-picture theater was opened with due pomp in the presence of countless screen celebrities, citizens of that small city. It was probably the first personal appearance of members of the motion-picture colony in the role of citizens, and with Fred Niblo presiding it was the occasion for great enthusiasm.

The theater itself is very beautiful of East Indian design, and presents an impressive exterior on the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Beverly Drive. The interior, except for decorations of elephants in a frieze over the stage, and the appearance of glittering elephants in niches about the walls, is rather severe of architecture, although not noticeably so.

Last evening was truly a gala occasion. And the presence of the picture people was of much more interest than the feature film itself. It was an evening of husbands and wives—not celebrities. Ernst Lubitsch, Fred Niblo, Lew Cody, Charles Ray, Norman Kerry, David Torrence, Patsy Ruth Miller, Enid Bennett, Ruth Roland, Ruth Clifford, Mabel Normand, Roscoe Arbuckle, and countless others appeared in the roles of home owners and rallied to do honor to a community enterprise.

Fred Niblo acted as master of ceremonies, introducing those present. To add to the community atmosphere a film was presented revealing stars of Beverly Hills at home.

The Fanchon and Marco impressionistic review called "The Spirit of the Lamp" was very beautiful and fully in keeping with the Oriental atmosphere of the theater.

"I want My Man," directed by Lambert Hillyer, was the feature picture, but the film is decidedly not one of the "bigger and better" films of the year. In fact it starts out quite badly and continues the same way.

The plot deals with a soldier blinded in France who marries his nurse as a business arrangement so that she can take care of him, and afterward falls in love with her. However, when he regains his sight she leaves him determined to win his love in America in his own home against the girl to whom he was engaged before the war.

It is an improbable story, and consequently it doesn't ring true on the screen. Milton Sills seems out of place and so does not appear to his usual advantage. Doris Kenyon plays the French wife.

Headliners Many at the Hillstreet

The only way to select the headliner down at the Hillstreet this week is to toss a coin. The entire bill is made up of just one headliner after another, with a mildly interesting photoplay thrown into the bargain.

Just why Bicknell chose to label himself "the model baker" was not fully divulged to the public. But of his sculpturing ability there's plenty to be said. A little dancing, capering miss, running thither and yon about the stage, served as his model and before the average person could wink their eyes twice there was another pretty face fashioned by his magical hands out of damp unromantic-looking clay.

Dick Lucke and his Arcadians were a riot of melody and were called back again and again. All sported out in white polo suits with shining black boots they made a refreshing change from the usual conventional dinner jackets. And not the least of their popularity with the audience was the dancing by little Jane Smith. Her old-fashioned waltz song was an instant hit. Six snappy hard shoe dancers also lent variety to the act.

Montagu Love, the erstwhile screen actor has turned vaudevillian, and after intriguing the interest of his listeners with a round of well-turned jokes, he dips into the dramatic with a nicely shaded recital of Kipling's "Boots" and an interpretation of Fagin's prison scene from "Oliver Twist." The latter was especially well done.

Also there are a couple of colored boys who tear out onto the stage and start cracking side-splitting jokes until the time they leave. The program bills them as Glenn and Jenkins in "Working For the Railroad," but anyone who sees them will immediately dub them worldbeaters in the blackface line.

Perhaps the most pretentious of the week's offerings is "Broken Toys." Take the kiddies, by all means, they'll love seeing all their toys coming to life and capering about the stage, and the rest of the bill is quite fit for them to see.

With a large cast of dancers and soldiers, even to a toy band, toyland at midnight is thrown open for unthinking adults to see. As a matter of fact, all the toys but two are quite whole, and the girls are especially pulchritudinous. The two features are amazing acrobats. Just imagine them, both one-legged men dressed as clowns, leaping about from twelve-foot platforms to the floor and landing on their hands. They're certainly deserving of all the hand claps the audience can give them.

Charles Olcott and Polly Ann in a series of songs and a monologue or two entertain quite adequately for ten or fifteen minutes. The feature photoplay is "Those Who Judge" in which Patsy Ruth Miller and Lou Tellegen are starred.

OLGA STEEB PLAYS ELIZABETHAN MUSIC

The glorious spring evenings do not diminish the zeal of the concert player—indeed, it can be said that Los Angeles has a truly all-year-round music season. The week-end was replete with offerings from our own musicians, and in most instances with a standard sufficiently high to be compared with our traveling virtuosi.

Of course, Olga Steeb's historical recital, the first of a series of three, was all of this and more. The pianist devoted herself to the music of Frescobaldi, Froberger, Rameau, William Byrd and Bach. Music of the Elizabethan period, this—antique music, even, with all the delightful charm of antiquity.

Outstanding, of course, were the Bach offerings—the Italian concerto, the "Chromatique Fantasie and Fugue," and C Sharp Major "Prelude and Fugue." The music of the older composers was just as welcome, however, for when things get to be very, very old, they in reality become new on programs.

Miss Steeb is indeed without equal in Southern California, so far as pretentious repertoire and technical ability are concerned. If at times she is emotionally lacking, nevertheless her studied polish, her brilliance, ability and thoroughness make her one of the most valuable musical assets in the city.

GOLDWASSER PUPILS IN VIOLIN RECITAL

High praise for the pupils of Leon Goldwasser, who were heard in a violin recital of excellent caliber. Many things might be said in favor of their splendid work, outstanding of which one may mention clear and good intonation, and the nice balance between sentiment and brilliance.

The program opened with the Bach double concerto in D minor, which was given a virile rendition by Laura Griffing and Ella Hubert. Miss Griffing also closed the evening with Wieniawski's Second Concerto, and Miss Hubert was heard in the lyric Mendelssohn Concerto. Periot's Air Varies No. 1 was played by Marian Gluskoter, and the "Walter Prize Song" by Dorothy Fiske. The girls played with well-defined rhythm.

Especially to be mentioned, also, was F. Di Tullio, who played the De Beriot Seventh Concerto; his tone, while not very powerful, possesses a luster and zest that would do credit to a more mature person. The Vieuxtemps "Fantasia Appassionata," Op. 35, was rendered by David Berman, who likewise displayed splendid talent.

PLAYHOUSE IS TRIUMPH

Pasadena Has Theater of Unusual Beauty

Community Players Open Their New Home

New Play is Presented as First Attraction

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The value of a dream and vision will need no further proof to those who take upon themselves the obligation and the pleasure of a visit to Pasadena any evening of this week. For something both novel and amazingly beautiful is awaiting them in the new Community Playhouse which has just opened there. It is the fulfillment of an ideal that has long been cherished by a group of people devoted to the drama in the Crown City, and is representative of a devotion that has been unwavering to the cause of dramatic expression and of theater art.

Early California really came to life in the vicinity of the new and glowing white building with its red-tiled roof on El Molino avenue, just off Colorado street, with the opening performance last night. The music of guitars filled the air in the vicinity of the welcoming patio, played by an orchestra in Spanish costumes, the while the glamour of a premiere was everywhere apparent in the fashion and the quality of the arriving audience. It was indeed the romantic past meeting with the present.

Pasadena has had a Community Playhouse, of course, for all of eight years, but the home of the enterprise has heretofore been only temporary. A small theater adapted to their purpose, located on Fair Oaks avenue, has been used for the production of many unusual and interesting plays, of which Gilmor Brown has been the director. Many of these performances have been the goal of those who sought the different in entertainment—what they could have the chance to see nowhere else.

REPRESENTS STRUGGLE

The new playhouse has been planned virtually from the beginning, but for long it looked to be an impossibility. The struggle to bring the plan into being has only been accomplished by overcoming many difficult obstacles, however, because in character the project does not partake of the commercial. It is really indicative of the growth and power of the community idea as applied to the theater, and in this respect the present playhouse is one of the most remarkable achievements that has been carried out anywhere in the country.

Something about the atmosphere of the theater captivates one almost immediately. The motif of the exterior architecture echoes the mission days of the West and presents therefore to the Californian and the tourist alike an aspect familiar. The tiles of the roof particularly capture the eye, because they have something about them of the primitive crudity.

This mood in construction contrasts with the interior, which has the charm and refinements of the Spanish Renaissance. The ceiling presents an alluring mosaic design. Gold in the decorations blends into the white, and there is a soft warmth to the entire artistic scheme of the interior which charms at once.

In many ways, indeed, this theater seems a truly effective construction, for, though the seating capacity is less than a thousand, one feels that there is breadth and width to the auditorium, and at the same time a very commendable degree of intimacy.

NEW COMEDY

The play presented was a new comedy, "The Amethyst," by Victor Mapes, and, though it is of the light and conventional sort, built on misunderstandings between a husband who is a playwright and a wife who desires a career as a social butterfly, it suffices as an opening entertainment. Not all the dialogue is as bright as it should be, and one or two of the acts seem talky, but there is a degree of merit to the consistent way in which the plot is presented, slender as it may be.

The playing was at too slow a tempo at the opening, and improvement in this respect may help to brighten the impression of the piece itself. An interesting set is the final one, which shows the interior of the studio in Hollywood.

Leading parts were taken by Samuel S. Hinds, Margaret R. Clarke, Douglass Montgomery, Dolly Doane, Frederick N. Cole, Robert Loofbourrow, John Duncan, among others, and Mr. Hinds achieved a very popular note in his acting of the role of the playwright.

ECHOES OF LOCAL MUSIC ACTIVITIES

The Bertha Vaughn Studios have activity of much note the past few weeks. Mary Teitsworth, soprano, is to sing for the Hollywood Opera Reading Club, in June, and also is an active member of hte Lyric Club Octet. Ivan Edwards, tenor, is soloist at the First Presbyterian Church, this city, and is a favorite soloist of the Hollywood Opera Reading Club, having sung for them four times this season. Ruth May Shaffner, soprano, one of the Southland's most popular singers; Gardiner Hart, baritone, has recently signed up with one of the musical comedy producing companies of the East. The coming event of this studio is the third of the series of the morning musicales, which will be held June 3.

To live in Santa Monica, to be the soloist of one of Los Angeles' leading churches, and to conduct a studio for vocal training in San Diego, together with many demands for services in recital and radio programs, consume only a portion of the time Vernice Brand finds to devote to music.

Miss Brand has decided to open a vocal studio for the summer in Santa Monica. She is also arranging a concert tour for the Southwest for the coming season.

Miss Frances Mullen and Miss Mary Elizabeth Rabe were first-prize winners in the district Eisteddfod at Redlands last week. Miss Mullen in the open piano contest and Miss Rabe in the under 16 contest. Both are students of Miss Olga Steeb of Los Angeles.

There will be a recital by the advanced students of the Olga Steeb Piano School on Thursday evening, the 21st inst., at 8:15 o'clock, in the auditorium of the school on Hobart Boulevard and Sixth street.

The Kiddie Starlet Review from the Ethel Abbott Dance Studio furnished the program at a meeting of the Ohio State Society held in the Ebell clubhouse on the evening the 12th inst.

Mme. Tilda Rohr, one of the best liked of radio soloists in Los Angeles, and who has been heard from many broadcasting stations here, will appear as the leader of a concert program before the Ebell Club Monday evening, June 1. The yodelling numbers which have been so popular over the ether, will be heard. Mme. Rohr, Swiss by birth, but by naturalization an American, is regarded as a foremost exponent of that lyrical form of musical expression.

In her program she will be assisted by Bobbie Aller, 'cellist, and Esther Fricke Green, pianist.

Miss Besse Long, associate teacher and one of the most charming and talented members of the professional department of the Emerson School of Self-Expression, was presented in the operatic version of "Hansel and Gretel" in the studios of the school Monday evening. Deserving special mention in her group of cleverly portrayed characters, were the characters of Hansel and Gretel and the old witch. To Hansel and Gretel she gave the natural children's characteristics, and to the old witch a cunning that delighted old and young.

The Dominant Club of Los Angeles held their regular meeting on Saturday, the 9th inst., at the Ebell clubhouse, the occasion being a spring luncheon. Decorations consisted of a profusion of spring flowers, and were the happy inspiration of Miss Verna Blythe in charge of the social life of the club. Honored guests included Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, Mrs. Selby Oppenheimer, Miss Antoinette Sabel, Mr. and Mrs. William Bambemberg, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey O'Hara.

There will be a recital of more than ordinary interest by the elementary theory department of the Olga Steeb Piano School, in charge of Miss Thirza Merriam, Saturday afternoon, the 23rd inst., at 3 o'clock.

Portia Newport, noted ballad singer of vaudeville and musical comedy, former student of Prof. Marquis Ellis, is featured with Max Bradfield's orchestra this week at Loew's State Theater.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. H. Cardell, president, Mrs. Dora Topping Brown lectured before the ladies of the Wilshire Congregational Church the 5th inst. Maude Darling Weaver, contralto, and Edward N. Novis, baritone, furnished the musical program.

AN OPPORTUNITY THAT HAS PROVED ITSELF
TO BE A BIG WINNER

Ten months ago I was given the opportunity to make a real ground-floor investment in a company to be organized to manufacture and distribute an article of necessity direct from factory to consumer. The proposition looked so good that I took an option on the entire offering. Five months later the company started, and today this is the largest winner ever offered anyone. My option will soon expire and as I cannot handle all, I am offering the balance I have under option to the man or woman who has $1000 or more they wish to invest. The returns are paid every month and with initial production you will receive $4 per day and up on each $1000 invested. There never was such an opportunity ever offered and the only reason that it is open now is due to my own foresight ten months ago. Here is your opportunity to get a large permanent income paid each and every month without any services required. If you have the ready cash and want personal interview, give address and phone number. Address B, box 553, TIMES BRANCH.

MUTINEERS ARE LANDED IN IRONS

French Tanker Surrenders Three Sailors

Captain Dominates Crew in Uprising at Sea

Gasoline Loaded on Ship for Aviators in Morocco

With three of his crew in irons and others threatening rebellion, Capt. Robert Andrade brought his ship, the French tanker Merope, in from Cette, on the southern coast of France, yesterday morning.

It was the first trip of the tanker to this port and the captain declared he was lucky to arrive at all, as at least one man openly threatened to blow up the tanker en route to this port.

Georges Deliance, said to be the leader of the attempted mutiny, was delivered over to immigration authorities on arrival here, and Capt. Andrade was in communication with the French Consul at San Francisco and the consular agent in Los Angeles as to plans for deporting the rest. The others in irons were Ambrose Mori and Le Guen Guilliame, while H. Neilsen, a lone Norwegian member of the crew, also was under investigation.

Capt. Andrade said the trouble all started over the men's refusal to work, being coached by the leader that if they professed sickness they would escape duty. It also is understood the men sought to hamper the ship's return to Southern France, as much of the gasoline was said to be for the French flying forces operating against the Riffs in French Morocco.

The men were examined aboard ship by Maj. H. A. Spencer, surgeon in charge of the harbor offices of the United States Public Health Service offices, and pronounced physically fit for duty.

The captain is said to have dominated the situation at all times, and was able to reach port on schedule, where he is loading 85,000 barrels of gasoline at the Shell plant and will sail for Cette tomorrow.

The skipper claims to be a grandnephew of Bret Harte, the American short-story writer, that is, "the mother of my grandfather was the sister of the wife of Bret Harte," he explained.

He also is a cousin of the president of the company which owns his ship, the Compagnie Auxiliaire de Navigation, one of the largest lines in France.

His chief regret is that his ship will sail without permitting a visit to the Bret Harte country of which he has read over and over in the famous American's stories.

EISTEDDFOD IS ENTERED BY KIWANIS

Club Will Hold Tryout at Biltmore Tomorrow Noon

The Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles is the latest organization to participate in the Eisteddfod. Tomorrow noon at the Biltmore the club will lift up their voices in song under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer. Three judges will be present to mark the singing on points. If the club members keep their average above 80 per cent and no other contest is offered them in Los Angeles, they will be eligible to compete in the final contest of service clubs from six other districts in Southern California the week of June 6 to June 14.

The Metropolitan District Contest in Los Angeles, the latter part of this week, will feature a glee club contest for eight college men's and women's glee clubs Friday evening, at Bovard Auditorium, University of Southern California, and a choral contest for church choirs, mixed choruses and men's and women's choral clubs will take place at the same place on Saturday evening.

Among the participants in the program Saturday evening are the choral society of the Hollywood Woman's Club and the Southern California Edison Chorus, both under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer; the Welsh Male Chorus, T. J. Jenkins, director; the choir of the Welsh Presbyterian Church, H. C. Jones, director; the choir of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Long Beach, William Conrad Mills, director; and the choir of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, Alexander Stewart, director.

Thursday evening, at the part-time high school, Sixteenth and Olive streets, there will be a contest for baritone and tenor solo voices.

Saturday at Chickering Hall, 808 S. Broadway, contests for violin and soprano and contralto solo voices will be held, while at the Touchstone Theater, University of California, Saturday morning and afternoon, piano contests for the various grades will be conducted.

Drama contests for one-act plays are scheduled for the Touchstone Theater Saturday evening.

Electrical Men Listen to Talk by Cartwright

Senator George Cartwright spoke at the luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Electric Club at the Biltmore yesterday on "The Secrets of Success Under Our American System."

The address was described by the speaker as "the opening fun in a national movement to educate men to succeed in America." He added that only 15 per cent of Americans solve the "ham-and-egg" problem.

The Senator protested against the tendency to "pass laws to pull men down in the vain attempt to lift other men up," stating that "the tall man helps the short man." He also made a strong plea against the "false doctrine of limiting production," stating that "business is the exchange of products; hence, the more products the more business and more jobs."

Musical entertainment was furnished by the Electrical Products Corporation, under the direction of Paul D. Howse, Jr.

JULIAN JOB SUSPECTS HELD

Wagner, Sandberg, Asserted Gunmen, Must Stand Trial in $30,000 Robbery of Oil Company Men

Charles Wagner and Sam Sandberg, asserted Chicago gunmen charged with the $30,000 robbery of two Julian Petroleum Company employees, must face trial in Superior Court.

Justice Ballard at the conclusion last night of the preliminary hearing said he believed evidence sufficient to warrant the men being held for trial had been presented to the court—"some of it strong although some possibly circumstantial," the court said.

The two were bound over with bail fixed at $20,000 property or $10,000 cash for each. Defense attorneys argued for a reduction of bail below the $20,000 proposed by police to the District Attorney's office but this was opposed by the State.

Chief witnesses yesterday were Deputy Sheriffs Modie and Dewar. They told of shadowing the two suspects and finally arresting them. The major part of the afternoon, however, was taken up in argument between Dep. Dist.-Atty Ey and Defense Attorney Chandos Bush as to the admissability of a statement said to have been made to Deputy Dewar by one of the prisoners.

After several hours of legal pyrotechnics, it was finally ruled that the statement could be admitted into the evidence. Thereupon Mr. Ey turned to the deputy and asked the latter to repeat the statement.

"There was no statement. I have nothing to say," was Modie's smiling rejoinder.

The pair of asserted gunmen are said to have overtaken Ben Wetmore and O. M. Smith, Julian employees, while the latter were on the way to a downtown bank and to have robbed them of a total of $30,443 in cash, checks and bonds February 24, last. Their arrest followed the Federal investigation into the asserted criminal operations of Rush Meadows, attorney, and the band of dope runners and bank robbers he is said to have directed.

SPENCER'S PLACE NOT PERSHING'S

General is Not Citizen of Missouri, Governor Points Out

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 18.—A special dispatch to the Kansas City Star tonight from Jefferson City, quotes Gov. Sam M. A. Baker as definitely announcing he is not considering Gen. John J. Pershing for the vacancy caused by the death of Selden P. Spencer, junior United States Senator from Missouri.

"Gen. Pershing never has been considered by me. He is not even a citizen of Missouri; he is a citizen of Nebraska," the dispatch quotes Gov. Baker as saying.

Mr. Baker reiterated that he had already decided upon an appointee, but would not announce the selection until after the Spencer funeral at St. Louis Wednesday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 18. — Accompanied by a Congressional committee of honorary pall bearers and members of the family, the body of Senator Selden P. Spencer of Missouri, who died here Saturday night, was placed on a train tonight for St. Louis, where funeral services will be held Wednesday.

The public, it was announced by the family today, will be given an opportunity to pass before the body in the Second Presbyterian Church for a short time Wednesday prior to the funeral services there which will be private.

A revised list of the Senate committee membership as announced tonight by Sergeant-at-Arms Barry, includes Senators Reed of Missouri, Cameron of Arizona, Dupont of Delaware, Ernst of Kentucky, King of Utah and Watson of Indiana.

The House members designated to attend the funeral include the entire Missouri delegation and Representative Sasowski of Detroit, Mich. Sergeant-at-Arms Rogers also will attend.

Engineers Will Hold Next Meet at San Francisco

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MILWAUKEE, May 18. — The 1926 spring meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be held in San Francisco, it was decided at a business meeting of that organization here this afternoon. The engineers began a four-day session today, during which time they hope to consider the more important phases of their work, and its development.

The next great step in the development of engineering is to make it of the greatest possible service to the public in the opinion of A. A. Potter, head of the school of engineering at Purdue University, and president of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

"We have made a good job of training engineers technically, we have made great progress in discovering and utilizing the forces of nature, and in perfecting mechanical equipment, and it seems to me the next step is to discover how to use these powers for the benefit of society," he said.

St. Paul Road Agent Sees Trade Posibilities in East With Puget Sound Outlet

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, May 18.—Establishment of new direct shipping routes from Puget Sound to Manila and Vladivostok will be recommended by R. F. Weeks, direct freight and passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, he announced here today. Weeks, who has just completed a four months' investigation of trade possibilities in the Far East, left tonight to confer with officials and receivers of the railroad.

There is a market for $1,000,000 worth of farm implements in the territory tributary to the Chinese Eastern Railroad in Manchuria, and vast and growing trade possibilities in beans, oil, furs, hides and skins, honey and wheat, he said.

The Philippines would ship vast quantities of pineapples, rubber and sugar through Puget Sound ports if a direct line were available, he declared.

Soviet authorities are slowly bringing order out of chaos in their territory and are virtually in control of the Chinese Eastern Railroad, said Weeks, who declared that "white" Russians of the Czarist faction are beginning to move back into soviet territory adjacent to Vladivostok.

War Secretary Suffers Attack of New Ailment

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary Weeks, who has been convalescing at his home here from an attack of thrombosis since early in April, has suffered an acute attack of gall bladder colic.

Mr. Weeks's condition was described today as very good, but the complication of gall bladder trouble, which is a recurrence of an old complaint, has somewhat retarded his progress and disturbed the rest he had been enjoying.

Attending physicians are hopeful that the new complication will yield to treatment, as have similar attacks in the past. If he is threatened with prolonged suffering on account of the colic, however, it is possible that an operation to afford him relief will be given serious consideration.
